FARMERSVILLE, JUNE 8, 1887.

FARMERSVILLE AND VICINITY.

Our Reporter's Note Book Turned Inside Out for the Benefit of the Public.

The person who took a long ladder from the REPORTER office is requested to bring it back immediately.

A very fine five-year-old black horse will be sold by auction on the 11th inst., at the Gamble House. The sale will take place at 2 o'clock p.m.

It is expected that the annual picnic of the Methodist Sunday School will be held on the 21st inst. at Charleston. Full particulars next week.

Newly married couples, and those who contemplate matrimony, should make a note of the fact that P. Wilts, of the Montreal House, has a large quantity of geese feathers for sale.

Herbert Leely, of Frankville, has a curiosity in the form of a half-year-old calf, which yields a considerable portion of milk daily.

There will be an ice cream festival in the North Church, on Friday evening, under the auspices of the Baptist Church. An interesting programme will be presented, and the ladies who are getting up the entertainment promise luscious ice cream.

Mrs. O. F. Bullis, of Glen Bell, lost from a buggy a heavy winter shawl, on the road between her home and Mr. Jerry Bullis' residence, Plum Hollow. The finder will confer a favor by communicating with the loser, or by leaving it at Messrs. Parish & Son's store, Farmersville.

The Orangemen of Leeds County will celebrate the anniversary of the Boyne victory at Frankville this year. We shall refer to the details of the programme in a future issue. Colored posters announcing the event will be issued from this office in a day or two.

The Queen's Jubilee will be celebrated here on the 22nd inst., by a jubilee dinner under the auspices of Christ Church. J. P. Wood, Esq., M.P., Geo. Taylor, Esq., M.P., the Rev. S. Tighe, and His Honor Judge Reynolds, will be among the speakers. We will publish fuller details next week.

"old planting grounds," being about 3 1/2 acres in all. The part on which the trespass was committed was one of these pieces, being about three quarters of an acre. He had the piece ploughed, a quantity of manure drawn upon the lot, and then dragged and furrowed it out ready for planting. The defendant must have known that he had done this work, as he was working on other parts of the farm at the time. Had the bars down and was working at the piece, when defendant came along and forcibly put up the bars, forbade him entering, and said that if he was a younger man, he (the deft.) would choke him. After the deft. left he finished marking out the ground and dropped a quantity of potatoes. Some of them were covered, and the rest were left uncovered until morning. The next morning the deft. came and picked up part of the potatoes, threw them in a pile outside the piece, and proceeded to plant the ground with potatoes which he had brought there himself. Thought he had sustained damage to the amount of at least $5.00. Cross-examined by deft. The bargain was made at defendant's place; did not reserve any ground except that mentioned; was positive that he reserved the pieces mentioned, as he named them over several times when making the bargain. Chas. Levingston was called for the defence. Plaintiff's attorney objected to this witness being sworn, as he did not properly understand the nature of an oath. The bench put several questions to witness, which satisfied them that he was not eligible to give evidence; but he was allowed to make a statement, which was to the effect that he was present at the time the bargain was made, and that plaintiff only reserved two pieces. John Levingston, the deft., was sworn, who said that the plaintiff did not reserve the field in question, and that the plaintiff said he might plant that piece if he wanted to. Did not see plaintiff ploughing or getting out the manure but supposed that he had it done. Swore positively that plaintiff said he could have the field. Cross-examined plaintiff: Told him he did not want the piece. Picked up the potatoes belonging to plaintiff, on about half of the piece, and planted the piece himself. Told plaintiff's hired man that the plaintiff might have half the piece for the ploughing he had done. After deliberation Justices Scovell and Loverin, decided that the case was sustained, while Justice Wright dissented. Verdict for plaintiff for $5.00 damages and $5.00 costs, to be paid forthwith. Deft. gave notice of appeal, which has since been withdrawn.

