JUDGE CENSURED JURY BUT THEY DIDN'T BUDGE

Found Abram not Guilty on all Charges and Maintained the Accuracy of Their Verdict—Judge and Crown Attorney Comp etely Non-plussed—His Honor Scores Them.

Another rather dramatic scene occurred in court to-day, when the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Rex vs Abram charged with burglarizing the Stephens' residence. The crown attorney evidently thought that it was shot without missing that Abram would be convicted. The judge charged very strongly against him, and it was thought the evidence was without a break.

When the foreman uttered the words "not guilty" the crown attorney looked petrified and the judge was equally dumfounded.

"Do you," said the crown attorney, "mean to say that you find the prisoner not guilty?"

"Yes," replied the foreman.

"What," said the crown attorney, "on both counts, that is of burglary in the night, and stealing in the daytime."

"Yes," replied the foreman. "Well," spoke up Judge Bell, "this is the most extraordinary verdict I ever heard after twenty years experience. Surely upon the evidence you do not acquit him of both charges. You better retire again and consider it." The looks of the foreman and his brother jurymen bespoke instant dejection, and they again retired for just a minute and promptly returned with the same verdict of "not guilty," and the majesty of the law had to be satisfied.

Abram is being held on another charge in connection with the George Stephens' burglary.

Mr. Kerr defended the prisoner and expressed the view that interfering with the verdict of a jury in this manner was a gross parody and outrage on the liberty of the subject. He took exception to the action as soon as the jury retired.

REX VS DAVID KRIBBS

This was a charge of indecent assault in which a young girl of fifteen years was complainant. After the close of the crown's case, Geo. G. Martin counsel for Kribbs, submitted that the case had been made out, and the court was very much of the same opinion, but allowed it to go to the jury on the question of a common assault.

Mr. Martin in a strong eloquent address covered the crown attorney's case with ridicule, much to the amusement of the court audience, and it took the jury just five minutes to acquit the prisoner.

REX VS ANDREW EPPERSON.

Epperson was then brought up and placed in the dock to face two serious charges as the result of the previous day's fracas.

Epperson is charged with murdering assaults upon Constables Cape and Thompson. He pleaded not guilty, and was ready for his trial.

Mr. Martin will volunteer to defend him and move to have his trial before a High Court Judge at the fall assizes, so that medical experts from Toronto and London will pass their opinion upon his sanity. The sessions will no doubt close to-day.

ENGINEER MUST BE BOSS OR RELINQUISH HIS JOB

Mr. McNab Places his Ultimatum Before the Civic Board of Works —an Amicable Settlement Arrived at — Other Business.

"Bet you a bottle of champagne!" It was the City Engineer, who uttered the deft, and he leaned across the table to Ald. Marshall, who presided.

The chairman modestly murmured something in connection with his long established and well known total prohibition principles.

But it was Ald. Pritchard's chance. He gurgled with compressed glee for a moment, gave a little preliminary complacent cough and leaned towards the man with the bluff.

"Let me see, Mac," he said. "Didn't you and I have a little bet about something?"

But the man of measure was game. "You bet we did. You won a hat from me all right, and you can get it any time at Stony's. I only impose one little condition. It's got to be one of those high flyers, like the Mayor's."

This little incident served, to pour oil upon the troubled waters and recapture the white pinioned omen of Peace that had temporarily taken to flight.

The City Engineer complained that he was hampered in his work by aldermen giving personal directions and comments. He emphatically declined to take orders from anyone except the committee or council in session. He was always gratified to have suggestions, but unless this rule was established in connection with orders, he would immediately place his resignation in the hands of the Board.

Ald. Monaghan said he had called the attention of the Engineer to what he considered an injustice in connection with the drawing of earth and work for the city's interests and would never sign a pay sheet unless the city had got one hundred cents worth of labor for the dollar expended. If he was not running matters in the city's interests, then the aldermen would be fools to keep him a moment.

Ald. Mounter said he had no desire to dictate but thought the Engineer had been unreasonable.

The matter was finally adjusted by a resolution setting forth that every contract must draw a ton or better and be provided with a blue tin badge with white number supplied by the Engineer.

The chairman, Ald. Marshall, whipped off his coat when he took his seat to preside over the deliberations of the civic Board of Works last evening. Ald. Pritchard followed suit, but Ald. Mounter took a seat by the open window and smiled serenely at his sweltering colleagues.

John Blake asked the privilege of cutting grass on Innes Ave. For the privilege of doing this he agreed to remove the weeds and thistles.

P. Kelly claimed he had drained his lot on Park Ave. into the ditch, where water was backing up. He asked relief.

Referred to City Engineer to report.

The act. of McKough & Trotter was referred to the engineer for certification.

Blonde Bros. and D. W. Crowe asked permission to lay sidewalk on the south side of Emma St.

Referred to Engineer.

The petition to reinstate Frank Hawke as street cleaner was referred to the Engineer to report.

He the communication from S. J. Delsen, asking city to co-operate with Raleigh in opening road at the extension of Lacroix St. to the 3rd concession. Ald. Marshall said the committee should first ascertain the cost and what Raleigh would do. The matter was left to be dealt with at a joint meeting of the committee and the representatives of the township, to be arranged by the chairman.

Ald. Marshall stated that he anticipated that the new sprinkler would be here by Wednesday next.

Relative to the communication of the Chatham Navigation Co. complaining of the danger arising by the extension of a livery stable over the banks of the river, the matter was referred to the Engineer.

Ald. Mounter drew attention to the unsightly condition of the river banks between the two bridges. He said it was bound to create an unfavorable impression in the minds of Maple City visitors.

Referred to Engineer.

The Engineer asked the Board to hasten the purchase of street signs. Ald. Marshall said that with the possibility of a high rate, it might be well to leave the matter in abeyance.

The Engineer—Pardon me, but what's going to cause this high rate of Ald. Marshall—That's a big question.

The Engineer—Well, as far as this department is concerned, I don't see where its going to come in. By comparison of figures in the purchase of lumber, sewer pipe, etc., and the 33 sheets, I find we are not spending 33 per cent of the amount we did before my regime.

Ald. Marshall—That is very gratifying.

The Chairman of the Board of Works Chatham:

Gentlemen—I herewith beg leave to submit the following report of work done since my last return.

CITY BOARD OF TRADE GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

Meeting Last Evening was Largely to Perfect Organization and Prepare for Active Work—Membership Fee Fixed at $2.

The second meeting of the Chatham Board of Trade was held in Harrison Hall last evening, and the business mainly was to perfect the organization and put it on a basis that will secure the co-operation of the business men. In consequence of the illness of the president, John Piggott, F. F. Quinn, vice-president, took the chair, and the secretary, W. R. Landon, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved.

As suggested at the former meeting, a deputation waited upon the City Council and permission was obtained to use the Council Chamber for meetings.

On motion of G. P. Scholfield the annual fee was fixed at $2.00.

John A. Morton seconded the motion and was gratified to find such a popular rate had been decided upon, and he advised that this amount should be promptly paid, and that no person should be eligible to take part in the discussions until they had obtained their receipt from the secretary.

Mr. Campbell moved that the Janitor be granted fifty cents for each meeting of the Board and of the Council.—Carried.
