POOR DOCUMENT

MC 2033

The traveling dress of the bride was a tailor-made costume of navy blue ladies' cloth with velvet, felt and gilt trimmings. The father of the bride performed the ceremony and her brother, Mr. George Bool, of Sydney, was present, being the only out-of-town guest. Mr. and Mrs. McElhenney left by Ocean Limited for the upper provinces and will visit Niagara Falls. A large number of friends gathered at the station to offer congratulations and shower her with paper. The choir and Sabbath school of the First Baptist church, in both of which the bride has been an efficient and faithful helper, presented her with a handsome oak secretary. The groom's fellow ushers gave him an elegant automatic working Morris chair. Mr. McElhenney is having a house erected on Dominion street, where they will make their hme for a while. Mrs. McElhenney has been one of the most competent teachers on the Truro school staff for some years.

On Thursday last one of the most brilliant weddings ever seen in Maitland took place. The principals in this affair were Dr. C. W. O'Brien, of Wyandotte, Michigan, and Miss Florence Ellis, daughter of Captain James Ellis, of "The Hawthorns." The ceremony was performed in the Presbyterian church, which had been artistically decorated, at 3 o'clock, by Rev. G. E. Ross, B. D., assisted by Rev. G. R. Martell, M. A. The wedding march was played by Miss Sadie Mosher, recently from Boston Conservatory of Music. The bride's beautiful gown of Irish lace over accordeon plaited chiffon, was very becoming, and her veil orange blossoms, and shower bouquet of roses, all aided in making a very charming picture. The bride's only ornament was a pearl and diamond sunburst, a gift from her mother. She was accompanied to the altar by little Miss Audrey, daughter of Dr. Nash, of New York, who wore a hand-made frock of valenciennes insertion and huge bonnet of chiffon and carried a basket of sweet peas.

Miss Margaret O'Brien, of Noel, was a pretty bridesmaid, attired in white organdie, with lace and ribbon trimmings and wore a picture hat of chiffon, with white plumes. The groom was attended by his brother, Dr. Addison O'Brien, of Noel.

The bride's mother wore an elegant gown of pearl grey French brocade. Her gifts to her daughter, beside the brooch, were a substantial cheque, and a chest of silver. The groom's present to the bride was a diamond ring, to the bridesmaid a diamond and sapphire ring, and to the flower girl a pretty pearl pin. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the "Hawthorn's" where a sumptuous luncheon was served and congratulations were tendered. The wedding trip will include a visit to cities in upper Canada, after which this very popular bride and groom will reside at Wyandotte, Michigan.

The Masons have once more proven themselves admirable hosts, their social evening being an annual affair that is looked forward to with interest.

Those of our citizens who were loud in their cries of extravagance when the permanent sidewalk was in course of construction must now feel rather non-plussed when confronted with the figures. It was claimed that the cost of the sidewalk would be in the vicinity of $1,500, but it is now learned after careful accounting, that the amount is not more than $1,200. The street committee of the town council feel that when the next work of this kind is undertaken they can considerably reduce the cost per foot which on this work was 29 cents. The sidewalk is built to a depth of over two feet, about 20 inches of stone and gravel and six inches of concrete, which ought to stand for some time to come, although their is considerable doubt existing as to the effect of the frost.

The Reward.

(J. G. Whittier).

Who, looking back from his manhood prime,
Sees not the spectre of his misspent time,
And through the shade
Of funeral cypress planted thick behind,
Hears no reproachful whispers on the wind
From his beloved dead?

Who bears no trace of passion's evil force?
Who shuns thy sting, O terrible remorse?
Who would not cast
Half of its future from him, but to win
Wakeless oblivion from the wrong and sin
Of the sealed past?

Alas! the evil which we fain would shun
We do, and love the wish for good undone;
Our strength today
Is but tomorrow's weakness prone to fall;
Poor, blind, unprofitable servants all
Are we alway.

Yet who thus looking backward o'er his years
Feels not his eyelids wet with grateful tears
If he hath been
Permitted, weak and sinful as he was,
To cheer and aid in some ennobling cause
His fellow men?
If he hath hidden the outcast, or let in
A ray of sunshine to the cell of sin; of need,
Over the suffering, heedless of his creed
Or hue, hath bent,
He hath not lived in vain; and while he gives
The praise to Him in whom he moves and lives,
With thankful heart
He gazes backward, and with hope before,
Knowing that from his works he never more
Can henceforth part.
