"MY MOLARY"

A Clever Parody of a Well-known Song.

Just about everybody knows that beautiful song "My Rosary." A parody of it would be a shame unless cleverly done, and in this regard, Dr. Hart is chuckling yet. In connection with the sending of a dental account to a lady patient, he received this answer:—

"MY MOLARY."

"The hours I've spent with thee dear Hart,

To make a string of pearls for me, I count them over every one apart, My molar, my molar, my molar, Each hour a pearl, each pearl a care, You still a nerve in anguish rung, I count each bead unto the end—all with my tongue.

Oh! memories of drills and burn, Oh! golden gain and bitter loss, I feel each bead and strive at last to learn

To come across, dear Hart, to come across."

Nuptial Notes

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Smale, 46 Brighton Row, when their only daughter Flossie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. A. C. Digby both of this city. The happy couple left on the 6 o'clock train, amid showers of confetti, for Toronto, where they will spend their honeymoon. On return they will reside at 51 Church street. Among the numerous presents was a beautiful hat rack presented by the employees of the B. and H. Railway of which the bride has been a recent member of the office staff. Rev. Mr. Martin of Wesley church officiated.

Lorne Bridge Examination to be Made

A meeting of the board of works took place last evening when a large number of requests were received for additional street oiling. There will have to be a special by-law put through at the next meeting of the city council to confirm the same.

The members decided to engage the services of Mr. William Kirkpatrick of Hamilton, who has been a bridge inspector for the Grand Trunk during the past thirty years, for the examination of Lorne Bridge. He will be on the job to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, and will meet the board at 3 p.m. He will deal with the present strength of the bridge and any necessary steps to make it more safe, also whether cars can go over in order to sume the West Brantford street railway service. Saturday will be a good day for inspection because of the heavy traffic.

The board is also taking up the matter of the removal of poles on Colborne street, and the city engineer has been instructed to call a conference with representatives of the company's concerned. It is hoped to secure a satisfactory solution.
