THE GROCERY MARKET
The following comment on the market situation as regards foodstuffs appeared in Canadian Grocer last week: The outstanding features in the weekly markets during the week have been the decline of 60 cents a barrel in flour and the easier feeling in the sugar market. Millfeeds on the other hand have advanced and are likely to continue advanced, due to the new regulation of the British government that the flour purchased for the use of the troops must have a higher percentage of shorts and middlings. It is estimated this provision will add about 10 per cent to the available flour supplies. But it will decrease the supplies of middlings by an equal amount.
Both live and dressed hogs have advanced again. Hogs now reaching the market are of better size and order to dispose of them. Butter held steady during the week, with decline in the consumption noted. Eggs are firm with very few strictly new-laid reaching the market. Dressed ducks, geese and turkeys are firmer and have advanced slightly.
Honey is also firmer, due to large consumption. Cheese on the other hand is slightly easier, due to the arrival of winter cheese on the market. All dried fruits are holding steady. Teas are firm.
Boxed cereals in certain instances have advanced in price. Other advances in the week are anticipated. Business has been fairly good during the week, but the trouble with shorts and freight deliveries continues to be a perplexing one.
The canned goods situation is still unsettled, and some wholesalers are quoting prices on canned tomatoes at lower figures than the canner's quotations.
There has been a noticeable falling off in the demand for canned goods, due no doubt to the high prices asked. Fewer American lines have come in this week than in previous weeks. In dried fruits, the current situation is the centre of attraction. The latest developments in Greece have upset all calculations of importers, and in the present state of the market prices on currants are merely nominal.

THE NOVEMBER edition of the Headquarters Gazette, states: The development of sea scouting has done valuable national service in supplying coast-watchers to the admiralty. The teaching there has been the unequal battle. The house where the negro killed the woman and himself is in Norwood street.

WOMAN'S SLAYER AT BAY
Holds Off 75 Policemen for Hours, Then Kills Himself
Philadelphia, Dec. 6.—Charles Westcott, a negro, after slaying his sweetheart and holding off seventy-five policemen for three hours, killed himself with one of two revolvers with which he had managed to escape from the police. The house
himself is in Norwood street.

THE NEGRO WHO KILLED THE WOMAN and himself in Norwood street, after slaying his sweetheart and holding off seventy-five policemen for three hours, was found by the police. As she was running through the hall the negro fired at her, the bullet grazing her cheek.
Policemen Dan Connor and Robert Wise were wounded slightly by Westcott in attempting to arrest him, and were taken to a hospital. Captain McFadden mobilized seventy-five policemen and surrounded the house. From roofs of houses opposite policemen riddled the windows with bullets. Westcott fired back for three hours.
Strategy was then employed. While Captain McFadden and the men inside battered at a door on the third floor to attract the gunman's attention, three policemen went on the roof of a building next door with a piece of piping in the form of an elbow. They cautiously crept to the coping above the room where Westcott was hidden, and shoved the arm of the pipe through the pane of glass. Ammonia and sulphur, mixed, were to be poured through the pipe to smother Westcott and force his surrender, but the murderer smashed the windows of the room and thus allowed the air to circulate freely and spoiled the scheme.
The men inside the house gradually closed in on the negro and when he saw escape cut off he committed suicide.

The Sergeant and His Stripes.
Much satisfaction is felt that Lord Derby has been able to announce a fairer treatment for sergeants going out to France or being transferred. A sergeant going to France without war experience is, it is said, frequently reduced straight to the ranks, though he has special facilities for rising again. A very sad case was noted by an officer the other day, that of a man who had been thus reduced on going into the trenches.
In a few weeks he would have had at least two stripes; as it was he was killed almost at once, and his dependant suffered accordingly. The case brought to Lord Derby's notice was one of seven sergeants transferred to other battalions and reduced at once to privates. A new order has now been issued providing for the absorption of acting rank whenever there are vacancies anywhere.
