

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

News Summary.

DOMINION.

The C. P. R. company advertise for 30,000 tons of coal to be delivered at Carleton and St. Andrews.

John O'Neil, bar tender at the Lamy Hotel, Amherst, was lately fined $50 and costs for violation of the Scott Act.

The Press says a prominent citizen of Amherst, wanting to see a butter factory started, has offered to plank down $300.

It is expected that the Nova Scotia government will establish a butter factory in connection with the experimental farm at Nappan.

The presence of dandruff indicates a diseased scalp, and if not cured, blanching of the hair and baldness will result. Hall's Hair Renewer will cure it.

The Seaside says a company has been formed to run a steamboat line between P. E. Island and Pugwash to connect with the short line railway.

It is reported in Montreal that a syndicate of wealthy shipping agents are endeavoring to form a company to build a fast line of steamers for the St. Lawrence.

The cheese and butter sent from Canada is creating considerable stir at the Jamaica exhibition, where they have each taken first, second, third and fourth prizes.

The Ontario Legislature is legalizing marriages by officials of the Quaker body and Salvation Army—and placing such officials in the position of ordained clergymen.

I would not take $100 for my bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not get another, is the verdict of one sufferer who was speedily cured of cold in head. Such strong testimony ought to convince you that it is worth trying.

Dr. Bayard of this city has received from Germany, for use in the General Public Hospital, a bottle containing about 75 drops of Dr. Koch's lymph or tuberculin. This is said to be sufficient to inoculate thousands of patients.

On the afternoon of the 18th inst. Fulton's dynamite factory near Ottawa took fire. The explosion was terrific. The factory and sheds were blown to atoms, and the ground around them was torn up to the extent of an acre. Fortunately no one was seriously injured.

The hot water heater in the basement of the Bank of Nova Scotia building, Amherst, exploded on the 17th inst. Manager McKean and another person had been in the basement a few minutes before. Had they remained a little longer their lives would have been endangered.

A strange coincidence is that recorded by the Maritime States. Three brothers named Smith, sons of the late Robert Smith, of Fort Lawrence, one of them living in Fort Lawrence, another in Natick, Mass., and a third in the North West territory, all died within the same week.

The death of Mr. Andro Cushing took place at his home, Langster Heights, near this city, on the 18th inst. Mr. Cushing was well known as a mill owner and lumber merchant and highly respected as a citizen. His death, which occurred quite unexpectedly, will be widely regretted.

The Charlottetown Examiner reports a hay famine in P. E. Island which, it is feared, will result in the starvation of many cattle, unless prompt measures are adopted to secure a supply of fodder from other provinces. It is suggested that the P. E. Island government might do well to obtain a supply and sell it on reasonable terms to farmers throughout the Island.

From Springfield it is reported that many who left at the time of the explosion, after a brief trip to the States have returned and settled down. Several Pennsylvania miners arrived this week. All found work. The west side of No. 1 slope is being repaired and cleaned up, and it is expected that it will be in operation shortly. Meanwhile the east side is working. The other slopes are working. The output is now about 1,500 tons daily. A station was created by the arrest of George Weeks, a leader charged with carrying a pipe and matches into a dangerous part of No. 1 slope, in direct violation of orders. He was tried before Stipendiary Bennett, fined $5 and has been summarily dismissed from the company's employ. Special evangelistic services are being jointly held by the Baptists, Methodists and Presbyterians. A special mission is being held in the Episcopal church. The pastor, Rev. W. C. Wilson, is to be assisted by Rev. Mr. Ancient and Rev. Dyon Hague of Halifax.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

In the Oxford Cambridge boat race on Saturday last, Oxford won by a quarter length.

Prince Jerome Napoleon, son of Jerome, youngest brother of the great Napoleon, died at Rome on the 16th inst.

The British steamship Utopia bound to New York from Italian ports with 700 Italian emigrants aboard collided today with the British ironclad Rodney, anchored in Gibraltar Bay, and sank soon afterward off Ragged staff. A southwest gale was blowing at the time of the collision and many women and children were drowned. A large number clinging to the rigging were saved by boats from the channel squadron. Intense excitement prevails on shore. Later accounts say 400 were drowned.

