

BRITISH SYSTEM IN CIVIL SERVICE

Professor Adam Short in Edmonton in Connection With Civil Service Reform.

Adam Short, LL.D., of Ottawa, chairman of the Dominion Civil Service Commission, was in city Monday on matters connected with the reorganization of the civil service system throughout the Dominion.

"The investigation which the commission conducted has led to a new method of qualification for a civil service appointment under the Dominion government," said Mr. Short to a Bulletin representative. "Formerly an appointment was made on the strength of political pull or personal friendship and sometimes no examination for qualification was required."

"Acting on the recommendation of the commission a system has been adopted whereby at stated periods of the commission from the various departments of the government for three grades of civil servants. The commission will at once advertise in the Official Gazette, that so many vacancies are to be filled, and examination papers will be set on which those desiring to qualify will be required to write. After the results of the examination are secured, a selection of the applicants will be made according to their merits and those who make the best standing will be appointed absolutely without any regard to any other consideration."

"A curriculum will have to be compiled, will there not?"

"Yes, a curriculum is in process of compilation," replied Mr. Short. "It will considerably elevate the standard of qualification, and will include a wide range of useful subjects. It will include subjects which will enable students to prepare for special positions which require more or less expert knowledge. The curriculum in the case of the province of Alberta will be put in the hands of the University and will be included in the subjects taught in the classrooms."

"It is to arrange for utilizing the machinery of the education department in the various provinces of the Dominion that brings Mr. Short to Edmonton. He wants to see the examination system."

WARNING SOUNDED TO WEST AGAINST CORPORATION INVASION

President Ward at Ninth Annual Convention of Union of Canadian Municipalities at Medicine Hat Tells West to Profit by East's Experience—Lieut.-Governor Welcomes Delegates—Refers to Enterprising American Securing Plums in West.

Medicine Hat, July 26.—The ninth convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities was set in motion today. Sixty delegates are in attendance. The morning session opened at eleven and immediately adjourned until two to allow the executive to arrange the program to work in with the local arrangements for the entertainment of the delegates. The members of the executive are: President J. J. Ward, controller, Toronto; first vice-president, Cochrane, Blanchard, Man.; Hon. secretary, treasurer, W. D. T. Hall, K.C., ex-Mayor of Westmont, Que.; J. H. McGuire, Toronto; Mayor Patterson, Galt, Ont.; Mayor Stevely, London; G. McCreedy, Fredericton; N. B. B. Mayor, Champe, Lachine, Que.; J. McCord, Blanchard, Man.; Mayor Evans, Winnipeg; Mayor, Bridge, Portage la Prairie; Mayor Kearney, New Westminster, B.C.; Mayor Milne and W. Cousins, Medicine Hat; Mayor Jamieson, Calgary; Mayor McAlra, Regina; Mayor Chisholm, Halifax; Ex-Mayor Grisham, Edmonton.

In addition to the members of the executive present the following members have registered: Mayor Hopkins, Alderman Alexander and City Auditor Carson, Saskatoon; Mayor Elliott, Galt, Ont.; J. G. Harney, Winnipeg; J. Kelso Hunter, Regina; Col. Ivins, Reeve of Wallace, Man.; Dr. Thompson, reeve of Assiniboine, Man.; Reeve Melbridge and Alderman Jeffrey, Portage la Prairie; Ald. McMillan, Vancouver, B.C.; Mayor Lee and K. L. McNis, Edmonton; W. N. Evanson, Winnipeg; H. Bragg, G. S. Wilson, Montreal; J. N. Bayne, Regina; J. E. Hopkins, Moose Jaw; Mayor Kyrle, Brockville, Ont.; Mayor Geddes, Calgary; City Engineer, Arnold and Secretary Treasurer White, Lethbridge; W. R. Archibald, Dominion Parole Officer, Ottawa; Mayor Campbell, Langton, Sask.; Mayor, St. Boniface, Man.; Ald. McMillan, Vancouver; Controller Harrison, Toronto; Ald. McGhie, Toronto; John T. Hall, secretary Alberta Union of Municipalities; Ald. Hornby and Ald. King, Calgary; D. Miller, Mayor of Medicine Hat.

