The great lung healer is found in the excellent medicine sold as Bickie's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages, and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

Behold the sun rising,
In trade prospects bright,
He's been advertising
With all of his might.

—The members of St. Matthew's Church choir enjoyed a sleighride party on Friday night.

—The Orient Minstrels will give a performance in the Grand Opera House on Feb. 11.

—Miss Bell Ross, of London, Ont., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles Potter, [Port Huron Times.]

—A novel and pleasing entertainment entitled "The Arch of Fame" will be given in the First Congregational Church tomorrow night.

—Mrs. A. E. Passmore, of 485 Queen's avenue, is on a protracted visit to her relatives in New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts.

—P. C. Birrell found a small parcel of dressgoods at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets on Saturday. It may be had at the police station.

—A Blenheim correspondent writes: "Mr. Greenwood received a handsome new hearse last evening from London. He is determined not to be behind in the race in his particular line."

—A large number of the employees of Hobbs Hardware Company enjoyed a sleighride party on Friday night. They were afterwards entertained at the residence of Mr. Wm. Eastwood, Queen's avenue.

—The choir members and church wardens of the Memorial Church and a few friends will hold a party on Tuesday evening at the summer residence of Mr. V. Cronyn, London township. A sleighing party will form part of the entertainment.

—Bro. Wray, D.D.G.P., assisted by Bros. Hook, P.D.D.G.P., and A. Wilkins, P.D.D.G.P., of the Sons of England Benevolent Society, installed the officers of the lodge in Petrolia, Wyoming and Sarnia. In the latter place they initiated fourteen into the second or White Rose degree.

—Rev. A. Stewart, pastor for years of the North Easthope and Hampstead Presbyterian congregations in Perth county, has resigned owing to the infirmity of years, and will make his home in London. Before leaving he was presented with a well-filled purse and an address.

—District Orange Lodge, No. 1, has elected the following officers: J. Murray, district master; H. E. Bates, deputy district master; Thos. Parkinson, chaplain; S. H. Wood, recording secretary; D. Patterson, financial secretary; W. Fox, treasurer; J. Shoulders, D. of C.; E. T. Esery, C. B. Nash and J. Kilgour, auditors.

—There is to be an interesting race between "Parker & Co.'s" employees on Wednesday next at Central avenue rink, when two valuable trophies will be given to first and second winners. This kind of amusement might well be encouraged by other large firms, as there are few better winter pastimes than a skating tournament.

—A young married man named Herbert Welton has been arrested in Detroit at the instance of his wife, who lives in this city. He left her and her two children six weeks ago and she traced him to Port Huron and thence to Detroit, where he was living with another woman. A roll of bills containing $85 was found in his shoes. It is not likely his wife will press any charge against him.

—The lady members of the London Teachers' Association, at a meeting on Friday, resolved to affiliate with the Women's National Council. Meadames English, McMeahan, Bommer, Macleth and Miss Carling were present in the interests of the council, and the motion to federate was moved by Miss Dunbar, seconded by Miss Geeson. The appointment of five representatives was left in the hands of the vice-president, Mrs. Cahen.

—Judge Robertson is a stickler for proper pronunciation, albeit his hearing is somewhat defective. Trying a case at Hamilton recently, lawyer Harley, sen., Brantford, had occasion to refer to a matter in which he used the word "raspberry." He pronounced it "rawsberry," and the judge did not like this. "Don't say 'rawsberry,'" remarked his Lordship, "say 'raspberry,'" and the judge emphasized the "rasp" portion of the word.

—The Free Press, over the head of an alleged informant, who has not the courage to name, denies the truthfulness of the statement made by Mr. Childs, secretary of the trustees board of the Askin Street Methodist Church, in reference to the teatop tempest which that journal tried to stir up over the action of the ladies of the congregation in the recent municipal elections. The Advertiser in preference to any believe Mr. Childs in reference to the church who interested themselves in the recent contest is well known in South London.

Nutkins, Dreaney, Callahan, Carothers, Garratt, Weld, Pritchard and Ardell belong to the Anglican Church; Ald. Brenner belongs to the Lutheran (Episcopal) Church, being a native of Ratzelshausen, Germany; Ald. Armstrong, Jones and McCallum are Presbyterians; Mayor Little, Ald. John and Wm. Wedding of Flutes.

The Canadian Mute chronicles the fact that the other day there was a happy gathering at the residence of Mr. J. McClelland, of Duart, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter Bella to Mr. J. C. McClelland, of Ottawa. The Rev. Mr. McKay tied the knot, being assisted by her brother, Mr. James B. McClelland, of London, deputy crown attorney of Middlesex county, as interpreter. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Ethel M. McClelland, of London, while Mr. Albert A. McClelland, brother of the bride, did the honors for the groom. The wedding was a private one, only the relatives of the contracting parties being present. Both the bride and groom being deaf, the ceremony was of absorbing interest. Everything passed off most happily; beautiful weather graced the occasion, and the newly wedded pair left for a short wedding trip amid a flood of sunshine and the good wishes of a host of friends. The bride received many valuable and beautiful presents, and the young couple have entered upon their new relations under the most favorable auspices.

Mr. McClelland was educated at the MacKay Institution at Montreal, while our own school (Bellville Deaf and Dumb Institute) claims the bride, who is a most amiable young lady. Mr. McClelland has a prominent position in the Government Printing Bureau at Ottawa, which he has held for several years. May a long, happy and prosperous wedded life follow them, and we know the same wish will come from hearts of their old schoolmates in Ontario and Quebec.

HE GETS FIVE YEARS.
Ellis, the House-Breaker, Is Sentenced.

Strong Address for the Prisoner—Kleptomaniac Urged.

The case of Ellis, the man who stole apparently without need and for no other purpose than to pack the stolen articles away in a room, came up at the Police Court this morning. When the case was called Crown Attorney Magee laid three fresh charges against the prisoner. They were charges of entering Robert Ellis's house, King street, Robt. Kinner's house, Burwell street, and Wm. James' house, King street. Among the articles taken from the last named place was a feather bed.

Ellis pleaded guilty to all three charges. Then Mr. Love addressed the magistrate on the prisoner's behalf. "What a person who steals invariably does so for gain, and in this case the circumstances do not appear to point that way. It is true he has been guilty of numerous robberies, but all the goods, as I understand, have been recovered with the exception of a few trifling articles belong to Mr. Ingram, and such a time has elapsed since that robbery that these articles might have been lost or gone astray. He has made no attempt to dispose of any of these articles. He has simply heaped up in a room a lot of useless articles apparently to gloat over them. I submit that these facts all go to show that the man has a mania in that direction. Of course, I admit that a plea of that kind does not avail if it had been made before a jury. I don't know that because a man is a kleptomaniac is a sufficient answer in law for stealing, and I admit that such a man should be incarcerated either in an asylum or some other place until he is cured. The fact of the recovery of the articles and no disposition having been made of them, I respectfully submit ought to weigh with your honor."

"There was no necessity at all for his stealing. He was a hard working man, industrious, and his wife was also occupied in working for a public institution, and there was ample money coming in for the support of his family and himself. He is a workman and he made profit out of the things. I believe such a case has never come before your honor in all your experience."

Mr. Magee, for the crown, mentioned that Ellis had been sentenced to eight years in New Jersey and had served out his term.

The magistrate asked Ellis if he had anything to say.

Ellis muttered something to the effect that his conduct could not be called stealing.

Mr. Parke thought otherwise and sentenced him to five years in the Provincial Penitentiary.

Ellis took his sentence coolly.