Many of our people have been cured here this winter of severe colds and coughs by the use of Fowler's Lungwort. It is selling fast—so writes the manager of a grange store in New Brunswick.

Very Hard Indeed.

There are so many things that appear unnecessary, and which for the life of us we can see neither purpose nor end. It may be corns are just one of those thorns in the flesh the why and the wherefore of which we cannot see. Nevertheless they are of the kind that are easily removed. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor makes short work of them. Try it and see how nicely it coaxes them out. Use none other than Putnam's Corn Extractor. Sold by druggists.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Fruit Growers' Association of Nova Scotia, will take place at Witter's Hall, Wolfville, on the 26th and 27th inst., beginning at 2 o'clock on Thursday, continuing at 7.30 p. m. The question of the cause of and remedy for the "Black Spot" on the apple will be made a special subject for discussion, as well as other important matters.

Cold in head, catarrh, consumption, death are the four stages that rapidly follow each other. If you would avoid the latter do not neglect the former, but use Nasal Balm at the first symptoms.

Marriages.

HOLMES-SWIFT.—At Central Pennfield, March 12, by Rev. James Trimble, George Holmes, to Maria Swift, both of Eastport, Maine.

SPENCER-MCKENZIE.—At Little Glace Bay, March 14, by Rev. William Wetmore, A. W. Spencer, to Maggie McKenzie, both of Little Glace Bay, Cape Breton.

STAPLES-MORRELL.—On March 16, at Hampton, the home of the bride, by the Rev. T. A. Blackadar, A. B., Edwin Staples, of St. Mary's, York Co., N. B., to Emily Henneaux Morrell.

Deaths.

HARRIS.—At Halifax, N. S., Feb. 11, Mrs. C. Harris, aged 29, of consumption.

WILCKE.—At Lockeport, March 6, John Frederick, only son of John Wilcke, aged 2 years.

CRAWFORD.—At Gasperaux, March 5, Emma E., wife of John Crawford, and daughter of James Martin, Esq., aged 27 years.

HAVILAND.—At Chatham, March 11, Mrs. Jane Haviland, daughter of Burke Mitchell, N. B., aged 43 years. Mrs. Haviland, a devoted wife and mother, was baptized by Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, and joined the Docktown Baptist church, of which she remained a consistent member till her removal to Chatham where she died. She lived a Christian life and died in peace and resignation, in the will of God, charging those about her and sending messages to her friends to prepare to meet her in heaven.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 6, Anna Jackson, aged 29 years. She was a member of the 2nd Hammonds Plains church, and gave good evidence during her last sickness of about six months, that she was in fellowship with Jesus and ready to go home. Sermon by Rev. E. N. Archibald from Rev. 14: 13.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 11, Maria, beloved wife of John Havilock, in her 80th year. Baptized by Rev. R. R. Philip many years ago, she had maintained a Christian walk to the glory of her Saviour. During her last year the graces of the Spirit shone conspicuously through much pain and protracted weakness. Her cheerful steady faith proved that she was supplied daily from the hidden manna and from the water of the smitten rock. She has gone into His presence which makes fullness of joy eternal.

HAVILAND.—At Chatham, March 11, Mrs. Jane Haviland, daughter of Burke Mitchell, N. B., aged 43 years. Mrs. Haviland, a devoted wife and mother, was baptized by Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, and joined the Docktown Baptist church, of which she remained a consistent member till her removal to Chatham where she died. She lived a Christian life and died in peace and resignation, in the will of God, charging those about her and sending messages to her friends to prepare to meet her in heaven.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 6, Anna Jackson, aged 29 years. She was a member of the 2nd Hammonds Plains church, and gave good evidence during her last sickness of about six months, that she was in fellowship with Jesus and ready to go home. Sermon by Rev. E. N. Archibald from Rev. 14: 13.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 11, Maria, beloved wife of John Havilock, in her 80th year. Baptized by Rev. R. R. Philip many years ago, she had maintained a Christian walk to the glory of her Saviour. During her last year the graces of the Spirit shone conspicuously through much pain and protracted weakness. Her cheerful steady faith proved that she was supplied daily from the hidden manna and from the water of the smitten rock. She has gone into His presence which makes fullness of joy eternal.

