ULTIMATUM BY RUSSIA; BULGARIA MUST CHOOSE

By 4 o'clock This Afternoon She Must Either be For or Against Russia.

London, Oct. 4.—The text of the Russian ultimatum to Bulgaria follows: "The events which are taking place in Bulgaria at this moment give evidence of a definite decision of King Ferdinand's Government to place the fate of his country in the hands of Germany."

RUSSIA AND BULGARIA ON BRINK OF WAR

By Special Wire to the Courier. Zurich, Switzerland, via London, Oct. 4.—A telegram from Sofia to The Munich Neueste Nachrichten says the latest Bulgarian cabinet council debated at length over new proposals made by the quadruple entente to Bulgaria, on condition that she remain neutral.

RUSSIA'S VIEW

Petrograd, Oct. 4.—Unless Bulgaria has conceded fully the demands of Russia concerning the breaking of relations with the central powers by 2 o'clock this afternoon, the Russian minister at Sofia and his staff will depart. However, as Russia draws a distinction between the Bulgarian government and the Bulgarian people no representative measures will be taken against Bulgarian subjects in Russia.

RUSSIA MUST LEAD

The foreign office explains that the fact that Russia alone sent an ultimatum to Bulgaria, was due to voluntary recognition on the part of her allies of this nation's predominance in the Balkans of her moral claim upon the gratitude of the Balkan peoples.

WOLUD CONVINCED BULGAR PEOPLE

Whether England, France and Italy will withdraw their representatives at Sofia in case Russia takes this action has not yet been decided. Russia felt compelled to make this move in view of the failure of all efforts to bring Russia through other means to King Ferdinand. It is the view of the Russian government that the recall of its minister would convince the Bulgarian people that King Ferdinand's policy is dangerous.

WILL DEMAND EXPLANATION

Rome, Oct. 3.—Via Paris, Oct. 4.—The belief prevails in Italian official circles says The Tribune that the quadruple entente powers soon will present a joint note to Bulgaria demanding an explanation of her attitude.

Amsterdam, via London, Oct. 4.—Protesting against Sir Edward Grey's warning to Bulgaria that she would be held strictly accountable for aggressive action against the allies, the south-western slopes of the Carpathians, but have left a strong force of artillery. On the other hand, between Kronsstadt, Transylvania and Hermannstadt, near the Roumanian frontier, there is a constant coming and going of German officers.

LET SERBIA BE PRUDENT

"If, therefore Serbia is prudent," The Nachrichten explains, "she will save blood and powder by withdrawing her troops somewhat to the east, as the goods destined for Turkey never will harm Serbia, and meanwhile she will rectify the wrong she did to Bulgaria in the summer of 1913."

KNOWS NOTHING OF ULTIMATUM

London, Oct. 4.—The Roumanian legation here has received no information regarding the report that an Austro-Hungarian ultimatum has been delivered to Roumanian demands for permission to transport munitions across Roumanian territory to Turkey.

GETTING READY

Paris, Oct. 4.—Municipal authorities at Sofia have adopted rigorous measures made necessary by the military situation, says a despatch to The Temps from the Bulgarian capital. Citizens have been prevented from promenade the streets after ten o'clock at night. Meetings, political gatherings and public demonstrations have been forbidden. Restaurants and theatres must close at 10 o'clock and stores are permitted to sell bread until nine o'clock.

CRIMINAL RAISE RATES

Grocers, butchers and wood dealers have been ordered not to advance prices above the scale. Landlords have been prohibited from raising rents or evicting tenants for non-payment of rents.

AT TWO-MINUTE INTERVALS

After describing the preliminary bombardment of Turkish trenches by the artillery, which lasted a half-hour, Captain Bean tells of the actual infantry defence works. In the first of these movements the second line men were ordered to advance two minutes after the first line, the third line coming along after another ten minutes. The orders were obeyed as if by a machine, although every man knew death almost certainly awaited him at the top of his own parapet from the machine guns of the enemy.

EFFECT OF MACHINE GUN FIRE

"One knew nobody could live in it. Many fell back wounded before they had even cleared the parapet. Others, wounded just outside, managed to crawl back before being hit a second or third time. Colonel White had run only ten yards before he was killed. The Turkish machine gunners drew a line which none could pass, and a man who fell wounded often was hit six or eight times more as he dropped through the stream of bullets."

S.S. HESPERIAN SUNK BY MINE SAY NAVAL MEN

By Special Wire to the Courier. Washington, Oct. 4.—Naval officers assigned to examine pieces of metal, said to have been found aboard the Allan Liner Hesperian before she sank off the Irish coast, Sept. 4, are virtually convinced that the vessel was wrecked by a mine. Their findings will be submitted to Secretary of the Navy Daniels this week.

While there has never been a formal announcement on the subject, despatches from London have credited the British Admiralty with the belief that the Hesperian was torpedoed without warning by a German submarine. The Captain of the vessel expressed this opinion and submitted the metal fragments which he contended were pieces of a torpedo. Some of the pieces were submitted to the naval attaché at the American embassy at London, who turned them over to Ambassador Page to be forwarded to the State Department along with the affidavits of the officers and passengers.

GETTING READY FOR GREAT GAMES IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—The Philadelphia Nationals began tuning up today for the world's series with the Boston Americans, which opens here on Friday. Only three games with Brooklyn remain on the Phillies' regular National League schedule. These games will be played to-day, to-morrow and Thursday, with Wednesday an open date, the local fans figure that Manager Moran should have his men in first class shape for the opening of the big series.

Magnificent and Hopeless Charge of Australian Light Brigade Against the Turks Equals the Crimean Feat.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Oct. 4.—As illustrating the difficult and desperate character of the fighting in the Dardanelles, at the same time paying tribute to the fighting qualities and heroism of both Australian and Turk, Captain C. E. W. Bean, official press representative with the Australian forces, sends us the description of the "glorious charge" of two Australian Light Horse brigades at Anzac.

ONE IN SIX CAME BACK

The attack of these two brigades occurred at a spot where natural obstacles made success impossible, but the movement was regarded as necessary in order to draw Turkish troops away from points where real advances could be made successfully. Only one man in six of the Australians who left the trenches came back safely.

VOLUNTEER "LIGHT BRIGADE"

"This charge differed from that of the Light Brigade," says Captain Bean, "in that it was made by horsemen who had volunteered to fight on foot, or in any other way, provided they could get to the Gallipoli peninsula and help the other Australians there. The two scaling ladders they carried with them are lying out there in the scrub halfway to the enemy trenches, and there are a number of tumbled little heaps of that dull, peacoup-colored Australian khaki, which is the hallmark of unrecorded heroism on every battlefield on this peninsula.

NOT PROVOCATIVE

"As to the assertions of certain newspapers that the Radosloff cabinet will not be qualified to direct the destinies of Bulgaria because it will not have a majority, we must observe that in a parliamentary country, which Bulgaria undoubtedly is, the government which is said not to have supported the premier with a sufficient majority in the Sobranje would not be able to remain in power. Since they came from,

MAC CABLES "ALL'S WELL"

"All Well" is the word received this morning by Mrs. M. A. Colquhoun from her husband, Lt.-Col. Colquhoun of the 4th Battalion. The good news comes in a cable dated "Field Post Office, October 3rd." Judging from the cable, the Canadians are not in the thick of it, although seemingly fighting. Mrs. Jones and family also received a cablegram to-day from Major Jones reading "All's well."