Lieut. Governor Welcomes Delegates. The session was formally opened at two o'clock in the afternoon when President J. J. Ward, controller of Toronto, introduced Lieut. Governor Bulyn, who, on behalf of the government of Alberta, welcomed the delegates to the province. His welcome he stated was addressed more particularly to the visitors from the east as he was assured they would realize as never before the resources which were here awaiting development and upon which even now the capital accrues the line to the westward, he regretted that the delegates did not have time to drive out through the country, as uniformly the most fruitful land was not always found close to the railway.

However, he hoped all had noticed that the latest estimate placed on the crop of the present year, namely 128,000,000 bushels and, as only one fifth of the arable land was under cultivation, some idea may be formed of the possibilities of the west when further developments followed.

The crop and horse raising industry was also referred to as well as the natural gas in the Medicine Hat area and the coal which underlies the whole province.

The City's Welcome. Mayor Milne, of Medicine Hat, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the city. His reference to the fact that the city had adopted the principle of municipal ownership was received with applause. Mayor Hopewell, of Ottawa, and Mayor Chisholm, rephased on behalf of the delegates after which the meeting adjourned to attend a luncheon at the Hotel. On re-assembling at five o'clock the members read the annual report of President Ward. He argued that the new cities of the west take advantage of the experience of the older cities in the east so as to combat successfully the encroachments of corporations whose obvious office is to invade public rights. He warned the newer municipalities to be on the alert against the granting of concessions which would eventually militate against the growth and development of their cities.

The matter of adopting a system of uniform municipal accounting throughout the Dominion was strongly endorsed in the address which also contained an interesting resume of the work of the union since its inception.

Another Warning to West. W. D. Lighthall, honorary secretary, presented his report, which dealt in a commendatory spirit with acquisitions of telephone systems by various governments, the creation of public utility boards in Quebec and Nova Scotia, and the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board and the Hydro-Electric Commission of the same province. The west was warned never to sell or cede a water power or any resource outside of farm lands.

The report of the official organ "The Municipal Journal" also proved most interesting as presented by H. Bragg, managing editor.

Encouraging reports from the affiliated provincial unions were received as follows: Manitoba, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick. W. D. Lighthall, of Westmont, introduced most capably the discussion on the question of municipal accounting and advised every delegate had something to say regarding the faults and advantages of the individual systems followed in the municipalities which were represented.

The session adjourned at half past ten o'clock to witness the novel sight of seeing a six hundred pound, rock pressed gas well out loose and fired, the country was illuminated for miles around by the glare and some of the delegates were rather startled by the exhibition.

GLACE BAY MINES MAINTAIN OUTPUT

Public Opinion Divided as to Result of Great Coal Strike—No Strikers Have Yet Returned to Work—Company Evicts Polish Workers From Homes.

Glance Bay, N.S., July 26.—Nearly three weeks of the coal mines strike have passed and public opinion is still divided as to the results. Each party has labored strenuously and each has left not one untarnished checkmate or discredit the efforts of the other. All attention appears centered on the question of the output.

Friday and Saturday shipments were reported at ten thousand tons and over. Out of this five thousand six hundred tons came from the Banks, which brings the output from the mines to about five thousand. A large number of men have been brought from outside. Every department is working hard and coal is being mined, hoisted and rushed to the shipping piers. The daily output is the result of a rush and considerable makeshift. The daily increase from the mines in nineteen days of the strike is over two thousand tons, but the mine workers decline to concede these figures. They claim that so far no strikers of any consequence have returned to work.

Large Relief Fund Appropriated. The headquarters of the International Mine Workers appropriated about twenty thousand dollars a week for the relief of the miners and their families. The relief fund is based on an all-Canadian union, but so far the United Mine Workers will not listen to such a proposition. The relief fund is based on an all-Canadian union, but so far the United Mine Workers will not listen to such a proposition. The relief fund is based on an all-Canadian union, but so far the United Mine Workers will not listen to such a proposition.

Can't Agree on Arbitration. Saskatoon, July 26.—C. Stephenson and A. Smith, respective representatives of the labor men and the city on the board of conciliation between the city and the laborers, failed to agree on a third member, and have advised the board of their failure. Stephenson wanted the deputy minister of the secretary of the department of labor, while Smith selected ex-chief Justice Maguire.

DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL. Verdict of Jury in Green Inquest at Saskatoon.

Saskatoon, Sask., July 26.—"We, the undersigned jury, find that Edward George Green came to his death by accident, falling from the C. N. R. bridge over the Saskatoon river, on Thursday night, July 22nd."

