SINCE the first of January we have noted, with satisfaction that the Reporter's list of subscribers, particularly in Athens and vicinity, has been steadily increasing. This is certainly encouraging to the publisher, and it should also be of particular interest to those wishing to purchase

MORTON.

We regret to say that Mr. J. R. Leake had the misfortune to fall and dislocate his hip on Saturday last. As Mr. Leake is past seventy the accident is liable to lay him up for a long time.

Our Sunday school had a picnic to the "Island Bridge" last week, which was much enjoyed by the children as well as their parents.

Geraldine and Bertha Hartwell of Stanstead College have arrived here to spend the holidays with their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leake.

Scott Bros., of Gananoque (formerly of Morton), have enlarged a number of photos for people here with the most satisfactory results. They have great talent as artists and will receive a liberal patronage in this vicinity.

PHILLIPSVILLE.

The copious showers have been the means of relieving the fears of the farmers. At one time it looked pretty doubtful whether we would have enough feed to put our stock through the winter; but now that tired and forsaken look has partly disappeared from the features of the people.

Miss Anna Kennedy is home having a rest. She is not getting the best of health.

Mrs. R. Bulger, of Westport, is paying her mother and sisters a visit here. Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Alguire's sister, is paying her a visit.

Phelps' feed store is well patronized these days, as he keeps a full line of the different feeds.

Professor Hough, of bee fame, is once more installed in R. C. Haskin's bee yard. He says the bees come in fairly well loaded with honey in the afternoons when it is not wet.

Harmon Earl is having a wood-house erected to store his wood in for the winter.

J. P. Dunham has his new carriage shop nearly completed.

John Baker has put an addition to his barn.

CRIPPIN CORNERS

Editor Athens Reporter:

Dear Sir,—I thought I would write you a few lines to let you know what is doing at our Corners.

Wilson Chase has a large gang of men working in his brick and tile yard. Yes and right here I want to say that Mrs. Chase presented her husband with a new boarder last week, and he feels pretty proud about it.

And across the way there is another boy at Joseph McElroy's, who tipped the scales at 14 pounds and Joseph thinks he will raise him, he is of such good stock.

There is a lot of trade being done at and from our station on the E. & W. this spring between Acheson Bros. taking in hogs and stock for shipment and W. B. Phelps receiving and delivering to the farmers and others car after car of feed. He is disposing of several different kinds of wheat, corn and barley, bran, shorts, corn chop, wheat chop and pea chop.

Our road master, R. Thompson, is having nearly two year's labour put on our roads this spring. He has 52 cords of stone nearly all crushed by the stone crusher and spread on our roads. The work is being done none too soon for our roads were getting in bad shape. Our road-overseer says he finds the same kind of people as he found in other years. Some of them do not want to do a full day's work, as it is against their principles to do an honest day's work for the King, and others want the work done in front of their places. It seems to me there is a large amount of selfishness wrapped up in some people's hides, not only in road work but in many other things.

Mrs. Charles Peer is getting quite smart again from her recent illness.

The crops around these corners have put on a lively appearance since the drouth of 8 weeks was broken by frequent showers of rain, but it will be some time before the pastures will give forth enough succulent feed for cows to do away with other feed.

GLEN BUELL

Now that the welcome rain has again fallen in copious showers, the farmers have begun planting or re-planting their corn and roots, which will in some measure make up for the shortage in the hay crop.

Miss Pearl Chant was the guest of Miss Ethel Dack on Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Marian Trickey, of New Dublin, who has been spending a few days among her many friends and acquaintances returned home on Sunday.

Mr. Henry Mussell, who has been on the sick list for some time, is again able to be around.

Mr. Robert Sturgeon has disposed

Neway Budgets by the Reporter's able staff of Correspondents of his three year old colts for the nest sum of one hundred dollars. Robert knows a good horse when he sees it, and takes the road-dust from no one.

Fishing has become a popular sport here, and several good hauls have been made. Minnows are the bait.

On Sunday June 28, the 300th anniversary of the birth of John Wesley will be celebrated in the Methodist church here. Our pastor, who has returned from conference, will deliver a suitable address and special music will also be rendered by the choir.

FRANKVILLE

The great event of the week was the ice-cream social at Mr. Enos Soper's. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, quite a number gathered and all seemed to enjoy themselves. The rain did not dampen the spirit of the crowd. $25.00, clear of all expenses was made.

A number from here went to Lyn on Saturday to try their skill at base ball and returned slightly beaten.

Mrs. U. Keeler is visiting at the home of her father, Mr. Wm. Eaton.

Mr. F. Sproule preached his farewell sermon on Sunday morning. Owing to the rain, not as many were present as otherwise would have assembled. He seemed to feel the parting very much, and we are sure he will be greatly missed. His leaving message was to keep the heart right for out of it were the issues of life.

S. S. PICNIC

The children of the Presbyterian and Baptist Sunday schools had a glorious day at Charleston Lake on Saturday last. The two schools united at the Lahnastah grove where Mr. Lovrin had provided all the accessories necessary for the enjoyment of a basket picnic. Whether the children took their appetites with them or found them at the lake is uncertain, but they were all more than ready for the spread. After dinner a flotilla of small boats and Mr. Lovrin's gasoline launch "Sport," were kept busy in carrying the children on short excursions around the lake. Tea was served and then a start made for home, which was reached early in the evening.

A KIND FAREWELL

The proceedings at the Epworth League meeting on Tuesday evening were of a special character, the purpose being to honor the entrance into the ministry of the Methodist church and consequent departure from the village of four young men, namely, Messrs. B. B. Brown, J. E. Blanchard, O. M. Eaton and J. B. Howe. They have all been nurtured in the Sunday school, instructed in this church—in short, are a product of local Methodism, and the address read to them by the League's president, Miss Belle Wiltsie, while bidding them a kind farewell, expressed the hope that they would be so endowed as to achieve a large measure of success in the life work upon which they were entering. All were present excepting Mr. Howe, and they each made due acknowledgment of the honor thus conferred. Rev. Mr. Reynolds presided over the meeting, and the programme included a solo by Mr. Blanchard, a duet Misses Mabel Slack and Grace Wing, a trombone solo by Mr. Manhardt, and an address by Mr. Fisher. At the close, ice-cream and cake were served.
