German Agents Jailed

By Police of "Frisco"—Indicted on Charge of Conspiracy to Destroy Commerce.

San Francisco, Dec. 13.—Baron Geo. Wilhelm von Brincken, an attaché of the German consulate here; C. C. Crowley, a detective employed by the consulate; and Margaret Cornell, who was in Crowley's employ, were indicted to-day by the grand jury on two counts each. The first count charges conspiracy to interfere with and destroy commerce between the several states of the union, and the United States and foreign countries; the second charges use of the mails to incite arson, assassination and murder. Bail was fixed at $5,000 on each count in the indictments. Counsel for the defendants, all of whom have been arrested previously, promised to appear in court to-morrow.

Baron von Brincken and Crowley were previously charged in commissioners warrants with conspiracy to interfere with and destroy commerce. They have been at liberty on $10,000 bail. The statute upon which the second count is based was discovered by Mrs. A. A. Adams, who, at the time of her appointment was said to be the only woman deputy United States attorney.

The over acts set forth in the indictments were not disclosed to-night. It was charged at the time of Crowley's arrest, on Nov. 26 that he was a directing agent in German plots to destroy by fire and dynamite, ships bearing munitions to Great Britain, France and Russia. An explosion of a barge of dynamite in Seattle Harbor last May was charged to him by government agents.

Von Koolbergen, a San Francisco civil engineer, was reported to be in custody in western Canada, and it was thought he would be brought here to testify. His testimony, it was said to-day, would be most startling.

Federal agents said to-day that they had already connected alleged Pacific coast conspirators with forty explosions.

Grand Complexion Improver! Better Than Cosmetics

When it's so easy to bring back the bloom of youth to faded cheeks, when skin disfigurements can be removed, isn't it foolish to plaster on cosmetics?

Go to the root of the trouble—remove the cause—correct the condition that keeps you from looking as you ought. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and very soon you'll have a complexion to be proud of. How much happier you'll feel—pimples gone, cheeks rosy again, eyes bright, spirits good, joyous health again returned. Never a failure with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, get a 25c. box to-day.

If you wish to wear your new gown for six months and have it in fashion, be careful not to fashion it with the present exaggerated full skirt and nipped-in waist, for fashion whispers a change.

RED CROSS SHIPS.—Owing to the delay in the handling of freight there, the s.s. Stephano is not expected to get away from Halifax for this port before this evening; she is bringing a full cargo. The s.s. Florizel is supposed to be leaving New York to-day with freight and passengers for West Indian ports.

FROM GALLIPOLI.—Sergt. C. Duley writing to his father from Gallipoli on Nov. 1st, says that he was that day busy distributing shirts and socks, tobacco and comforts to the men. Evidently the shipments reached the Peninsula at the end of October and were being promptly distributed.

PROHIBITION COMMITTEE.—Owing to the small attendance at last night's meeting of the general prohibition committee, it was decided that the closing meeting be postponed until the second Monday in January next. In the absence of Dr. Mossell, Mr. W. White presided and the minutes of the previous meeting were read. Addresses were made by the Secretary, and Messrs. Martin, Coughlan and Pope.

PRESENTATION.—A pleasing presentation took place at the Armory yesterday afternoon when the men of No. 13 and 14 Platoons waited on Sergt. Williamson, and presented him with a walking stick and cigarette holder as an appreciation of his services on their behalf. The presentation was made by Instr. Hussey who on behalf of the men extended warmest greetings to the recipient who replied in fitting terms.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES COLDS, &c.

The Farmer.

By GEORGE FITCH,

Author of "At Good Old Swash."

Fellow citizens, when we have unhooked ourselves from the street car strap to-night, and have seated ourselves comfortably in the library of our cozy flat, with one elbow in the bath-room and a foot sticking out into the parlor, let us devote a few moments to pity for the poor farmer far, far from city joys.

The farmer tills the soil and raises crops and whisks and future captains of industry. He is a hard-working man and has few joys. Very early in the morning he must get up to see that the hired men do not oversleep. He cannot sit down on a high stool and order coffee and doughnuts with a careless air. He must wait until his wife has gotten up, and has lighted the gasoline stove, and has cooked bacon and ham and eggs and corn bread and hash and potatoes and gravy, and has warmed up some beans and chicken and roast beef, and stewed corn and has mixed up four gallons of cake batter. Many farmers almost starve to death waiting for breakfast.

