DECLARES JURY RIGHT ON AUTO LIGHT DIMMING

T. P. Regan, Head of Auto
Association, Says Law
Should be Changed

ASSOCIATION IS TO CONSIDER THIS

Makes Suggestions in Keeping of Lenses and Wind-shields Clean.

Expressing hearty agreement with the recommendation of the jury in the Hayter inquest on Monday evening that automobile drivers be not required to dim their lights and that law in this respect should be amended, T. P. Regan, K. C., president of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, in an interview with The Times-Star this morning said the matter would be considered at the next meeting of the executive of the association.

NEED SOMETHING BETTER.
"Our association," Mr. Regan said this morning, "was largely instrumental in having this regulation incorporated into the Motor Vehicles Act in 1917 for we believed at the time that it was a good thing and so did most of the motorists. But experience has taught us that it is rather a dangerous practice and we certainly intend to consider this matter carefully at our next meeting. So far as I have been able to learn in talking this matter over with some of our local members, I find an almost unanimous feeling that dimming should be abolished and some more effective and less dangerous method established."

J. A. Tilton, chairman of the publicity committee of the N. B. A., was present at the interview and heartily agreed with the opinions expressed by Mr. Regan.

WHAT LAW SAYS.
The section dealing with dimming as passed in 1917 and became law on January 1, 1918, is as follows:

"Whenever a person operating a motor vehicle which is equipped with a device or means for dimming the headlights of said motor vehicle, shall meet on a public highway any other person riding or driving a horse or horses or other draft animal or any automobile or other vehicle, the person operating said motor vehicle shall seasonably make use of such dimmer or means to dim the said lights on said motor vehicle so that the beams of said headlights may not dazzle or otherwise interfere with said other person or persons approaching and said person so operating said motor vehicle shall keep said lights dimmed until said motor vehicle shall be within sight of said person so approaching."

KEEP LENSES CLEAN.
"Another method of combatting headlight glare," Mr. Regan said, "is to keep the headlight lenses clean. Much glare is the direct result of the diffusing effect of hundreds of particles of dust collecting on the lens and acting as miniature lenses. Proper headlight adjustments and the use of legal lenses is not the whole story in minimizing headlight glare. Few car owners appreciate the fact that the headlight lenses must be kept in condition. Dust on the hood of the average car is an illustration of what gathers on the lenses. Clean headlights would materially help in the work of safeguarding our highways at night."

CLEAR WINDSHIELD.
"Much of the glare in night driving also can be traced to failure to clean the windshield clean. The existence of what the N. B. A. calls 'windshield glare' is evidence of the existence of unnecessary lens glare as dust is the factor to be considered in either case. Many drivers have acted on the advice of our association and have made it a practice to clean the windshield before night driving but safety is not complete without the co-operation of fellow motorists. So long as headlight lenses are coated with dust, there will be glare no matter how effectively legal lenses and lamps are adjusted."

"The first rule in night driving," Mr. Regan added, "is for every car owner first to clean off windshield and lenses. Drivers who do not do this are just as much public nuisances as drivers who operate with brakes out of adjustment."
