carried a splendid story of Saturday's Olympic lacrosse match at the stadium. With such strong amateurs as Paddy Brennan, Henry Hoobin and Tony Dixon in the Canadians' line-up, and altogether a fairly well-balanced team, local followers of the game were surprised at the closeness of the score. However, the result is a splendid tribute to the advancement made by the Englishmen in what many consider the greatest of all outdoor sports, which is our own national positive.

W. H. Hall, secretary of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, could not analyze the story. He was completely mystifled as to the ability of the old countrymen to score ten goals—a quantity that would win most lacrosse matches. The little Englishman spurted the entire distance the last mile and was a half mile ahead at the finish. His time for the distance was 26.10 3-5. About three thousand people witnessed the race and vociferously cheered Shrubb, who finished in apparently as good condition as when he started.

Shrubb was at Montreal yesterday, where he attempted to make terms with Longboat for a match race at 10, 15 or 20 miles, but could not get the Indian's consent. Local fromders are ready to give the two a big guarantee if they decide to get together.
