

the case, we believe that the vocal utterance of thanksgiving and prayer will more often find a place early in our meetings. Let all yield to the gentle promptings of the Holy Spirit, as He constrains them, it may be very simply, to acknowledge, in the midst of their brethren, the mercy and faithfulness of the Lord, and to seek His renewed blessing. Such offerings of prayer and praise often open the way for others to proclaim the glad tidings of salvation, and the wisdom and love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord. Those who may be yet bearing the burden of sin, and more or less consciously seeking the way of salvation, will thus be made aware that their fellow-worshippers long for their deliverance, and would gladly help them to find the Saviour whom they need. So will the work of the Lord prosper amongst us, hungering souls will be fed, and Christ will be exalted, who is "Head over all things to the Church, which is His body, the fulness of Him that filleth all in all."