The coroners jury deliberated in the above verdict at 9:30 tonight, after being out ten minutes. No evidence was produced to show a motive of foul play, and the jury passed the verdict that the man was last seen, so death must have been accidental. The remains left last evening for London, Ont., and a service was conducted at the station by the Modern Woodmen.

N.T.R. Entrance to Winnipeg. Ottawa, July 26.—The application of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission regarding the entrance to Winnipeg and the consequent cost of the C.N.R. tracks, was to have come before the railway commission this afternoon, but very little of the time was taken up by the commission, and the matter was postponed to a later date.

Harold's Manager Coming to Canada. London, July 27.—Lord Strathcona is expected to arrive in Quebec by the Empress of Canada August 13th. Many distinguished scientists are sailing by the same boat, also Richard Burbridge, a well-known Canadian geologist, and London's biggest and most progressive emporium. It is understood that Burbridge has important industrial objects in touring through Canada to the Pacific.

LOGICAL ECZEMA CURE. EMPLOYED BY PHYSICIANS. After treating eczema for years as a practically incurable blood disease, the medical world is greatly interested in the discovery that it is not a blood disease at all, but is due to a parasite in the skin itself. This parasite is easily destroyed by the external application of a compound of oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc. This will quickly kill the eczema germs, white soothing and refreshing the skin.

Mrs. Henry Harvey, of Black Lake, Que., tells how she was cured after ten years of suffering.

"I had been a sufferer from facial eczema for about ten years. I was treated unsatisfactorily by several doctors and remedied. About two years ago I saw D.D.D. advertised. I at once decided to try it. I bought a bottle and used it. It cured me in a couple of weeks, and I have not had it since. D.D.D. has been a god-send to me as well as many others."

No matter how terribly you suffer from eczema, salt rheum, ringworm, itchy skin, or any other skin disease, the fish oil of wintergreen compound is applied. The cure all seem to be permanent.

For free sample bottle write to D.D.D. Laboratories, Department B.D.D., 25 Jarvis St., Toronto.

For sale by all druggists.

THE ROYAL TRUST CO.

MONTREAL

Capital fully paid $1,000,000
Reserve Fund $300,000

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Right Hon. Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, G. G. M. G.

President.

Hon. Sir George Drummond, K.C.M.G., Vice-President.

Sir H. Montagu Allan, Sir W.C. Macdonald, R. B. Angus, Hon. R. Mackay, Sir Edward Clouston, A. Macdonald, Sir T. G. Shaughnessy, K.C.V.O., Sir W. G. Van Horne, K.C.M.G., Sir T. G. Shaughnessy, K.C.V.O., Sir W. G. Van Horne, K.C.M.G.

Money to Loan on Improved Farms.

Edmonton Agency—Bank of Montreal Building.

E. C. PARDEE, Agent.

MEXICO POLITICAL RIOTS

Two Killed, Score Injured and 200 Arrests Made in Guadalajara.

Mexico City, July 26.—More than 200 arrests were made, a score or more people were injured, including two Americans, and two were killed in political riots in Guadalajara yesterday and last night. The riot was the most serious that has occurred in Mexico in years and it looked on as significantly by those who have closely followed the political situation. The official press says that it was planned and carried out by the Democratic party, known as the Rojista party, from the name of its candidate for vice-president, General Bernardo Reyes, formerly minister of war in Diaz's cabinet and now governor of Nuevo Leon.

The riots started yesterday when a mob broke up a meeting in the Delgado Theatre, called in the interest of Porfirio Diaz, the president, and Ramon Corral, vice-president, for re-election. Speakers who are campaigning in the interest of Diaz and Corral, using a special train, were received unceremoniously when they arrived at Guadalajara. On the way to the Delgado Theatre they were hoisted and jeered by the throngs gathered along the sidewalk, who shouted: "Down with Diaz, we want Reyes."

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass window in the downtown quarter was destroyed.

At the theatre, the crowds refused to allow the speakers to speak, and driving them from the stage by hurling paper wads and an occasional stone. When the party emerged from the building they were stoned. Leon Rojas, a prominent lawyer, was stoned on the sidewalk and severely injured. Automobiles, street cars and carriages, in which the campaigners rode, were also stoned and every bit of glass in the vehicles was smashed. The mob grew bolder and wilder and nearly every plate glass