COMPOUND CHAMOMILE CORDIAL.

THIS Cordial, as its name announces, is prepared scientifically by a Member of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, from the Flowers of Chamomile and other vegetable ingredients, imported expressly from England.

These inimitable virtues, while fully preserved, are more delicately concentrated and developed in the Cordial, which from its transparency and golden colour, resembles Wine, and as such may be used at discretion.

TESTIMONIALS:

Toronto, June 26th, 1852.

Messrs. REXFORD & Co.

GENTLEMEN.—We have tested the Sample Bottle, with which you favored us, of your "Compound Chamomile Cordial," and find it as you describe, fragrant and agreeable to the palate, and consider it an excellent Preparation for the use of the valuable Tonic Properties of the Flowers of Chamomile.

We are, &c., GEORGE HERRICK, M.D. JOHN KING, M.D.

77 Bay Street, Toronto, June 27, 1852.

GENTLEMEN.—I duly received and have tested the sample of Compound Chamomile Cordial, which you sent me.

Aware of the manner in which you prepare it, and of the nature and quality of the ingredients which you employ in its manufacture, I cannot object to express to you in my writing my opinion of it, which I should not hesitate to do under direct circumstances.

I consider it a very elegant Pharmaceutical Preparation, unobjectionable, being made exceedingly useful in a dietetical as well as therapeutic point of view. It will serve as an excellent substitute for much of the trash which is purchased as Wine for the use of invalids, and will also prove an excellent medium for the agreeable conveyance of tonics, which, without some adulteration, are often rejected against and rejected by the stomach.

I am, Gentlemen, Yours, &c.,

FRANCIS BADGLEY, M. D.

Messrs. REXFORD & Co.,

GENTLEMEN.—I duly received and have tried the Sample of "Compound Chamomile Cordial" which you sent me. I consider it a very elegant Preparation, and useful in all cases where a mild Tonic is required, more especially in cases of Dyspepsia, and the weakness of the Stomach, it being very agreeable to taste, can be taken by any one.

I am, &c., THOMAS DUGAN, Surgeon.

London, C.W., June 18th, 1852.

Messrs. REXFORD & Co.,

GENTLEMEN.—I have received the Sample Bottle of your "Compound Chamomile Cordial," and consider it a beautiful as well as highly palatable preparation. The aromatic and peculiar bitter flavor, to which lies the essential medicinal qualities, appears to be largely infused and well preserved, and as this vegetable Tonic is highly beneficial in those forms of Dyspepsia, depending on the want of tone of the digestive organs, (the form most commonly met with on this continent,) your Cordial will, I doubt not, form an inestimable addition to our Pharmacopoeia.

From the knowledge possessed by me of Mr. Rexford, and his very high reputation as a Pharmaceutical Chemist, I feel much pleasure in cordially recommending his preparation of this valuable Tonic to my Professional brethren, and to the public, as a delightful and invigorating Cordial.

I am, Yours, &c., GEORGE HOLME, Surgeon.

Messrs. REXFORD & Co. Toronto,

GENTLEMEN.—I have no hesitation in expressing to you my professional approbation of your "Compound Chamomile Cordial." The Tonic properties of the Flowers of Chamomile, with which it is finely blended, are so universally acknowledged and the Medicinal qualities of that vegetable ingredient so fully admitted in Dyspeptic complaints, that I consider the idea of adulterating it in the pleasing form of a Cordial, most happy; and

In the case of your preparation, so successful, that it cannot fail to be a favorite with the public.