HAVILAND.—At Chatham, March 11, Mrs. Jane Haviland, daughter of Burke Mitchell, N. B., aged 43 years. Mrs. Haviland, a devoted wife and mother, was baptized by Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, and joined the Docktown Baptist church, of which she remained a consistent member till her removal to Chatham where she died. She lived a Christian life and died in peace and resignation, in the will of God, charging those about her and sending messages to her friends to prepare to meet her in heaven.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 6, Anna Jackson, aged 29 years. She was a member of the 2nd Hammonds Plains church, and gave good evidence during her last sickness of about six months, that she was in fellowship with Jesus and ready to go home. Sermon by Rev. E. N. Archibald from Rev. 14: 13.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 11, Maria, beloved wife of John Havilock, in her 80th year. Baptized by Rev. R. R. Philip many years ago, she had maintained a Christian walk to the glory of her Saviour. During her last year the graces of the Spirit shone conspicuously through much pain and protracted weakness. Her cheerful steady faith proved that she was supplied daily from the hidden manna and from the water of the smitten rock. She has gone into His presence which makes fullness of joy eternal.

HAVILAND.—At Chatham, March 11, Mrs. Jane Haviland, daughter of Burke Mitchell, N. B., aged 43 years. Mrs. Haviland, a devoted wife and mother, was baptized by Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, and joined the Docktown Baptist church, of which she remained a consistent member till her removal to Chatham where she died. She lived a Christian life and died in peace and resignation, in the will of God, charging those about her and sending messages to her friends to prepare to meet her in heaven.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 6, Anna Jackson, aged 29 years. She was a member of the 2nd Hammonds Plains church, and gave good evidence during her last sickness of about six months, that she was in fellowship with Jesus and ready to go home. Sermon by Rev. E. N. Archibald from Rev. 14: 13.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 11, Maria, beloved wife of John Havilock, in her 80th year. Baptized by Rev. R. R. Philip many years ago, she had maintained a Christian walk to the glory of her Saviour. During her last year the graces of the Spirit shone conspicuously through much pain and protracted weakness. Her cheerful steady faith proved that she was supplied daily from the hidden manna and from the water of the smitten rock. She has gone into His presence which makes fullness of joy eternal.

HAVILAND.—At Chatham, March 11, Mrs. Jane Haviland, daughter of Burke Mitchell, N. B., aged 43 years. Mrs. Haviland, a devoted wife and mother, was baptized by Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, and joined the Docktown Baptist church, of which she remained a consistent member till her removal to Chatham where she died. She lived a Christian life and died in peace and resignation, in the will of God, charging those about her and sending messages to her friends to prepare to meet her in heaven.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 6, Anna Jackson, aged 29 years. She was a member of the 2nd Hammonds Plains church, and gave good evidence during her last sickness of about six months, that she was in fellowship with Jesus and ready to go home. Sermon by Rev. E. N. Archibald from Rev. 14: 13.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 11, Maria, beloved wife of John Havilock, in her 80th year. Baptized by Rev. R. R. Philip many years ago, she had maintained a Christian walk to the glory of her Saviour. During her last year the graces of the Spirit shone conspicuously through much pain and protracted weakness. Her cheerful steady faith proved that she was supplied daily from the hidden manna and from the water of the smitten rock. She has gone into His presence which makes fullness of joy eternal.

HAVILAND.—At Chatham, March 11, Mrs. Jane Haviland, daughter of Burke Mitchell, N. B., aged 43 years. Mrs. Haviland, a devoted wife and mother, was baptized by Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, and joined the Docktown Baptist church, of which she remained a consistent member till her removal to Chatham where she died. She lived a Christian life and died in peace and resignation, in the will of God, charging those about her and sending messages to her friends to prepare to meet her in heaven.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 6, Anna Jackson, aged 29 years. She was a member of the 2nd Hammonds Plains church, and gave good evidence during her last sickness of about six months, that she was in fellowship with Jesus and ready to go home. Sermon by Rev. E. N. Archibald from Rev. 14: 13.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 11, Maria, beloved wife of John Havilock, in her 80th year. Baptized by Rev. R. R. Philip many years ago, she had maintained a Christian walk to the glory of her Saviour. During her last year the graces of the Spirit shone conspicuously through much pain and protracted weakness. Her cheerful steady faith proved that she was supplied daily from the hidden manna and from the water of the smitten rock. She has gone into His presence which makes fullness of joy eternal.

