THIRD WITNESS

A-20165, Sapper SCHWEITZER, J.C., on strength of No. 1 Canadian Engineer Reinforcement Unit and attached to Headquarters, Canadian Reinforcement Units, a soldier of the Canadian Army Overseas and a Batman at "A" Officers' Mess, Headquarters, Canadian Reinforcement Units, having been duly sworn, states as follows:

"At "A" Mess, Headquarters, Canadian Reinforcement Units, on 9 January, 1944, at approximately 0700 hours I got up and found the bed of Rifleman Keene empty and apparently not slept in. Between 0700 and 0800 hours I was asked by Corporal Thomas whether I had seen Rifleman Keene that morning or whether he had slept in his quarters the previous night. Since I had not seen Rifleman Keene, and since he had apparently not slept in his quarters, I answered 'No' to the question. On the following Monday morning I was again asked whether I had seen Rifleman Keene and since I had not, replied again that I had not seen him. His bed was still made down and unslept in on Monday morning. I did not see Rifleman Keene at any time between the time he first became absent and the time that he was apprehended."
