Seeks Kibb's Crown.
Johnny Dundee intends to either force any Kibb to defend his featherweight title or to claim the championship under the rules laid down by the New York State Athletic Commission. Just evidenced by the fact that he has deposited a certified check for $25,000 with a state boxing body as a guarantee that he will make the recognized featherweight poundage.

In case Kibb ignores this challenge under his made it plain that he proposes to claim the crown under the following rule of the New York Commission: Section VII. Championships—Any boxer winning a championship must defend his title in a bona fide bout a decision against the best available contender within a period of six months on the time of winning his title, and thereafter every six months if qualified challenger appears, unless he is prevented by circumstances beyond his control, in which case the time shall be extended, should he fail to do so, or should he be unable to make the required weight, he shall be declared a loser. HOCKEY.

Moncton Wins Championship.
Moncton won the championship of the Independent League in New Glasgow last evening when they defeated the home club by a score of 4 to 3. It was a thrilling game and overtime play was necessary to decide the issue.

Denial From Sussex.
Regarding a Charlottetown despatch that the managers and captains of both the Sussex and Altwells agreed to allow penalized players to go on in overtime play before their time was up is emphatically denied by the manager and captain of the Sussex team. They claim that Captain Hay and the time keeper both protested against the ruling of the referee.

The Sussex Protest.
From the Charlottetown despatch: President Granger of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has been asked by Dr. A. H. A. H. A. to make a ruling on the Sussex protest of the Charlottetown-Sussex game of last Wednesday which Charlottetown won by a score of 2 to 1. President Granger was asked whether in his opinion the game should be ordered replayed and if so whether it should be on neutral ice or at Sussex.

Mr. Granger had already given his opinion that there had been a violation of the rules and that there were grounds for the Sussex protest.

President Sterling decided to refer the whole matter to President Granger when he learned that Vice-President Max Mowat of Campbellton was in New York and unlikely to return home again for a week or ten days. The final game of the league play-off is to take place in Charlottetown tonight between Chatham and Charlottetown.

Important as is the contribution of amateur athletes to the physical welfare of the nation, greater still is its offering as a maker and moulder of moral fibre. Healthy minds in healthy bodies are much to be desired, but of what little avail if not accompanied by a pure soul. Perseverance, physical courage, determination, manliness in victory and in defeat, are important lessons taught by the appreciation of moral values, and the development of a moral balance wheel. Respect for the letter and spirit of the rules, to lose honorably, rather than to win dishonestly, to live a pure life because it adds to victory, but more because it is right in itself, to refrain from taking a mean advantage, to play for the good of the team, are a few of the teachings emphasized in amateur athletics.

The Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, together with provincial bodies, has for many years been working and striving for the accomplishment of the ideals above. No one can doubt that it is a good work which necessarily improves the individual and rebounds to the benefit of the country. All true sports should seize the opportunity to take up a mission which will improve the physical, mental, and moral well being of its members and people at large as a further contribution towards the work for one's country.

A conference was held yesterday afternoon between H. H. McMillan, provincial fire marshal, Mayor Schofield and G. G. Hare, city engineer, regarding the pent house on the roof of city hall. The fire marshal contended that it should be built of steel, while the plans call for wood construction, sheathed inside and out with galvanized iron. A report will be presented to the city council this afternoon regarding the matter.

AMATEUR SPORTS ARE DEMOCRATIC

Moncton Transcript Presents
Strong Case for Sharp Distinction.

(Moncton Transcript.)

The best impression to be drawn from the N. B. skating championship meet in the Sunny Brae rink on Thursday afternoon and evening was "It was an amateur meet."

From the point of view of Canada's welfare perhaps the most vital distinction to be drawn between the two types of activity—amateur and professional—is its effect physically upon the people.

Amateur athletics assures the physical well-being of the many, rather than the few, it develops alert minds and healthy bodies of the masses, it raises the physical and mental standard of the people at large rather than of a selected few. This results in stronger, healthier boys and girls, men and women, happy in their work, because of their happiness in their play, more efficient in their work because more contented, and better citizens because better men.

The number who can participate in professional sport is limited by the very nature of the game. Professional sport of any kind is essentially exclusive. Too many paid performers would mean too little return for the promoters, and the principal object of the business way for the "star" is the money.

The percentage of the nation's people who may participate in professional sport is infinitesimal. Amateur sport, on the other hand, is inherently democratic—it welcomes the multitude—the "dumb," it has place for the man and the maid, the old and the young, the millionaire and the working boy, the tall and the short, the fat and the lean, the strong and the weak.

Participation in amateur sports produces a wholesome and healthy respect for the rights of others on the field of play, which is not entirely lost when one that field, it brings with it a realization of the necessity of knowing one's own rights and an ambition for the ability to enforce them. To a stranger in a strange land surrounded by strange customs and hearing a strange language these lessons are invaluable. There is no better way of teaching them than by having the subject learn them for himself on the field of many sports. Amateur sport also teaches self-restraint, and pictures in the strongest possible manner the benefits of teamwork, which, translated into more high-sounding phrases, is known as co-ordination, co-operation, and non-duplication of effort.

Important as is the contribution of amateur athletes to the physical welfare of the nation, greater still is its offering as a maker and moulder of moral fibre. Healthy minds in healthy bodies are much to be desired, but of what little avail if not accompanied by a pure soul. Perseverance, physical courage, determination, manliness in victory and in defeat, are important lessons taught by the appreciation of moral values, and the development of a moral balance wheel. Respect for the letter and spirit of the rules, to lose honorably, rather than to win dishonestly, to live a pure life because it adds to victory, but more because it is right in itself, to refrain from taking a mean advantage, to play for the good of the team, are a few of the teachings emphasized in amateur athletics.

THE N. B. BOXING CHAMPIONSHIPS
The provincial boxing championships will be held in the armories this evening. It is expected that at least twenty boxers will take part in the various classes. Some good talent has been secured for the 108 and 128 pound classes and some exciting bouts are anticipated. The competitors are requested to weigh in at seven and at eight o'clock. James Power will be ready to instruct the men and get the bouts under way. There is ample room at the armories to stage the championships, for in addition to the main floor there is a large balcony capable of accommodating a large number of enthusiasts. There will be six classes and the programme is expected to be a banner one from a scientific pugilistic standpoint.

A pleasing presentation took place on Sunday afternoon last in St. Andrew's church schoolroom by the Rev. F. S. Dowling when he gave attendance prizes to five boys and three girls. Their names are: Kenneth Steele, Kenneth Hampton, Edward Roberts, Arthur Hart, Donald Jones, Marion Fortson, Audrey Nixon and Mildred Jones. These pupils did not miss a session during the last year. One member, Grace Hart, missed but one Sunday and a prize was given to her as well.

Among the tests yesterday were the reading and sending of Morse; the making of knots; the making of a hospital bed, a fire; the repetition of three rules of health; the carrying out of three physical exercises, and the drawing of the Union Jack, with the recitation of the history of the crosses. The candidates also were required to know the laws of the guide organization and were asked to write the life history of six animals, birds and plants. They also have to be proficient in first aid work.

"CARNIVAL"

THE VERY HUMAN MAN-AND-WIFE STORY of a leading actor who mistakenly suspects his wife of waning affection for him and of being enamored of an Italian nobleman. In the bedchamber scene during an elaborate production of "Othello" in Venice while the Carnival is in full swing the husband, overcome with jealousy, makes the smothering crime so realistic that interference from the audience prevents a terrible incident. The drama ends as it should. The outdoor scenes are all genuinely Venetian.
