WAYFARER TOWED TO PORT.

LONDON, April 12. The Harrison Line steamer Wayfarer has been torpedoed by a German submarine, while off the Scilly Islands. Although considerably damaged, the crew managed to keep her afloat. She was taken in tow and reached Queenstown, where she was beached this afternoon.

CASUALTIES AT NEUVE-CHAPPELLE.

LONDON, April 12. Including 23 killed, 683 names were added to the previous list of losses in the fighting at Neuve Chapelle last month. This brings the total casualties in this engagement to 7,214. Of this number 2,074 were killed.

FIRST DOCKERS' BATTALION.

LIVERPOOL, April 12. The First Dockers' Battalion, 850 strong, paraded in uniform before Lord Derby, their commander, today, and then marched between lines of cheering crowds to the docks to begin work.

The Best Remedy for Weak Backs.

THAT IS WHAT JAMES FAIR SAYS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Manitoba Man Tells Why Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Become a Household Remedy all over the Western Prairies.

Melton, Man., April 12th. (Special). Just why Dodd's Kidney Pills are so popular on the prairies is shown by the statement of Mr. James Fair, a well known farmer living near here. "I was out in the field harrowing and when I came in to get my dinner I found the fire out and everything cold for I am bathing. I had a distressing pain across my kidneys at the time and I was discouraged. I just went and threw myself on the bed.

"Then I thought of Dodd's Kidney Pills and took some and I felt better at once.

"Now when I am tired out and have a pain in my back I always look for Dodd's Kidney Pills. I must say to all who suffer from weak backs that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best remedy in the world for them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a household remedy all over the Western prairies. They only cure sick kidneys, but many diseases come from sick kidneys. By curing the kidneys Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Backache, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Dropsy, Bright's Disease and kindred diseases.

Obituary.

WM. H. GALLIVAN.

After a prolonged illness the death occurred on Sunday of Wm. H. Gallivan, a well known young man in the East End. Deceased was in his 40th year and for a long period worked in the grocery store of Mr. J. J. St. John, but owing to failing health had to give up work eighteen months ago. He was a prominent member of the T. A. and B. Society and also a Guardian of the Juvenile Branch. He is survived by a widow and other relatives to whom much sympathy is extended.

CAPTURE OF MAGDALA, 1868. Chief town of Abyssinia, the ruler of which seized many English subjects and imprisoned them because of a fancied slight from England. A force under Sir Robert Napier was despatched and captured the town on this date.

SIR W. Q. ORCHARDSON died 1910, aged 75. An eminent R.A., whose subject pictures and portraits gained him a high reputation.

DRASTIC STEPS appear to have been taken by the German authorities, to deal with their shortage of metals. Everything which can be melted down and turned into shells or bullets is finding its way to Krupp's. The German clockmakers in the Black Forest were early warned that all their stocks of brass, copper, pewter, nickel, antimony, aluminum and lead, manufactured and otherwise would be sequestered. With regard to the clockmakers, the "Süddeutsche Uhrmacher Zeitung" points out lugubriously that a society of British clock manufacturers has set out to make cheap clocks. It is therefore highly probable that the German clockmakers have seen the last of a trade which produces something like 33 million marks a year. The German housewife must contribute to Krupp's her superfluous pots and pans. A German who is wounded and a prisoner in England received the other day a letter from his aged mother, who announced proudly that she, too, is to be "decorated" because she has presented all her kitchen utensils to the munition makers. Speaking on the requisition of metal a well known man indicated the extent to which the order was to be carried out. The lead roofing, he said, would be stripped not only from the churches in the invaded districts, but also from the places of worship in Germany, while metal statues and monuments are also to be thrown in to the melting pot.

Objects to Attacks.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Night after night the public is treated to a dish of abuse of Mr. Gosling by a writer who signs himself James Murphy, and while public men are in every country considered first-rate targets for the "bullets" of quill drivers, still there is always some real cause for attacks, but in Mr. Murphy's case there seems to be no specific charge of wrong doing on Mr. Gosling's part but rather an outburst of hate due no doubt to some imaginary personal grievance of the writer in question. We have seen good men driven from public life in this country by small minded men who glory in heaping abuse upon those who do their best for the land we live in and if this abuse is permitted to go on unchecked and if sore heads are allowed to pour forth their wrath on every one who undertakes the burden of public work we will soon reach the stage wherein it will be impossible to get gentlemen to undertake such work. If Mr. Murphy has a personal grievance with the Civic Commission he should go about it in the right way to have it fixed up. But to follow his present course of attacks is an insult to the intelligence of the community and only makes him appear ridiculous in the eyes of thoughtful people. Some individuals when they get an inch generally take a mile and this appears true in Mr. Murphy's case. A little bit of serious thought given to public matters by writers of Mr. Murphy's stamp would be beneficial to them, for they would then perhaps begin to realize that the tasks which public men, such as Mr. Gosling, have to perform are very arduous and can be made a great deal more congenial and more beneficial if assistance were given instead of knocking down which is so much in evidence in this country today. Let me ask has Mr. Murphy ever accomplished anything that would make it appear that he is one whose criticism counts for anything, or is he only a kicker who is never happy only when he is ajaping his ability to the disgust of the public who are bored by his nightly ravings. Yours truly, COMMON SENSE.

