The Training School Examination.

It would well repay any one who takes ar nterest in the education of youth (and who hould not?) to visit Fredericton at the semi annual examinations for admittance to the Training School. Upwards of one hundred pupils from High and Advanced Schools is various parts of the Province had made appli-cation for admission, and still the excellent and the Stone Barracks, at the instance Dr. RAND, the indefatigable, painstaking, and thoroughly well qualified Chief Superintendant of Educa. tion,—yet the accommodation is much too limited, and it is to be hoped that the Doctor's report to the Government will receive that nsideration to which it is eminently entitled. and that his recommedations will be acted on. The Doctor had many difficulties to conter with while introducing the Free School system but he has admirably surmounted them, and the greatest blessings conferred on any country
