Suffered For Years From Pain In The Back and Headache.

Pain in the back is one of the first signs showing that the kidneys are not in the condition they should be, and it should be attended to immediately for, if neglected, serious kidney troubles are likely to follow. There is no way of getting rid of the backache except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective for this purpose as Doan's Kidney Pills.

Miss Ida J. Dorian, 28 Spring St., Chariottetewn, P.E.I., writes:—"I have received most wonderful benefit from taking Doan's Kidney Pills.

"I suffered for years from headaches and pain in the back, and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable but without any relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. This was the only medicine that ever did me any real good, as after using several boxes am now entirely free from all my dreadful headaches and backaches.

"I will a ways recommend your medicine to any of my friends who are troubled as I was.

FRENCH ROMAN HYACINTH These are the earliest of all the nyacinths and are very easily grown. The flowers are pure white and delightfully fragrant. Each bulb of it is of the best grade, will throw off from three to four spikes of bloom. This class of bloom is extensively used by florists for cut flowers. Three or four bulbs are generally planted in a five-inch flower pot, in good soil, the same as recommended for Dutch hyacinths.

They require much the same treatment, but are much quicker in root action than the Dutch hyacinth. After they are well-rooted and placed in a well-lighted room with a temperature of about sixty degrees it will not be long until you will see the flower stalks appearing.

NEW SOUTH WALES EGG-LAYING COMPETITIONS

The July Agricultural Gazette of New South Wales reports conclusion of another year's work in the egg-laying competitions inaugurated at Hawkesburg Agricultural College, eight years

The whole series of tests has been a continued success, the eighth competition surpassing all its predecessors in the general average of eggs produced. In the first test the average laying of the 38 pens competing, was 779 eggs, and by a process of evolution of better strains, better breeding, better selection, and better feeding this number has been gradually increased until the present test gives an average per pen of 1,089 eggs, or an increase of 310 eggs, representing an advance of 40 per cent. There is every justification for the expectation of still further raising the average production. The results undoubtedly confirm the theory of better breeds, better strains, better profits. Not only in the pullets has there been an appreciable increase, but also in the econd-year hens, the third test eclipsing the two previous ones. The increase per pen is well over 100 eggs, showing that the improvement in egg production in the pullets is sustained in the second

The lessons learned from these competitions are of great value. While the making of new data year by year is important, the question of data being maintained is much more valuable. The conclusions drawn by the investigators are as follows: That poultry farming can be conlucted on small areas.

That it can be made to pay even by ourchasing all food.

That good strains of good breeds are the most profitable, and will respond the most quickly to selection for intense egg-production.

That the White Leghorns, Black Orpingtons, and Silver Wyandottes are the best breeds, and that the fewer the number of breeds used for commercial poultry farming the better will be the mprovement attained. This question s in itself of vast importance. From a chaotic list of innumerable breeds, in which the embryonic poultry farmer was lost in bewilderment, the list is now a very short one, and the prospective poultry farmer has no trouble in making selection &

The story of skimp feeding or the danger of over-feeding layers has been exploded, and a method of full and plenty has been substituted with very much improved results.

That, while a varied diet is the best. maize in a fair proportion can be fed profitably to poultry That divisional pens will give the best results, it being far better to divide them all together.
