TO MEASURE FOR PAPER.

Rules Which if Followed Makes This a Offices, No. 76 Church-street, Toronio. Very Easy Task.

As different paperhangers pursue dif ferent methods in hanging paper, so there are various rules and forms for measuring rooms. We therefore append several methods, any of which will Contingent Fund bring the desired result.

As most paper when trimmed is eighteen inches wide and twenty-four feet to a single piece, a piece will con tain thirty-six square feet.

Measure the length and height of each wall in feet and multiply. Add together the number of square feet of each wall, getting total number of square feet. Divide this total by thirty-six, which will give you the number of pieces required for side wall. Allow one-half piece of paper for each door and win-

"Half the dyspensia and indigestion and general debility from which so many people seem to be suffer ing is due to nothing in the world except a lack of exercise," sai an old physician with a wise shake of his head. "Take all these department clerks, for instance. More than half of them lose from twenty to thirty days a year of government time on accou these causes. It is not remarkable that they should, either. They get up in the morning, hurry through breakfast and rush out and get aboard a street car. When they reach their offices, instead of climbing upstairs they get in the elevator and ride up. At noon they dawdle around instead of taking a brisk walk of ten or fifteen minutes to expel the air they have been breathing all morning from their lungs and cleaning them out with the fresh article.
After dinner they are listless and worn out, or feel that way, and ride home again to eat dinner with no appetite and lie around idly till bedtime. I tell you that everybody ought to climb up three or four flights of stairs at least once a day in order to bring important muscles into play, and everybody, too other object than the walk in view ought to take a brisk walk of at least a They'd be more well stomachs in this vicinity if they did."—Washington Post

No Crops This Year. A startling announcement, founded upon the new rule of the Kennel Club, to the effect that after March no cropeared dog can win one of the K. prizes. "Hooray!" quoth the dogs. "Full ears and no crops!"—Punch.

Close of the Civil Assizes

The non-jury Assizes at Osgoode Hall came to a conclusion yesterday, with the hearing of the action of Turner against Appleby. When the sittings commenced 54 cases were on the list. Additions to the number of 110 have been made from day to day, and at the conclusion of the Assizes, which have been several weeks in progress, 50 cases remain untried. It is evident there are enough actions of this kind to occupy a judge sitting in Toronto the year judge sitting in Toronto the year

Henry A. King & Co.'s special wire from Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co..' There seems to be no limit to the bullish capabilities of the present market. It opened strong, and then hesitated, in spite of the continuance of strength is a number of the leading industrials. The fact that London was a seller in the face of the placing of the new block of N.Y.C. stock had a bad effect for a time, and the news of further damage to the wheat crop was also one of the marked factors in the early trading.

To Demary, Heintz & Lyman: The most interesting fact developed by the action of the stock-market to-day is the willingness of many holders to sell the willingness of many hold To Demary, Heintz & Lyman: The most interesting fact developed by the action of the stock market to-day is action of the stock market to-day is the willingness of many holders to sell on any moderate rally. There is no pressure and sellers name their own prices, but the disposition to take pro-fits seems to be growing among some of the houses which have been very in-strumental in bringing about the ad-vance. The announcement that one per strumental in bringing about the advance. The announcement that one per cent. had been declared on B. and Q. was accompanied by an official report that $2,320,000 bonds had been sold by the company. Two large traders were aggressive buyers of the grangers' stocks, and it was noticeable that they had to take some quite large blocks of long stock. The unfavorable reports in regard to winter wheat, while they are generally regarded in Wall-street as graggerated, have some influence in causing conservative people to hesitate about buying the grangers. Henry A. King & Co.'s special wire from Frank G. Logan & Co., Chicago: This market has the ear marks of a bull market. There was nothing to sell wheat on, excepting the price, and that was a strong temptation to a trade which has hardly seen a dollar for so long, and yet the crop reports are such to-day that wheat looks to us almost to disaster in many important sections. The trade can't believe it; if the reports were anywhere lear true, wheat will sell at $1 or over, but the truth will come out before long, and we are strongly inclined to believe that these prices 60 days hence will look very low. The foreign markets are better, but don't get into line with us We pre-
