PROFESSOR ROBERTSON'S MES Prof. Robertson, speaking of the Algoma

Exhibition, said: Exhibition, said:

"The farmers must not depend upon Government to legislate good times. These come from the persevering, self-reliant application of industry with skill, the practicing of economical frugality, fair dealing between man and man and the blessing of Providence. These make the national policy for the farmers which shall never fail to realize to the full extend all that can be predicted of it."

This reminder by the Dominion dairy expert is timely. It comes at a time when Congress in London is a collection of tools used by workmen in building the pyramids of Egypt. They were gathered and are exhibited by the illustrious Egyptologist, Mr. Flinders Petrie. These utensils indicate that ancient workmen had an astonishing acquaintance with many tools which we have been accustomed to consider essentially modern. Among the exhibits are solid and tubular corundum-tipped drills and straight and circular saws and chisels described as "not a bit inferior to those now used." This reminder by the Dominion dairy expert is timely. It comes at a time when the system of taxing men with the alleged purpose of making them rich has been proved to be a fraud. Yet, notwithstanding this outcome of the policy of high taxation, the people of Canada are told that there must be no change, that it is an essential to the national welfare that combines shall be sustained and that come bines shall be sustained, and that come what may the men in power at Ottawa will stand by the interests of the combines as against the interests of the consumer every

If, as Prof. Robertson told the farmers of Algoma, and we believe truthfully, no Government can legislate good times for Government can legislate good the starmer, how can the farmers who have been supporting the high tax policy in Canada continue to indorse it? We know of many of them who took Sir John Machanian who was their word in donald and his associates at their word in donald and his associates at their 1878. Then, the message to the farmers was not, as now, "Do not depend upon the Government for good times; be frugal, self-reliant, persevering, deal fairly and trust to Providence."

The bait which was held out to the agriculturists in 1878 was far more alluring, if founded upon falsehood. They were told that it was the duty of governments to increase the price of wheat, of barley, of horses, of cattle, and of every farm product, norses, or eattle, and of every farm product, and the political charlatans said they would do that with ease, provided they had the opportunity to "readjust" the taxation. The readjustment took place. What has been the result? Have these A GREAT DIFFERENCE.
[Hamitton Times.]
The Ontario Government does not give away timber limits. It sells them to the highest bidders. Down at Ottawa needy politicians make boodle out of them. What has been the result? Have these thimbleriggers carried out their part of the contract? By no means; not only has the price of farm products gone down, but the price of necessaries of life have been advanced, if we take into account the prices of the world at the prices of the world at the prices of the world at the prices. current in the markets of the world at the respective periods. And when the farmers go to the Government and ask for a remedy the lymphatic Minister of Agriculture, knowing that a general election is yet some distance off, sends Prof. Robertson to them with a message that means: "We lied to you when we said we means: "We lied to you when we said we could, by legislation, increase the price of your products. We cannot do it. If you wish to improve your lot, you must bear your burdens as best you can. You must work hard, rely on yourselves, and trust to Providence." And the organ of the Minister follows we this advice with a disyour burdens as best you can. You must work hard, rely on yourselves, and trust to Providence." And the organ of the Minister follows up this advice with a dissertation on the way in which farmers live, It finds tault with them for objecting to being fleeced for the benefit of the combines and in order that their hard or granius may be squandered by combines and in order that their hard combines and in order that their hard won earnings may be aquandered by Caron, Haggart, Paterson & Co., who have frittered away millions of dolars of the people's money in the most reprehensible way. Not contented with berating them for their discontent, this organ of them for their discontent, this organ of their figs proceeds to lecture the farmers for wearing too good ciothes, for buying sewing machines, and for seeking to elevate their musical tastes by the purchase of such instruments as they may choose. Away with such extravagencies! cries this apologist for high taxation, and you will be far more comfortable, and be patriotic enough to stand all the taxation that may, in the lost of the

to stand all the taxation that may, in the sisdom of your rulers at Ottawa, be laid upon your backs.

The Canadian farmer now knows what to expect from the "protective" system. He am indorse it, and continue to countenance the methods by which the value of every item of farm produce that he sends out is curtailed through the tax on the goods that have to be imported in payment therefor. He can adopt the suggestion of the newspaper apologist of this system, and out down his bill for decent clothing and for those aids to happiness which ought to be his under a fair system of taxation. He can make his sons and daughters dislike am make his sons and daughters dislike and his out the most meagre of salaries.

CANADA'S RELATIONS WITH THE U. S. [From the Wock.]

We stand for an even, straightforward, friendly course, free from marks of irritation or dislike, on the part of Canada, first two Anglo-Saxon peoples are anchored side by side for all the future, we hold that whatever tends to make or perpetuate bad blood between them on the part of either, is a crime against both and against humanity.