As Seen by the Pugilist.

Mike Gibbons, the noted middle-weight, was one of those at the ring side at Havana and he says:

Willard won cleanly. There was no fluke about it. I saw the blow, or rather the two blows, that did the business for Johnson. It was a straight right to the jaw which followed a short right to the body. Johnson went down like he had been hit with a piece of lead pipe. Up to the 15th round it looked like a 2-to-1 shot that Johnson would pull it off, despite the plain fact that he was not as fresh as he had been. In the 19th Willard gave conclusive evidence that he was not going to be worn down by the negro. He seemed more confident than he had been earlier in the game.

It was in the 21st that Johnson's downfall became evident. He worked during this and for the next three rounds on the defensive. He seemed to think he was going to fool Jess with his stalling, but it was plain that when he did try to land his blows lacked steam. The "golden smile," too, which had been much in evidence earlier, also was lacking. The 25th found him solemn and much worried. He did not seem to be able to make any headway at all, while Jess was getting more aggressive every minute and evidently had not yet called upon his reserve of strength. Plainly it was only a question of time before one of the blows landed and settled it. Then came the end in the 26th.

WILLARD'S COMMENTS.

Willard, the new champion, said after the fight:

I followed my own ideas throughout the 26 rounds, and knew all the time that it was only necessary for me to fight with extreme care in the early stages, or until I found just what Johnson possessed.

I quickly decided that his blows lacked steam. I do not believe I felt one of his punches excepting momentarily. He tried all his famous blows right at the outset, but they never teased me. I was not even jarred by any one of them. This came first as a surprise, but afterward gave me just the confidence I needed.

I never hurried, but waited patiently until he had worn himself out trying to put me away, and then I turned loose all my strength in that one right-hand swing—the blow that won me the championship.

I want to say for Johnson that I never have fought a cleaner man. Not once did he resort to foul tactics; but, on the contrary, he tried always to make it a good clean fight. He has been the most criticized champion that ever lived, but I certainly found him a white man in the ring.

Willard declared he was not sore about the body, but one of the toes of his left foot was slightly sprained and swollen from a twist. Johnson must have known this, for constantly during the fight he kept extending his left foot until he could just press down on Willard's left toes.

Willard's home is in Los Angeles, where his wife and his four children the eldest 7 years old, reside. Mrs. Willard is a native of Topeka, Kansas; they were married in 1907.

JOHNSON TALKS.

Havana, April 6.—Jack Johnson made his first appearance on the street at noon. He was dressed with his customary brilliancy, and he tried to smile, but it was evident, the loss of the title cut deeply.

Johnson said he was at no time seriously hurt. He just burned out and was weak and could neither hit nor resist punishment in the final rounds.

"I am going to follow a plan I have laid in mind for some time," the former champion said, referring to his future. "I shall settle on a farm in France after the war and be a gentleman farmer. I shall live the rest of my life easy. There will be no more fighting, no attempts to regain the title."

The former champion had several conferences to-day with promoters who want to buy his fifty per cent. interest in the moving pictures of the contest. The negro says he has been offered $200,000. He insists his interest is worth more, and he says he will not sell. There are indications, however, that he will.

Johnson offers no excuses. He thought himself good, but it was the old story of age, and he was not there. He said Willard was a fine fellow, a powerful blitzer and game. He is too big, Johnson declared, for the average sized heavyweight ever to defeat.

The promoters to-day finished the counting the gate receipts. They announced to-night that the battle drew $110,000, and that the attendance was 33,000.

NO MOTION PICTURES.

Washington, April 7.—Persons who had hoped to see the Willard-Johnson fight in motion picture will be disappointed. It was recalled here to-day that a Federal statute expressly forbids not only the inter-State transportation of fight films, but the importation of such films from foreign countries. It provides a fine of $1,000 and imprisonment for one year, or both for each offense.

The Boys of the 1st and 2nd Contingent.

Last night Rossley's was so packed that hundreds were unable to gain admission, and the praise for the great Ballard Brown and Miss Madge Locke was well deserved, for they are the finest artists ever brought to St. John's City. They both have magnificent voices, and their great sketch last night was applauded to the echo; their costumes are also beautiful, direct from the King's Theatre, Glasgow. The one-act comedy sketch "Paddy," is the finest ever seen. The pictures of the Regatta, 1st and 2nd contingents were also loudly applauded, and to see those gallant lads marching down to the wharf, on board the Neptune then on board the Dominion, brought the tears to many eyes. Every body must see these fine pictures, and the greatest-artists that is in the business to-day. Don't forget the go-as-you-please competition Friday night for all over 14 years; on Saturday for the children; for the adults three big prizes; three prizes also for the children.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

Knitting Bee.

Yesterday afternoon, the Knitting Bee was held by the Girls' Guild of the Methodist College, and was attended with much success. An enjoyable programme of recitations, vocal and piano solos were rendered by Misses Daley, Herder, Ayre and Joyce. Teas were served by those who promoted the affair. The proceeds will be devoted to the funds of the College. To the promoters Mrs. R. A. Squires, the President, and the other members of the Guild, the success of the event is mainly due.