HAVILAND.—At Chatham, March 11, Mrs. Jane Haviland, daughter of Burke Mitchell, N. B., aged 43 years. Mrs. Haviland, a devoted wife and mother, was baptized by Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, and joined the Docktown Baptist church, of which she remained a consistent member till her removal to Chatham where she died. She lived a Christian life and died in peace and resignation, in the will of God, charging those about her and sending messages to her friends to prepare to meet her in heaven.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 6, Anna Jackson, aged 29 years. She was a member of the 2nd Hammonds Plains church, and gave good evidence during her last sickness of about six months, that she was in fellowship with Jesus and ready to go home. Sermon by Rev. E. N. Archibald from Rev. 14: 13.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 11, Maria, beloved wife of John Havilock, in her 80th year. Baptized by Rev. R. R. Philip many years ago, she had maintained a Christian walk to the glory of her Saviour. During her last year the graces of the Spirit shone conspicuously through much pain and protracted weakness. Her cheerful steady faith proved that she was supplied daily from the hidden manna and from the water of the smitten rock. She has gone into His presence which makes fullness of joy eternal.

HAVILAND.—At Chatham, March 11, Mrs. Jane Haviland, daughter of Burke Mitchell, N. B., aged 43 years. Mrs. Haviland, a devoted wife and mother, was baptized by Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, and joined the Docktown Baptist church, of which she remained a consistent member till her removal to Chatham where she died. She lived a Christian life and died in peace and resignation, in the will of God, charging those about her and sending messages to her friends to prepare to meet her in heaven.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 6, Anna Jackson, aged 29 years. She was a member of the 2nd Hammonds Plains church, and gave good evidence during her last sickness of about six months, that she was in fellowship with Jesus and ready to go home. Sermon by Rev. E. N. Archibald from Rev. 14: 13.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 11, Maria, beloved wife of John Havilock, in her 80th year. Baptized by Rev. R. R. Philip many years ago, she had maintained a Christian walk to the glory of her Saviour. During her last year the graces of the Spirit shone conspicuously through much pain and protracted weakness. Her cheerful steady faith proved that she was supplied daily from the hidden manna and from the water of the smitten rock. She has gone into His presence which makes fullness of joy eternal.

HAVILAND.—At Chatham, March 11, Mrs. Jane Haviland, daughter of Burke Mitchell, N. B., aged 43 years. Mrs. Haviland, a devoted wife and mother, was baptized by Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, and joined the Docktown Baptist church, of which she remained a consistent member till her removal to Chatham where she died. She lived a Christian life and died in peace and resignation, in the will of God, charging those about her and sending messages to her friends to prepare to meet her in heaven.

HAVILAND.—At Hammonds Plains, March 6, Anna Jackson, aged 29 years. She was a member of the 2nd Hammonds Plains church, and gave good evidence during her last sickness of about six months, that she was in fellowship with Jesus and ready to go home. Sermon by Rev. E. N. Archibald from Rev. 14: 13.

HARRIS.—At Halifax, N. S., March 3, Theodore Heffer, in his 21st year, of diphtheria. Our young friend bore a good character, and was buried according to the ritual of the Order of Good Templars, of which he was an honored member. He was a kind son and brother. His loss leaves an aching void in parents' hearts, but they have hope of meeting him in the glory with Jesus, in whom he trusted for pardon and salvation. [Boston and California papers please copy.]

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he had a high regard.

HOLSTEAD.—At Halifax, Jan. 11, John S. Holstead, in the 56th year of his age, leaving a widow and one son to mourn their loss. Mr. Holstead came to Halifax from St. John several years ago, and was in active business until he was attacked by the disease which resulted in his death. He was a good citizen, a kind husband and father, and a warm friend. He never made any profession of religion, but he died trusting in Jesus. He was an attendant for years at the North Baptist church, for whose pastor he