ST. JOHN OFFICERS ARE HOME TODAY AFTER DOING GOOD WORK IN THE WAR

Lieut. Col. J. H. Parks, D. S. O., and Major M. MacKay on Saturday

Major Rideout of Edmundston also Came Across in This Ship—Capt. Nase, Flight Lieutenants Fred E. Power and F. P. J. Travis Home via Halifax, Which They Reached on Megantic

Two very distinguished St. John officers returned on the S.S. Saturnia today—Lieut.-Col. John H. Parks, D.S.O., and Major Malcolm Mackay. Both have seen extensive active service and have made good records overseas. Colonel Parks, Distinguished Service Order, has a very fine record. He enlisted in Vancouver with the 1st Contingent as a member of the 9th Battalion and proceeded to Valcartier, thence to England and on to France. He went overseas as a captain and by his excellent work as an officer he won steady promotion in rank as well as being awarded the D.S.O. for gallantry and general efficiency shown in France. He was wounded on one occasion. Dr. Margaret Parks who served overseas for some time and was decorated by the king with the Royal Red Cross is a sister. Colonel Parks said this morning that he would likely proceed to the west again in a short time.

Major Mackay, son of W. Malcolm Mackay, and one of three sons who has served at the front, returned this morning and was given a royal welcome by his friends. Major Mackay crossed with Colonel Fowler's 104th Battalion and upon arrival in England was transferred to the 1st Imperial Regiment. He has been on active service in France for two years and came through unharmed. Major Colin Mackay, a brother, is still carrying on as O. C. of the 12th Siege Battery. Another brother, Captain Reay Mackay, was killed in action in August last.

Major C. M. Rideout, of Edmundston, was among the New Brunswick officers to get back home today. He went overseas in the early part of the war from Halifax as a member of the 140th Battalion following a transfer from the Composite Battalion under mobilization in the garrison city. He served in France with the infantry and was later transferred to the Forestry Corps with which he finished the last part of his active service in Flanders. He was, previous to joining the army, employed on the Transcontinental Railway. He has many friends throughout the province who will extend a warm welcome on his safe return.

Flight Lieut. F. P. J. Travis of 102 Dorchester street, who came across in the Megantic, reached home this morning after three years of service, most of which was spent in aerial observation work. When at home in pre-war times the St. John boy was a 62nd Battalion member. On joining to go to war he was taken across with a draft of young officers—very young in his case as a matter of fact, for he is only twenty now—and was placed in the famous old 87th Battalion Grenadier Guards. Then Lieut. Travis was allowed to enter the Flying Corps and was successful in winning his commission. It was while making observations in the last big push on Cambrai early in September last year that a German sniper "pinged" him in the arm. His pilot flew back with him to the Canadian Squadron where his wounds were treated. There were five months Lieut. Travis was invalided in England; then the armistice came and then the homeward journey.

Flight Lieut. Frederick E. Power, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Power, 10 Wentworth street, sat at table with his delighted parents and household today after many months crowded with active service in the cause of freedom, although at least one incident in his aeroplane career might easily have cut off any such happy reunion as that now existing. Lieut. Power was on channel patrol duty at the time when Hun subs were especially bothersome. Noticing what he thought to be a U-boat under water, the St. John flyer dropped down towards the ominous looking tide. There was a heavy mist and the plane went under water, carrying the young lieutenant down. He miraculously escaped from the submerged plane, but was quite unconscious of what had happened to him until he awoke in a comfortable bunk aboard a British destroyer, with ship's doctors looking after him. When he left home to be prepared for the Imperial air force, Lieut. Power proceeded to Fort Worth, Texas, and there won his right to fly alone. In this school the late Lieut. Jarvis McLellan, Lieut. Joseph Brosnan, Lieut. Cuthbert, Lieut. Balfour Paterson and Lieut. Royden Foley, all of St. John, were taught aeronautics. It will be sadly recalled that Lieut. McLellan was killed while on flight duty in England and Lieutenants Brosnan and Cuthbert succumbed to injuries at Fort Worth.

