Players Known In St. John

Their Activities This Season — Katherine Rober In Vaudeville — Marguerite Fields in Stock — Rose Melville and "Sis"-Local Stock's Third Week-News of Stage in General

Katherine Rober, who played to popular favor in St. John some years ago opened this week in vaudeville in Keith's Theatre, Lowell, Mass. Miss Rober is appearing in Una Clayton's playlet "What Would You Do?" She is supported by Leander Blanden and a company of two and her tour is under the direction of Alf T. Wilton.

Joan Sawyer, who has been seen in pictures at the Imperial Theatre here says the modern dances are aiding Cupid. Listen to these remarks, transcribed by Walter J. Kingsley: "Courtship has always been a difficult thing, but it has been made infinitely easier by the modern dance. The dancing man does not find it very hard to pop the question, as he arrives at a rapproachment very rapidly in the arms of a good dancer. If Priscilla, the Puritan maiden had ever danced a tango with Miles Standish, that gallant would not have had to go courting by proxy and Priscilla might have become Mrs. Standish instead of Mrs. Alden."

Rose Melville has "Sis Hopkins" out in the same of the priscilla might have become Mrs. Standish instead of Mrs. Alden."

Rose Melville has "Sis Hopkins" out in the ratio of the New York American for nine-ten years, Alan Dale, the most widely in the arms of a good dancer. If Priscilla, the Puritan maiden had ever danced a tango with Miles Standish, that gallant would not have had to go courting by proxy and Priscilla might have become Mrs. Standish instead of Mrs. Alden."

Rose Melville has "Sis Hopkins" out again this season. It is interesting to recall that when she played her famous piece in St. John some years ago, Lyman R. Abbe, now playing characters with the Thompson-Woods Co. here was in her support.

The intention of razing the historic Boston theatre in about a year for the purpose of erecting a new hotel for commercial purposes involving an investment of approximately $3,800,000, was followed by an announcement that William H. Leahy, the present lessee of the Boston, is planning to jump to the National, a Keith controlled house, built about three years ago, and which has a seating capacity of $,800. The National has been dark since last spring. Any immediate intention of taking the National is denied by Leahy, who says that his lease of the Boston holds until Sept. 1, 1915.

Third Week of Stock

The continuation of fine weather in the city with the general interest in the war and local patriotic endeavors has probably been responsible for the lack of appreciation shown the Thompson-Woods Stock at the Opera House, but local stage-followers who have been attending the performances know that those who have not attended have been missing something worth while. This week the rural comedy drama: "Our New Minister," familiar to St. John people since the days of Ellis and Dailey, was produced with much success from the point of view of presentation but was not so well patronized as might have been. The reason is not with the company, for the players are particularly clever in their respective roles. However, last year it took about six or seven weeks before the stock was introduced to the general stage public here, and before a following was established to a "warming-up" basis, and it may be that the same will be true this season. "The Awakening of Helena Ritchie," in which a local favorite, Margaret Anglin, won fame, will give next week to Miss Howell an opportunity which she has not enjoyed in the productions made thus far in which Mr. Howard has had the major portion of the stage to satisfactory advantage.

The general trend toward commercialism in all departments of certain metropolitan dailies, in which movement Hearst publications have for a long time been leaders, is said to have brought about Dale's resignation. He has altoways observed the ethics of newspaper work as commonly accepted by all special writers such as he is. stand, say he left the American with all his independent flags flying.

According to report the direct cause of Dale's leaving was the American's treatment of the play, "Miss Daisy," that opened at the Shubert. In his notice in the American, Dale said it was a poor entertainment. The Sunday American printed several stories in its first issue after the Dale notice had appeared in the daily edition, to the effect that "Miss Daisy" was a great play. The records show that Dale was correct in his opinion. "Miss Daisy" has since been removed from Broadway and did very little business at the box office while there.

TWO JHOUSAND EACH MONTH TO THE ARMY

Melbourne, Australia, Oct. 17—The 20,000 men forming the first contingent to the British army have all been collected and have gone to the front. The men have got the right spirit, for they feel they are going to join a great army, whose feats of arms will live long in

Now that the first contingent has been got away, what of the others? At head-quarters there is no doubt that men will come forward in plenty. The first 20,000 were raised without any outward show of organized recruiting, and the government have no fears of getting other men to respond

Kitchener's appeal has been taken to heart here in Australia. The government has stated that it will send as many men as possible, so long as they are required. As they become incapacitated, will replace them at its own expense. She could put into the field now a full 100,000 men, providing they could be drilled at once.

The government has laid it down that whatever else happens, Australia is to send 2,000 men monthly to the front to maintain the first army at more than its war strength. She is also to send a further contingent of 20,000 in addition to this regular shipment.

Baked Apple and Cream

WHAT can be compared with a great, luscious, Canadian apple, sun-ripened into ruddy beauty in our arcadian valleys—nigh-bursting with stored-up mellow sweetness? A banana or orange, picked green and ripened in a freight car, or even the shaddock masquerading as grapefruit? Never! Good apples were never so plentiful, so economical an item of food—so valuable an addition to every meal.

How many Canadians realize that there is no fruit in the world so luscious—so beautiful, so economical and so healthgiving? The Canadian Apple!—envied of all nations to such an extent that heretofore until the many constitutions are such as the s that heretofore, until the war prevented their get-ting them, the wealthy foreigners have bid so high that the cream of our crop has gone to Europe! APPLE LORE APPLE LORE

Do you remember the old Greek story of Atalanta, famed for her fleetness of foot? Not being desirous to marry, she challenged her suitors to a race—the penalty of defeat to be death. She rid herself of numerous suitors in this way; but Hippomenes, one of these, won his race by dropping at intervals three golden apples given him by Aphrodite. Atalanta, tempted, stopped to pick them up and was outstripped by her lover.