A farmer cannot sit down in a comfortable chair after breakfast, and talk to a pretty stenographer all morning either. He must harness his team and ride 111 times around a 160-acre field on a hard iron seat. The farmer has a whole barn full of red, white, blue and green and yellow chickens, all with iron seats, and his is indeed a hard life. Many a farmer has to lift sole his overalls with leather three times during the long summer.

When the farmer has finished his field, he cannot rush off to the moving-picture show and stay until one o'clock. He has got to go in and read his paper. Farmers do not get their morning papers until ten o'clock. And yet we murmur sometimes at our lot in the city.

The farmer cannot go to a baseball game in the afternoon either. As soon as he has finished digesting his dinner on the lounge, he must mend a leak in his acetylene lighting plant, and put a new pipe in the piano and repair a tire on his touring car, so that he can drive into town and get potatoes and ice-cream for supper. And after supper, he cannot spend a peaceful evening on the front porch watching the cars go by. He must drive his family into town to the church social, and he must get a bushel of graphophone records, and must hunt up the stock buyer and trade him a fat pig for a new sideboard, and a patent washing machine. And likewise he will have to get out of his automobile and go home on the interurban, because his daughter's best young man is home from college and wants to come out and spend the evening teaching her how to play billiards.

If it were not for the farmer we would all starve. So let us drop a tear for him and pity him as he toils far out in the country, where the fire engines never pass by.

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."

"That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylex at your druggists."

DOING GOOD.

We all are bent on doing good, when it's not too expensive; when coin is asked, it's understood, we're all on the defensive. With helpful word a n d kindly smile, I trot around the village, but if you'd touch my little pile, I talk of graft and pillage. I weep for those afflicted Serbs, who wade in blood and slaughter; not all your consolation curbs the flow of briny water. But when I'm asked to loosen up, to help to buy some fritters, so all those hungry Serbs may sup, you find me with the gutters. I mourn for 'those heroic Poles, whom Fate is always beating, who tighten up their belts three holes whenever they think of eating. For mourning doesn't cost a cent, and tears are cheap as blazes, and any sympathetic gent can hand out feeling phrases. But when I'm asked to spill a bean, to buy the Poles a dinner, I say "I need for gasoline my coin, as I'm a sinner!"

YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS

There is a large class of parents who are positively brutal with their little ones. Instead of using reason with a child, instead of being self-controlled and patient, they plant dread in the plastic mind, and though they may not know it, these nervous shocks in early life account for many a mental wreck in later years.

A child quickly comes to understand reason, if reason is applied. He is keenly receptive to truths, and to right ways of doing things. He deserves to have mysteries explained to him. He is entitled to legitimate reasons when he is told that he must not do certain things. It is unfair to insist that he must not commit some act solely because his parent told him not to.

Everyday Etiquette.

"A friend secured me an invitation for a reception she was anxious for me to meet. As I could not go it is necessary for me to call on the hostesses," asked Della.

"Whether you attend the reception or not, you should call upon the hostesses within two weeks after the date of the entertainment," advised her mother.

The most fashionable coiffures are high.

Fads and Fashions.

Even silk or brocade handbags are now being trimmed with fur to match the gown.

Beware of buying extremely short skirts; the fashion may change to moderately long.

Collars high in the back and open in front are in greater favor than those high all round.

A sort of knitted stockinet called tweed is a delightfully elastic material for golfing suits.

The loose full coat is kindest of all to the feminine figure, not to mention being very smart.

Sleeves are almost the most important part of a dress, so elaborate and interesting are they.

The little sister must have a dame frock, and it can be ruffled upon ruffles from head to foot.

All kinds of feathered fans are in favor; there are even fans of black velvet, trimmed with ermine.

Velvet is an ideal material for three-piece novelty costume, the corsage being mostly of chiffon.

Wee tots should have muffs, and pretty ones can be made at home with a piece of silk and a few strips of fur.

Afternoon frocks may be a combination of light and heavy material, but the self-color is followed throughout.

If one wishes, one may wear gloves with the evening gown; if one does not wish it, one may go gloveless.

Novelty buttons in gold, silver, enamel and jeweled effects are a smart finishing touch on the new gowns.

The toque altogether of soft plumage, with upstanding wings at the sides, is one of the prettiest of millinery fashions.

You may make up grandmother's gay plaid shawl into a fashionable separate skirt with fringe around the bottom. Such a skirt is good with an old sports coat.

Hand Sewing Machines, $10.50 each; Foot Sewing Machines, $25.00 each. BOWRING BROS. Hardware.—decl:tf

It is an economical idea to have printer suits of mole-colored duvetyn, with the fur-trimmed three-quarters coat cut long enough to wear separately over their frocks.
