—We read of a widow who has been three times married. Her first husband was Rob, the second Robins, and the third Robinson. The same door-plate has served the whole three; and the question now is, what extended name can be procured to fill out the remaining space on it.

—A little boy, whose father was a rather immoderate drinker of the moderate kind, one day sprained his wrist, and his mother utilized the whiskey in her husband's bottle to bathe the little fellow's wrist. After a while the pain began to abate, and the child surprised his mother by exclaiming: "Ma, has pa got a sprained throat?"

—"Every man should provide liberally for his family," says Mr. Smith. "Ever since my marriage I have kept my wife provided with a sewing-machine surmounted by a mirror."

"What's the mirror for?" inquired a listener.

"Well," said the oracle, "I tell her that when she gets so lazy she can't run the machine, she can sit still and see herself starve to death."
