

Residence built during this winter by W. A. Rankin, on Fenimore Ave., Ottawa.

The above illustration shows one of the advantages of using Bishopric Stucco Board. Winter and early spring weather has no effect on it, and you can go right ahead with any indoor construction that you may wish.

BISHOPRIC STUCCO BOARD

is gaining more favor each day with the farmer. It takes the place of lath, furring strips, building paper and sheathing lumber, at just about half the cost. It comes to you ready to be nailed to the studding, lath side out, as a foundation for stucco outside or plaster inside the building.

BISHOPRIC STUCCO BOARD is made of kiln-dried lath, bevel-edged, embedded under terrific pressure, in toughened asphalt mastic, surfaced on the other side with sized sulphate fibre board.

The dove-tailed spaces between the lath make perfect keys and the plaster or stucco never cracks or falls away. For inside walls that are not to be plastered, Bishopric Stucco Board is put up lath side to the studding, and the fibre board presents a well-sized, clean surface, either to stand as it is, or for decorative purposes.

A post card will bring our book on Bishopric products for the farmer, to you. You'll save money by getting it.

Our Young Folks

Selfishness

Search history, my boy, and see
What petty selfishness has done.
Find if you can one victory
That little minds have ever won.
There is no record there to read
Of men who fought for self alone,
No instance of a single deed
Of splendor they may proudly own.

Through all life's story you will find
The miser and his hoarded gold,
A hermit dreary, and unkind,
An outcast from the human fold.
Men hold him up to view with scorn,
A creature by his wealth enslaved,
A spirit craven and forlorn,
Doomed by the money he has saved.

No man was ever truly great
Who sought to serve himself alone,
Who put himself above the state,
Above the friends about him thrown.
No man was ever truly glad
Who risked his joy on hoarded pelf,
And gave of nothing that he had
Through fear of needing it himself.

For selfishness is wintry cold
And bitter are its joys at last,
The very charms it tries to hold
With woes are quickly overcast.
And only he shall gladly live
And bravely die when God shall call,
Is he who gathers but to give,
With his fellows shares his all.
Edgar R. Guest, in the Bulletin.

The Sister of a Soldier

She may not follow forth with him
When wide the flag's unfurled,
But he will take her cheery smile
Halfway across the world.
Halfway across the world he'll hear
The word he caught at going:
Her brave good-by, as proud and clear
As any bugle blowing.

She'll keep the home lights gleaming fair,
The hearth flame brightly burning,
The old house sweet against the day—
Please God—he'll be returning.
She cannot strike the marching pace,
But when he's out of sight
She steps into his empty place,
And stays behind to fight.

Dear Boys and Girls: The prize this month is awarded to Mae Weber, Neville, Sask. Let us have scores of letters from boys and girls. We can make this department the best in the magazine if our boys and girls will write about their experiences.

First, we want all the news we can get of the boys' and girls' clubs. Why you are beating a long way the clubs men and women have. The work you did last year was marvelous. This year you are going to raise enough cattle and hogs and Private Leadswinger (entertaining new draft)—"Wat! was there much of an explosion when the mine went up—I should say so! Why, the sandbags was falling down ten minutes afterwards with snow on 'em."
