

MCGILL UNIVERSITY
PRINCIPAL AND VICE-CHANCELLOR
L. W. DOUGLAS

September 7, 1938

Dear Mr. Keyniger,

Your telegram has arrived in the absence of Mr. Douglas from the University. We have, however, made a good many enquiries here with a view to finding someone who would fill the positions you outline, unfortunately without success. It happens to be a bad time of the year as the University is not in session yet, and we cannot reach many of the departmental heads who might have had likely candidates. The University does not have an employment bureau where such information is readily accessible. I am so sorry that in the absence of the Principal we were not able to be of real help to you in this matter.

Yours faithfully,

Principal's Secretary