Neighbors. The much needed rain has come at last, and in a deluge too. Mr. Dayley, editor of the Kingston Freeman, is spending a few days in this vicinity, the guest of Wm. Bulger. Lewis & Lambert's show struck town last Saturday night, and drew a large crowd. All pronounce it good. The new school building is being pushed ahead. It is said there will be a clock in the tower thereof. The sheriff's sale of ties and stone for the railroad was postponed from the 3rd to Tuesday, (to-day.) A new picket fence adorns the Methodist parsonage grounds. It is reported that a Newboro' gent, who undoubtedly thinks himself a free man in travelling affairs, undertook to take in Lewis & Lambert's show from outside the tent and got left. "They run the show." A Dominion celebration is on the tapis here. Full particulars next week. We notice that Mr. S. Shaw, one of our prominent young men, is agent for the Remonts, and know him to be the man to rush the subscription list. Messrs. Singleton & Harrison have opened a lumber yard here. We wish them success in their enterprise. Mrs. Wm. Breese has enlarged her store. It is a good improvement and one much needed. Should we be successful in getting our celebration here on July 1st, as we hope, are there any base ball clubs in any of the adjacent villages within a radius of fifteen miles, who would like to play a match game (for purse) with the Newboro' boys? If so please let it be known by addressing Stephen Breese. A strawberry festival in connection with the Methodist Church will be held on July 1st. Mr. Taylor, M.P., is expected to be present. A young stranger found his way to town last week, and is stopping on Main st. "It's a Riddle." The steamer Ella Ross passed through here last week, on her first trip. D. H. Cole is suffering from a severe cold. We hope to see him again soon. A certain little episode is best told in the following rhyme:— The first time that I met her 'Twas in the pouring rain; She said she'd ask me to go, But her parents—they were poor. I offered her my arm and umbrella. She thanked me with a smile. When I said I'd see her home, And her voice sounded sweetly low and mellow. When we arrived at home, She said she'd ask me to go. But her parents—they were poor. I offered her my arm and umbrella. She thanked me with a smile. When I said I'd see her home, And her voice sounded sweetly low and mellow. SLOUG.

COUNTY NEWS-LETTERS

Received from Our Own Correspondents During the past Week.

Mallorytown.

The Presbyterians of this place have arranged to hold a grand ice cream festival and concert on Friday evening. The entertainment is in connexion with the Sabbath evening services conducted here by the Rev. James Pullar, since his settlement in Farmersville. The growing interest in these meetings, together with the efforts of the committee to provide an attractive programme for this occasion warrant the expectation of a large attendance on Friday evening.

Front of Yonge.

Mr. D. D. Tennant is moving a large barn from his premises, and placing it on his son's farm on Hill-side Avenue, half a mile away. The great annual picnic in Ballycane, will shortly come off. As a matter of course, due notice will be given. Our popular stage driver, Mr. Samuel Hogaboom, was a day off on Saturday, which was well occupied by himself and family in taking in the St. Lawrence fishing grounds. Some large fish were taken. R. R. Phillips, license inspector, was in Brockville last week in the interests of Temperance.

Greenbush.

The work on the C. M. Church is progressing favorably. One of the hands employed attending the masons struck the other day for a raise of wages from $1.25 to $1.50. He said if he did not get the raise of wages he would quit work. He was politely told to quit. He sat down on a pile of stones for a few minutes, and finally said if he was taken into employ again he would work for $1. He was told to go to work. How is that for a strike? Spring's work is about over and sheep shearing has commenced. The dark man over the south side of the creek, sheared his on last Sabbath. We presume he was afraid of rain on Monday. Nothing like being prepared. O. A. Willoughby is doing a rushing business in iron harrows. He manufactures the best. An inspection is solicited before buying elsewhere. Mrs. W. G. Griffiths of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting friends here. Thomas Smith, Esq., has traded his young Masterman for a Phil. Sheridan mare, a very fine driver.

Glen Bell.

Mr. Alven Orton lost a very fine three-year-old colt, sired by "Young Warrior," and which cost him $120. She got out of his field on Monday night, 30th May, and he heard no tidings of her until Friday morning, when he discovered that a horse killed on the railroad, near Clark's Crossing, was his own colt. The "old patriarch" went to Dublin the other evening to transact some important business in connection with the great Conservative Picnic, and he did not go alone either. He ought not to disturb the peace of a quiet family.

A young gentleman on one of our back streets, who has a very fine young wife and baby boy, went to market the other day with some produce. While in town, among other things he bought to please his better half, a nice couch. On the road he fell in with a young lady on horse back, on route for Farmersville, and invited her to dismount, and load her horse behind, and ride with him. She accepted the invitation, and bounced into the wagon. He did not forget to tell her how beautiful she was, and other soft stuff, passing himself off for a bachelor. Now he has trouble at home, on account of the stormy weather.

The treasurer of the Glen Buell Bell Farm Syndicate has traded his clipped team for another fine team which can be seen on the long pasture. He has a team that he thinks will answer for Boston market. Mr. Wm. Hays occupied the pulpit in this place in the absence of Rev. Mr. Richardson, who was attending Conference. The young man did excellently, and exhibited talents and intelligence which surprised his old school mates. The funeral sermon for Mr. David Forth's only son, will be preached at the house, at halfpast two this day (Tuesday.) Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents.

Newboro.

The much needed rain has come at last, and in a deluge too. Mr. Dayley, editor of the Kingston Freeman, is spending a few days in this vicinity, the guest of Wm. Bulger.
