VERY STRONG DEMAND FOR OLD OATS TODAY

Active Market for Hay Also—Fruit Market Was Fairly Large.

The feature of today's market was the strong demand for old oats, for which there was apparently no supply. An active market also prevailed for hay, a few loads selling as high as $16 per ton, with $15.50 as the ruling price.

Dressed meats were not particularly active, with the exception of dressed hams, which are still commanding good prices.

The fruit market was fairly large, peaches sold at 80 cents per bushel for first-class fruit, and plums brought from 45 to 60 cents per bushel. Apples are now selling at 10 cents per bushel. Tomatoes are not yet plentiful. Tomatoes sold at 50 cents per bushel. Potatoes are a little lower, bringing $1.40 per bushel today.

Dairy produce, poultry and eggs command high prices. Butter sold this morning at 25 cents per pound. Eggs retailed at 22 cents per dozen, and brought 18½ cents per dozen wholesale. The commission dealers are packing dressed poultry already for the fall season. Chickens bring 14 cents per pound wholesale, or 14½ cents if clean plucked, with no wind. Feathers left on the fowls. The cost of picking poultry amounts to a large item in the expenses of the wholesale poultry buyer every fall and winter.

The market on the whole was not overly large.

RAMSAY McDONALD TAKES CRACK AT CHURCHILL

Denounces Home Secretary for Activity in Strike Trouble—British House Adjourns.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 22.—James Ramsay MacDonald, chairman of the Labor party, who took a prominent part in the negotiations for a settlement, was optimistic today and told the House that if the spirit shown on both sides during the course of the negotiations, as revealed in future relations, the country had heard the last of railway strikes in this day and generation.

However, he was not so ready to make a hasty declaration of the end of the Home Secretary Churchill and the employment of soldiers during the strike.

Churchill, in his reply, said that the men were desirous of continuing the fight against a settlement. I hope that we have heard the last of these funny intentions of persons who do not understand the nature of the circumstances with which they are dealing.

MacDonald complained bitterly of what he described as a "reckless display of force."

Parliament adjourned to Oct. 24.

NIAGARA POWER FOR LONDON JUNCTION

Meeting of Ratepayers Decided Matter Monday Night.

London Junction will be lighted by Niagara power.

At a meeting of the ratepayers held last night, Superintendent Gault, of the city, was present and explained the system, showing the proposed layout of the lights was presented, and met with the approval of the meeting.

It was decided to petition the Provincial Legislature to make a grant to defray part of the cost of lighting Dundas street, where a large portion of the lights are placed. The grounds take up nearly half the street, and the ratepayers present were of the opinion that the Government should contribute something towards the cost.

The county of Middlesex will also be asked to contribute something. The ratepayers are confident that the value of the county, and it was thought reasonable that the latter should pay something towards the cost.

Superintendent Gault will go ahead with his plans, and another meeting will be held shortly to dispose of the matter.

HALBROOKE—KYNASTON

A Pretty Wedding in an East End Church.

A pretty church wedding was solemnized at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, East London, at 1 o'clock this morning, when Miss Mary Adelaide Kynaston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kynaston, of 23 Lytle street, was married to Mr. Halbrooke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Halbrooke, of 1100 York street. The bride was attended by Miss Lunt, and the groom was attended by Mr. Halbrooke. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Halbrooke. The wedding was a very quiet affair, and the bride and groom were accompanied by a few friends. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

COUPLE CANNOT AGREE

before he finally left, he got mad because he was not allowed to go to the table, and went away and had his supper at his father's house. Witness and her husband wanted her to go to the table, but she refused to do so. She admitted having seen a letter which he had offered her, and which she would not have for her, but she said she would not have for her, but she said she would not have for her.

Standing on Ceremony.

"Are you young people standing on ceremony as to which shall make the first advances?" asked the magistrate.

"I would not live with him for anything, now," said Mrs. Ross. "I do not want him or his money. I do not want to go along with him. I would not touch a cent of his money."

"You are aware of what you are saying," said the witness.

"Then what is this prosecution for?" asked the magistrate.

"I am sure I don't know after a statement like that," said Mr. Yining.

Mrs. Ross said the only money she had was for taking without it. Towards the keep of her little boy at her mother's.

"I think," said the magistrate, "that if you had paid more attention to your husband and less to your mother it would have been better for you."

"Are you willing to support your wife?" asked the court of Ross.

"And live with her?"

"Yes."

"Are you willing to give this boy a home?" asked the court of Ross.

"Yes, I will give the boy a start."

"Are you willing for your daughter to live with Ross?" asked the court of the girl's mother.

"I am willing for anything for my daughter's happiness," said the mother.

Here followed a conference in the judge's office and as a result an effort is being made to straighten out the tangle.
