C. M. B. A.

Brother Kearn, C. M. B. A. Deputy, Barrie, Ont., is endeavoring to organize Branches in Midland, Stayner, Tottenham and Collingwood, with every prospect of and Coinnewood, with every prospect of success.

Brother Kinsella is devoting considerable attention to C. M. B. A. work. He expects to be able to organize a Branch in Madoc, County of Hastings, in the course of a few days time.

Brother Tansey, of Montreal, assisted by Mr. Spereman of Halifax, is working hard in Nova Scotia, in the C. M. B. A. cause. We expect several Branches in that province before long.

Mr. G. Leys, teacher in Chepstow, Bruce County, is giving his valuable assistance in ince before long.

Mr. G. Leys, teacher in Chepstow, Bruce County, is giving his valuable assistance in working up a C. M. B. A. Branch in that village. The requisite papers will be completed shortly. No doubt Mr. Leys will become a member himself.

Rev. T. M. Shanahan has received from the Grand Secretary, application and medical certificats blanks for the purpose of forming a Branch in Niagara. Rev. Father Shanahan is determined to do all the good he can for his parishioners.

Rev. Father Bloem is working hard to organize Branches in Sudbury, Chapleau and Sault Ste. Marie. The Rev. Father usually succeeds in what he undertakes, and will no doubt have his district pretty well supplied with C. M. B. A. Branches by the time of our next convention.

Our Peterborough correspondent is referred to the latter part of Section 3, Article II., page 73 of the constitution. "If he is again rejected (that is, the second time), he shall be declared rejected, and no other ballotting for the same applicant shall take place for the space of six months thereafter in any Branch." Of course if the balloting was illegally or unconstitutionally conducted, it could be set aside by the proper authority and another ballot or Jered. Kindly give the particulars of the case to Deputy O'Meara of your own Branch and he will give you a proper construction of our constitutional regulations in regard to the matter you have referred to.

Much enthursiasm was displayed by the delegates present, and the convention which mestita brontesia in espiember next will be long remembered by all present. Father de Ruyter says there are 10,000 devoted colored Carbolies in the city of Baltimore, 75 000 in New Orleans, 7,000 in Washington, and largely growing congregations of colored Catholies in Virginia, Kentucky, St Louis, Cincinnati and elsewhers. To this roll of honor Father de Ruyter hopes ere long to add the diocese of Wilmington.

A destardly attempt was made on 26 h Ostober to effect an explosion of gas in St. Peter's Church, Baltimore. Mr. John Doyle, the sexton, on entering the church between six and seven o'clock was nearly between it and seven o'clock was nearly overcome by gas. An investigation showed that the key of every jet in the church, except those in the sanctuary, was turned on, even these in the sanctuary, was turned on, even these in the choir gallery, which were reached by climbing over a door five feet high, which is always locked when that portion of the edifice is not in uss. Mgr. McColgan on entering the church was visibly affected. Oare had been taken to twist each key as far back as it would go. The meter was faund to be in perfect condition. There was a strong odor of gas in the church all day. It is believed that the plan was intended to work successfully by filling the building during the night with gas, which would be ignited by the sanctuary lamp, or that on the entrance of the sexton Sunday morning before services, which begin at an early hour, the sexton would light a candle or jet, which would cause an explosion.

On Friday, 28th ult., a very interesting entertainment took place at Victoria Hall, under the auspices of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the object being to add to the funds of that noble organisation that has for its object the relief of suffering and distressed human-ity. The large hall was crowded, many being unable to obtain seats, and a very pleasing feature of the occasion was the presence of a large number of Protestants, who thus expressed in a practical manner their sympathy with their Catholic fellow-citizens in the great cause of charity, exemplifying the old adage, "one touch of nature makes the whole world akin." The concert began by an overture by the Brockthe whole world akin." The concert began by an overture by the Brockville orchestra, that spoke volumes for the talent and musical ability of each and every member thereof. A solo by Miss Webb was beautifully ren dered, as was also one by Miss C. Branniff, both of which were heartily applauded. Then followed a comic song by Mr. G. T. Dixon, greeted by hearty laughter that showed it was duly appreciated. A piano solo by Miss Annie O Donohue and a piano duett by Misses Ryan and Branniff showed a complete mastery of the instrument, and was heartily applauded. Then followed a recitation by Miss Shannon, entitled "Mary Queen of Soots," in which this young lady displayed the possession of elocutionary powers of no mean order. An excore being called, Miss Shannon gave "The Letter." Mr. George E. McGlade then gave a very interesting exhibition with the Indian clubs A dialogue between the Misses Doddridge and Flannigan created considerable merriment. Between the first and second part refreshments were served to the audience. One thing, however, occurred which particularly interests the citizens of Toronto outside of the Roman Catholic Church, and of that I especially desire to write. I am sure I am expressing not only my own feeling but that of every Protestant in Toronto, when I express my unqualified disapproprial of every Protestant in Toronto, when I express my unqualified disapproval of the dastardly misconduct of the rowdies who insulted our Roman Catholic friends, and especially His Grace the Archbishop of Toronto. Roman Catholics were in sulted, but, in my opinion, the Protestants of Toronto were grossly insulted by such villainous conduct. Jenn Potts.

to be closed to shut out the attack, and after that no one seems to have followed the actions of the blackguards. Yesterday, however, their further doings were revealed, and in face of the complaints that have been made with respect to the vigilance of the police force on duty that night the latest revelations should receive the most careful investigation of the authorities. Archbishop Walsh yesterday made the statement that he could afford to remain silent about the attack on himself, but when it came to the destruction of the charitable institutions in connection with the Church he was destruction of the charitable institutions in connection with the Church he was bound to speak out and ask for justice. The cause for this is a very serious one. The statement is in effect that immediately after the Archbishop had entered the cathedral on Wednesday evening the ladies in charge of the Notre Dame school on Bond street were made the objects of the hostility of the hosdiums. The windows on Bond street and Wilton avenue were broken, and nine large stones entered the rooms. The immates were afraid to look out while the stones were being thrown. The attack was of short duration, thrown. The attack was of short duration and no one can be found to say how many were engaged upon it. The Arch-bishop is forced to the conclusion that the bishop is forced to the conclusion that the attack on Notre Dams Academy was premelitated, the stones are an evidence in this direction. They are not stones such as would be picked up off the street, but they are all clean, sharp pieces of rock, broken evidently at some new building, and the miscreauts who threw them must have carried them in their product that and the miscreauts who threw them must have carried them in their pockets that night. These facts are not to be passed offlightly. There are other circumstances which add to their gravity. Father Hand says that the drivers of other carriages that night have come to him and stated that stones were about the terms and the stated.