Proceeding to the mother country via Halifax Lieut. Power was soon put on bombing work, but later on the channel patrol. He also served at Cherbourg in France and before coming home spent two months in Shorncliffe. The aviator is reticent about his work and wants to talk about home and everything else but war. He is being warmly greeted.

Lieut. C. R. Curry. Among those who reached St. John today via Halifax was Lieut. C. R. Curry of the Royal Air Force. He enlisted at the age of seventeen with Major, now Lieutenant-Colonel G. G. Corbet, as a half an hour.

SOLDIER HONORED.

Friends Sergeant and Mrs. Gordon B. Smith called at their home in Charlotte street, West Side, on Tuesday evening and tendered them a surprise party. The affair was arranged principally by a group of friends in appreciation of Sergeant Smith's services overseas. During the evening he was made recipient of a beautiful gold watch chain. John Carleton, on behalf of those present, made the presentation. The evening was pleasantly spent in games, music and dancing and the party dispersed in the early hours.

VETERAN FIREMAN HONORED. Richard Walsh, sanitary inspector of the board of health, who tendered his resignation as lieutenant of the hook and ladder company, King street east, some time ago, was made recipient of a case of pipes and an address at a largely attended gathering of firemen in the Moose lodge rooms, Colburn street, on Monday evening. A repast was served and the men had a fine evening of it. Mr. Walsh thanked his friends for the most acceptable mark of good-will and expressed his regret at severing his connection with the department, but his new duties made it imperative that he should. The retiring fireman was for twenty-seven years a hard working fighter and was one of the conspicuous figures in that gallant crew who handle the towering ladders and use the axes.

ONLY THREE WEEKS FROM TODAY.

With feelings of trepidation and a sigh of apprehension many households are today contemplating that in three weeks' time they will be called upon to leave their present homes and enter their new abodes as if it is going to be a very busy May day for the percentage of movings is reported unusually high this year. Some people, by a happy chain of circumstances, will be able to get into their new premises before the fateful May 1, others will not be enabled to shift until the full noon-hour of the day. Because of rental disputes and warnings-out, etc., it is said there is indication of a spirit that will not tend to co-operation as between some tenants and their landlords. Teamsters are booked up solid for the week before and the week after May 1, but the additional number of apartment trucks to be on the job this season will doubtless facilitate matters some and relieve the pressure on horse-drawn teams, which naturally move more slowly.

private in the 16th Field Ambulance and left St. John on March 25, 1917. He applied for a transfer to the Royal Air Force and in April, 1918, went to England to qualify and in August of 1918 returned to France lieutenant in that service.

From August until the signing of the armistice he was kept busy in the air and did good work. Lieut. Curry is the youngest of three brothers, all of whom saw service in France. The other two are Capt. Nase and Lieut. Power.

Among the St. John men arriving in Halifax on the S.S. Megantic was Captain Otto Nase, a prominent dentist in this city, who before enlisting had practiced dentistry here for more than eleven years. Captain Nase, enlisted in the dental corps in 1915, was in Canada six months before going overseas in a draft from the corps. He was attached to a hospital in Shorncliffe for one year when he was transferred to London, where he spent three months before going to France. After serving a year in France, he was again transferred back to London and was attached to Pembroke house, and from there went to Liverpool to the Kirkdale Hospital, where he remained until coming to Canada. Captain Nase has a large circle of friends who will be pleased to hear of his safe return.

At the Depot

The sixty-two New Brunswick men who came over on the Megantic arrived in St. John at seven o'clock a. m. They were met at the station by Charles Robinson and several members of the reception committee. The men enjoyed breakfast in the station dining room where they were served by Mrs. Kuhnring, assisted by V. A. D. nurses in charge of Miss Monroe. During breakfast the men were treated to fruit, chocolates and cigarettes. They enjoyed their breakfast very much and were quite pleased with the attention shown them. It is contended that soldiers on arrival here from Halifax should always be given their first meal at the station, where they can sit down more comfortably instead of marching them immediately to the armory. The Vancouver special with troops arrived here at 6 a. m. and stayed for an hour.
