TWENTY-TWO

At the end of the week, if he'd seen it through,
We left his grave in the cure's hands;
I met him as I was coming away—
A white-haired man in cassock and bands-And I showed him where it lay.

"Twenty-two-Yet he's older than you or me, M'sieu, Yes, I will see the grave kept trim, .

And after the prayers for our own are said I will add a prayer for him."

Twenty-two—
Someone will bitterly weep for you;
Yet she'll lift her head with a wonderful pride: "He was my son, and his life he gave.
Shall I grudge such a gift, tho' my heart has died?
He was brave: I must be brave."
