REPOBUATION IN TRADE.

Reform, reform is the cry of the day, While old fashioned habits are passing away White colorte has tramphed, so plan dy twould seem, O'er the old fashioned method or putting by stoam

Let us glance at Toronto, which a few years ago, Was dark Muddy York, as you very well know, And see it to day, raidst our clies the best, And deservedly styled, the Queen of the West.

Just look, if you please, at its digant homes,— his beautiful churches, their spires and their comes, While his fine public building, erected with taste, Adorn the site of some old marshy waste.

Its marshes have fled by the aid of our drains, Its forests are open'd by the speed of our trains; The past we have seen, the present we see, Well, well, we may mak, what the future will be.

Even now, where the waves of Untario roat, And deah their white spray on the long-beston shore, That spot so long ascred does science invade, And the bilious give place to a grand Esplanado.

But reforms as important as those have been made, Which greatly have altered the aspect of trade, Old styles and old habits, old prices have past, And customs much better are practised at last

The Bonners for instance, which a few years ago Would cost you a dollar and a-quarter, or so, A much flarer style you now may procure, For less than one fourth of that sum, I am sure.

Nor did you then think that the terms were hard, If you bought a good print for a shilling per yard, But now you may purchase for haif of that price, A cloth quite as good, and a style just as nice

Will you call at McDONALDS? It it is but to try, From his well sorted Sock how cheap you can but And we venture to say, when you look through his Store, You will wonder you never have found it before

Then three gory house, with the front pointed white Which inches its appositione both graceful and light With very large figures, which you plainly may say, Describing its number as ONE III NEED AND THEE