NOT ONE LAW FOR ALL.

[Canada Presbyterian.]

A little over a year ago Canada was seized with a spasm of political virtue, and something was done in the way of unearthing the corruption that threatened the life cut down his bill for decent clothing and for those aids to happiness which ought to be his under a fair system of taxation. He can make his sons and daughters dislike farm life still more by cutting off the agencies that tend to elevate and ennoble their lives. Or he can work and vote to remove those artificial hindrances to his prosperity that are imposed to his prejudice in order that the millionaire owners of combines may prosper and subscribe liberially to the election funds of the men who are practically owned, body and bones, by them.

The tarmer is a fool who is not able to nake an intelligent choice between the agencies that tend to elevate and ennoble their lives. Or he can work and vote to remove those artificial hindrances to his UNORGANIZED good intentions and idle patriotic aspirations cannot successfully contend with the compact forces of private interests and greed.—[Grover Cleveland.

This is a great truth tersely put. It may be applied not only to economic but moral reforms. Private interests and greed will always organize, but they cannot be combatted by men who are unorganized, no matter how good their intentions or how patriotic their aspirations. It is a patriotic sin for any honest man to hold aloof from a movement having tor its object the combatting of those who are working to promote private interests and satisfy greed at the expense of the people. Such men there are, nevertheless. They case their consciences by professing to look upon public movements, either defensive or offensive, as "dirty politics." What would be the condition of the country if every good citizens were to hold aloof from public affairs on a similar plea?

LABOR MATTERS. BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The announcement from New York that there is to be another strike of Central Railroad switchmen has created a great deal of talk among the local switchmen. They will not admit or deny that they have had any word regarding a strike, but intimate that it may not be very far away. The Central people here do not credit the reports of another strike, and say the Buffalo switchmen are broken so badly that they cannot ever carry on another strike. From what can be gathered from the switchmen, it is understood that if there is to be another strike it will start in New York, extend rapidly to Albany and thence to Buffalo nd west along the entire Vanderbilk lines.

The graduating class of 1893 of the Baltimore Medical College have passed a resolution declaring that as English-speaking peoples are the possessors of the most perfect of all languages evolved in the progress of humanity, and as the use of a foreign language, living or dead, in the functions of English-speaking peoples is "a silly, conceited, and pedantic anachronism" the executive committee of the class of 1893 "is directed to employ no language but the English in all the functions of the class and in all decorations and mottoes which may be displayed or used in the course of these functions." These physicians will write their prescriptions in English. Fatal Collision in India. AUBURN, Ind., Oct. 17.—A disastrous col-lision occurred near here yesterday on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. In an operation performed not long at the Orthopædic Hospital, ago at the Orthopædic Hospital, Philadelphia, the patient under treatment, a woman suffering from epilepsy, had attacks which showed them selves in her thumbs. The operating surgeon removed a part of the brain, which was causing all the trouble. At last reports the woman's attacks had ceased, and with her head still bound up she was moving cheerfully about the hospital wards. A convalescent epileptic is so rarely known to surgery that the apparent recovery of this patient is triumpn enough in itself. The surgeon refuses as yet to make known any details. He will give it scientific exposition in a medical newspaper. Provincial Appointments.

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—The Ontario Government has made the tollowing appointments;
John Little, of Montreal, to be a commissioner for taking affidavits in Montreal for use in the courts of Ontario, and J. G. Gamble, of Woodstock, and W. L. GUELPH, Oct. 17.—Mr. Thos. Ellis, a well-known retired hotel-keeper in Guelph, has died from paralysis. He had been alling for some time. He was of a family which had been millers for generations in Tavistock, Devonshire, England, and came to this country in 1845 and took the position of head miller for Mr. David Allan. On account of ill-health he retired from hotelkeeping three or four years ago, after having successfully conducted the American Hotel for a quarter of a century.

Denver, Col., Oct. 17.—Hassen Mohammed, the "King of Tramps," arrived in Denver yesterday. He was very much begrimed with travel and glad of the prospect of a week's rest. The "King" started from Cincinnation a wager to walk 10,000 miles in 450 days for $10,000 on the following conditions: He was to begin his journey with 1 copper cent, and stop at first-class hotels. He was not to beg or borrow, cr steal, and was to meet and marry on the road a woman he had never met hefore. He stated last evening that he had received applications from 15,000 women whom he did not consider fit to become the "Queen of Tramps," but on Sept. 18 he married a young woman, a telegraph operator, at Ogden. He lost 30 days' time by reason of injuries received in falling through a trestle, and this time has been added to the limit which expires May 10 next. He comes from San Francisco, and is now 500 miles ahead of his schedule time. What Next?
