

INDIANS AND LEAFS DIVIDED DOUBLE-HEADER BETWEEN THEM

Guelph Won the First Game, While Locals Took Second—
Fryer's Home Run in First Game Was the Longest Hit Ever Made at Tecumseh Park.

Babe Schuman, a pitcher of elephantine proportions, stood between the Tecumsehs and two victories on the holiday, and as a result the home folks could only grab off the sunset attraction. The score in both games was 5 to 1. McDonald, who had little but a straight ball and a bit of loric, was chased in the sixth, and little Johnny Farquhar finished the game. Hard hitting by Guelph featured this contest. The Tecumsehs were in a batting slump, and Guelph did not show the form expected of them. In the second session, Silcox was good, and with flawless support, was an easy winner. The Tecumsehs showed some old-time aggressiveness and speed, and were never in danger. Feature plays by Brant, and hard and timely hitting by Cocash, made the London end of the contest worth mentioning.

First Game.
If Manager George Needham had somehow or other misplaced Left Fielder Fryer during the hustle and shuffle of coming back to this fair city again, there might have been some chance for London to have won the first game in the double bill at the park yesterday afternoon. As Fryer was there large as life, the locals lost by the score of 5 to 1.

The chief claim that Mr. Fryer has to fame in this particular contest is because with one mighty swing he poled the ball over the fence between left field and centre field. It went for a clear home run, and Mr. Fryer could have walked around the bases had he wanted to. It was the mightiest swing seen in the local ball game since the days of the present lay-out at Tecumseh Park, that a ball was ever pushed so far away from the home plate. The ball was never seen again, and according to report, it bounced off the hard breakwater into the drink, where it was rescued by an ambitious boy in bare feet, who apparently realized the value of the ball, and will think more of it than had it been the one that Mighty Babe earned his reputation on.

Schumann Was Wild.
"Big Babe" Schumann, the prize fat man of the league, was in attendance at Manager Dovern's Bingers, and although he was wilder than a night in March, he managed to put enough slants on the way to mystify his opponents.

"Lefty" MacDonalld undertook to hand up the benders for the locals, and he went along fairly good until the sixth, when the afore-mentioned Mr. Fryer cut loose with his fence climbing ball. Mr. Isaac grabbed off a twin-pullaway. Mr. Conyngham, who was recently a member of Bowerman's brigade, but has since entered the ranks of the enemy, had a good look at the particular specimen to land on the seam, and the result was MacDonalld was removed from the firing line. "Lefty" had been going good until then, and had his team made able to win, and Mr. Schumann, a different tale would be told.

Farquhar's First Appearance.
Johnny Farquhar, the Belmont boy, was given his first chance to break into a game, and he pitched good ball during the remaining innings. In the eighth Guelph scored their last run, when Fryer lined one out to the fence for two bases and Isaac singled. These were the only hits made off Farquhar, and he made one hit-two-three in the seventh and ninth innings.

Four Passes and Only One Run.
The locals' lone tally came in the third, when Schuman displayed enough generosity to make a pass to a runner on base. No less than four men walked in this session, three of them in a row, and yet the locals were unable to score more than one run. Schuman issued ten passes altogether, and struck out five men. Powell, Brant and Isaac featured for the Indians with some spectacular fielding.

SECOND GAME.
The second game was captured by the home hopes, the score being the same as that of the morning performance, 5 to 1. Conditions were exactly reversed, the Bowermanites looking much the better. They fielded fast and accurately, and had the hit when it was needed.

Silcox Scintillates in This.
It was a case of too much Silcox. He grabbed his third consecutive victory, and looked as good as he has every time out this season. He pitched a heady game, using his stuff where it would do the most good. He kept the hits scattered in every inning but the third when he netted the one and only tally handed the farmers of Guelph. In the other stanzas, Silcox was unhittable, and

"Rube" Marquard Sensation of National League
Giant Southpaw Has Won Eleven Successive Games

Rube Marquard pitched the Giants such as left-handers only ever seem to acquire. When McGraw was being roasted to a nice dark brown for keeping Marquard, he said: "I'll keep him because I know he is there. Any youngster with the 'stuff' he has will be a world-beater." And Marquard has shown McGraw was right.

The one-time failure is the great sensation of baseball today. He commenced his right where he left off last fall, and has won steadily. He is a fine pitcher, and has won eleven successive games. He is a fine pitcher, and has won eleven successive games. He is a fine pitcher, and has won eleven successive games.

Christy Mathewson says Marquard was useless for two years. He was a failure, and he was a failure. He was a failure, and he was a failure. He was a failure, and he was a failure.

Marquard was referred to as the "biggest swindle in baseball," and his stock valued on a par with a certain yellow product that helped make Messina famous. Today, the Giant fans call him "Richard the Lion-Hearted."

Last year Marquard was unbeatable. He established a league record for strike-outs, and shared honors for the place held by "Big Six" for years, in the regard of fandom. Marquard's great asset is his "smoke." He has terrific speed, and while he has learned to control, and with it an assortment of curves, he has not pitch any one or two hit games, nor established any wonder-ful strike-out records, but nine hits is the most made off him, and but once has he given more than four bases on balls.

Marquard is fortunate in having

Swartzmeier was spiked in the second game and had to retire. He was being laid up for some time. He was stealing the ball from the pitcher, and he was stealing the ball from the pitcher.

Brady made a great catch of Silcox's fly ball better than Brant. This lad is the class of the league all right.

Matt Hynes was chased from the coaching line because he engaged in conversation with Umpire Johnston. He should have shovelled him around like Needham did, and he would likely have been given a vote of thanks.

The crowd got after Johnston at a lively rate. It is time that the heads of the league be put on the conclusion that bad umpiring is not doing the attendance at the games any good. Bill Phyle should be sent here once in a while.

There are few players who get on the bases more often than Lindbergh, but he generally works himself around, too.

There are worse teams in the Canadian League than Guelph. They look pretty right now, and when their pitchers round to they should win a majority of their games.

Babe Schuman, built on the feather-bed type of architecture, pitched a right smart game in the matinee performance.

Fryer's home run drive was the longest ever made on Tecumseh Park. Old baseball fans were trying to figure out if it had happened before, but not a soul could remember it. The ball was hard hit, and travelled far after it went over the fence. This boy made four safe smashes in four times up in the first game. He had his batting clothes on all right.

Everybody was pulling for Johnny Farquhar when he went in to pitch after MacDonalld had been lifted. Johnny has a lovely fast ball, and with some more education he might cause a lot of trouble. The youngster was very nervous on his first trial in fast company.
