

THERE ARE IMITATIONS NOW

But Newbro's Herpicide Was The First Dandruff Germ Destroyer

A discovery can be made but once. After that all similar acts become emulations, imitations or an attempt at substitution. Newbro's Herpicide is a discovery. It was the first remedy ever given to science to kill the dandruff germ. Other preparations have since been offered to the public, some similar in appearance, some in odor, but all bringing the daring promise of doing the same things that Herpicide has been doing for some years.

NEARLY KILLED BY INTERCOLONIAL TRAIN

Thomas Best is Struck By Freight - Hockey Notes - I. C. R. Transfers

(Special to Times)

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 25.—Thomas Best of Lewistown while coming to work in Moncton this morning was struck by an I. C. R. train and nearly killed. He was walking on the track. Apparently he was carrying a box of tools. He was picked up by the train and stepped out of it by the front door. A freight train eastbound going out of Moncton. He stepped into the tracks of the freight, and the cowcatcher caught him, throwing him into a ditch. Both trains were stopped and the injured man was picked up unconscious and taken to the home of his brother James Best here.

As a result of the change of the I. C. R. system of accounting, several transfers of I. C. R. employees from Moncton are being made including the following: Walter Morton, Charles Hamann and Charles Brown to New Glasgow; Fred Sears, J. A. McDonald, Joseph J. Gure and Royal Belyea, to Truro; J. J. King, Graham Swetnam and A. R. Thibodeau to Campbellton; J. J. Belanger, William Walsh and James Stewart to Lewis.

The London Market. London, Nov. 25.—There was no American demand for the $5,000,000 new gold offered in the open market yesterday and the entire amount was taken by the Bank of England. Money was in good demand and discount rates were easy. The Continental political situation was responsible for an easier tendency on the stock exchange, with the commencement in the mining settlement further restricted business.

Wall Street Notes.

Americans in London steady, 14 to 5 1/2 up but quotations for new account. Carry over loans on American six p. c. Banks charged 5 1/2 p. c. for stock exchange loans. Console 75, off 3/16.

Democrats are now drafting currency measure in Washington. Reports from the steel strike are not reassuring. The World says the Inter-State Commerce Commission will not permit any advance in freight rates.

The market holds surprisingly well, indicating that the stocks are in strong hands, but declines of 2 p. c. in inactive stocks show a small demand. In case of a let up in money, we should get a fairly rally. On the fair rally, the opportunity should be taken to dispose of stocks, especially those that will be affected by the tariff discussion.

Thursday will be a holiday and some evening up is likely before that. Steamers will be called tomorrow. U. S. Steel will be affected by the strike news. Still looks like a trading market. SHEARSON, HAMMILL & CO.

SASKATCHEWAN INVESTIGATION HAS BEEN ORDERED

Regina, Sask., Nov. 26.—After a debate lasting from three o'clock yesterday afternoon until early this morning the legislature passed an amended resolution introduced by Premier Scott providing for a thorough investigation by a select committee of the house into the election charges made by Hon. Robert Rogers in Montreal as well as alleged unconstitutional interference in provincial politics by federal ministers and general electioneering by officials in the payment of the department of the interior.

The opposition amendment calling for an investigation by a committee of judges from the supreme court was lost on a straight party vote 33 to 7. Both parties admitted the necessity of an inquiry of some kind, the only matter of opinion being on what nature the tribunal should take.

HEARING IN MAGISTRATE MATTER SENSATIONAL

(Continued from page 1) "I admit the Lenihan matter. It was my recollection about Edmund Ritchie left my home to see Lenihan and that soon after Lenihan arrived and gave me the money.

"In repaying the money to Mr. Ritchie I merely followed the procedure of the law. I have returned money to your own son, one of the disreputable young men in town after he had been in Armasan, he never goes on streets at night."

The magistrate then read a long list of names of whom money had been paid in the same manner, the number including the names of E. S. Ritchie and J. A. Barry.

Proceeding, he said that it was his memory that he had a conversation with Lenihan after he had been in Armasan and had told Lenihan to see E. S. Ritchie.

"I continued with a most emphatic denial that he ever had the money," Mr. Ritchie said, "was on the opposite side of the case. I had paid the money to him through these conspirators, these intriguers."

The commissioner—"Mr. Ritchie—the magistrate—"They are conspirators, and you should know it. I am informed that there was a conference of five men in your office, including the head conspirator, the Becker who employs the gentlemen."

"This is the man who always refers to me as old E. and who has said that he was wished to God I would drop dead on the street."

More Revenue Needed by City, Says Commissioner-The School Finances

In the discussion of the report of the auditor on the accounts of the board of school trustees yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the city commissioners, Mayor Frink said that the expenditure for school purposes was going ahead at a rapid rate, and if the reports were true the teachers' salaries would be put on starvation wages, but it would seem with the large expenditure that the teachers should be getting more than at present.

He pointed out that about one-quarter of the total assessment is being used for school purposes. Mayor Frink quoted the amounts collected for school purposes during the last eight years, and these showed that the increase had been at the rate of nearly 50 per cent. from $108,000 in 1905, to $163,728 in 1912.

Commissioner Schofield explained that with the great demand at present on the treasury there was a need of much more money than at present available. The commissioners have been considering the matter and the best they can see is an increase of $200,000 which means a revenue of $40,000. With the new streets necessary and additions to the water and sewerage there would have to be a curtailment somewhere during the next year.

Mayor Frink also brought up the subject of the west side improvements undertaken by the C. P. R. He pointed out that the railroad had constructed a crib work from below Blue Rock around to Protection street, and that the site of the elevator was on land formerly owned by the city, but given to the federal government in exchange for another strip. The report of the agreement was being violated as the building of the new elevator would practically cut off the entrance to the 400 foot strip, excepting from the west.

The mayor is to communicate with the proper department in regard to the terms of the agreement between the city and the government and call attention to the violation of its terms.

The report of the audit of the accounts of the board of school trustees as submitted by Adam P. Mackintosh, city comptroller and auditor, showed that the statement of assets and liabilities as submitted to the commissioners was correct. No disbursements had matured during the year. The sinking fund held by the board on June 30, 1912, amounted to $44,284.65. The board expended during the year $3,382.23 more than its income. The capital expenditure not headed for on June 30, 1912, was as follows: King Edward school $3,206.67 Fire Escape 2,858.07 Winter street annex 8,610.34 High School (franchise) 2,286.78 Office property 21,968.78 $46,290.34

Debentures to the amount of $50,000 will mature during the next year, but the sinking fund will cover that.
