ST. JOHN MIGHT WELL FOLLOW THIS EXAMPLE

Newfoundland Namesake is Going Through Spring Cleaning and the People Are Doing It

The citizens of St. John, N.B. could very well follow the example set by their latest "spring cleaning" movement. The movement was started by the Anti-Tuberculosis Association of St. John's about May 1, according to news which reaches the Times, and now every citizen is interested, and is doing something to help the carrying out of the movement. The citizens have all agreed to enter on a civic cleaning day in preparation for the approaching coronation festival of King George. The residents of each ward look after the cleaning up of their own district. Horses and carts, labor, stables, etc., are supplied by them and the streets and yards are cleaned out. The scheme is an excellent one and is being well carried out. The work of cleaning the town is not left on the shoulders of a few officials but the whole public feel responsible. In this way also, the cleaning is done without using the city's funds and thereby increasing the taxes.

They received numerous valuable remembrances from their friends. Among the guests at the wedding was Mrs. Robert A. Bruce, mother of the groom.

THOS. FURLONG DEAD; WAS 57 YEARS CITIZEN

Successful in Business, of Great Faith in City, Art and Music Patron and Grand Nephew of Irish Poet

Thomas Furlong, one of St. John's best known and most prominent citizens, passed away last night after an illness of about two years. Although not active in the life of the city in late years, Mr. Furlong was one of the leading men of St. John for half a century and his death removes one who was most energetic in its upbuilding and advancement.

Mr. Furlong was born in Dublin, Ireland, and went from there to Philadelphia where he was in business for a time. He came to St. John in 1854 and became connected with the business conducted by Mr. Hunter at Chubb's Corner, and one year after Mr. Hunter's death he entered in business for himself. His place in Princess street—the Chubb Building—was extended in 1862 when he bought the corner on Water street, now occupied and owned by the H. Brennan estate.

For some time Mr. Furlong was purveyor and banker to Her Majesty's troops in St. John and the checks of many officers were cashed in his office. Mr. Furlong became a very successful business man and accumulated wealth rapidly.

He had learned the grocery and spirit business in Dublin so that when he came to St. John his knowledge gave him opportunity at once. For a time he and Mr. Gahan were in business together as Furlong & Gahan at Sands' Arcade, Prince William street. Besides St. John, he also conducted business in Boston.

Mr. Furlong was a great believer in a great St. John and when the opportunity offered, emphasized his belief by putting his money in building. His own splendid residence in Cobling street with the several lots added to it after his original purchase, and the many improvements, made it an ideal home. The building at the corner of Water street he made from an architect's standpoint one of the most attractive in the city. The building at the corner of Charlotte and North Market streets, on which, previous to his purchase of the site, other wooden buildings stood, much to make Charlotte street what it is today.

After the big fire of '77, Mr. Furlong could have retired on a competence, but, not wanting to go on the retired list, he went to work with all his old energy and was a prominent factor in the business life of the city until recent years. He was a Justice of the peace and a member of the Irish poet, he had all the love of poetry and literature of his country. A musician with fine musical taste, he was for a long time a member of the cathedral choir and will be well remembered in that connection by older people of the city. He was the means of bringing the noted Coleman family to the cathedral. They well remembered by lovers of music of the day.

Mr. Furlong was an artist with the true feeling for color and his house contained some of the best things which came within reach of a man of moderate income, and was perhaps the best in the lower provinces. Mr. Furlong, if he made money quickly, was a generous giver and many can testify to his good acts. An accident about Water street, a family in distress, a teamster losing his horse or any how befriending men of small income, he was always to the front, leading or assisting to relieve the afflicted ones. His employees looked up to him and respected him and when old age, sickness or trouble came, Mr. Furlong was their genius saviour. They were never asked to remember that the Saturday night envelope containing the old wages, was not earned, but was only a trifle from their employer for what they had done in the past.

Mr. Furlong is survived by five talented children, one son, Gerald, of Montreal and four daughters, Miss Elizabeth, Mrs. Edward Schmitt and Mrs. Harold Coleman of Boston and Miss Helen. John Fennell of Boston is a nephew. The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon.

P. R. A. AND COUNTY RIFLE ASSOCIATIONS HOLD SESSIONS HERE

Five Men of The New Brunswick Team for Inter-Maritime Match Chosen—Major Perley President of County Association

The annual meeting of the St. John Rifle Association was held in the 62nd officers' headquarters in Charlotte street on Wednesday night last. Major H. Perley presided and there was a good attendance of members. It was decided to have the annual match for the Corporation Cup on Saturday July 29. The election of officers for the ensuing year took place and resulted as follows: President, Major H. Perley; vice-president, N. J. Morrison; secretary, Major W. C. Magee. A council was also elected for the year, composed of Sgt. J. Sullivan, Lt. L. O. Bentley, Major J. S. West, Captain C. Dunfield, N. J. Morrison, A. G. Staples, Corporal Bentley and E. R. Murray.

The semi-annual meeting of the Provincial Rifle Association was held in the 62nd Officers' Headquarters on Thursday night last. The president Major H. Perley presided. It was decided that the meet at Sussex this year would begin on August 15 and last for four days. This meet has always been run very successfully by the association and this year they intend to run it on an even larger scale than before. Five of the rifle team to represent New Brunswick at the inter maritime meet in Charlottetown, beginning June 8, were selected as follows: Sgt. I. P. Archibald, Captain W. E. Forbes, Lt. S. W. Smith, Lieut. W. A. Crandall and Lt. D. R. Channer. These five were the highest scorers at Sussex meet last year. Three more men are to be selected and the high scorers at the matches here on May 24, 27 and June 3 will be chosen. Sgt. Archibald held the St. John man on the team so far. The dates for the other matches of the association will be decided upon at a later meeting.

A STRIKING LESSON. The story, as shown at the Nickel yesterday and today, is a speaking illustration of the danger to the public health that lies in public indifference to the breeding and free movement of the house-fly.
