

PTION,

LAINTS.

nchills. Influence

st and Side. Lungs, m. ac.

yora, Singera,

O TASTE.

TERFEITS AND

WLE & SON. REET, EOSTON.

BRATED SALVE WOUNDS, PRUIS
S, SAUT RHEUM, KIN
HANDS, POLIS,
PELONS, CHILIS, COMES, 20

BRATED SALVE es pain at once, and reduces tilings and inflammations, as rehef and a complete cure.

EXTS A BOX. & SON, BOSTON,

Machines.

AMILY SHOULD HAVE Origina WEED

AMES STOOP, Ag cut.

NGE HOTEL, STREET, OP PARTY.

The St. Andrews Standard.

PUBLISHED BY A. W. SMITH.]

E VARIIS SUMENDUM EST OPTIMUM .- Cic

1$2 50 PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE

No 4

SAINT ANDREWS NEW BRUNSWICK, JANUARY 24, 1872

Vol 39

Bockey.

A Winter Morning on the Mohawk

Bright the eastern sky is beaming On the earth's fresh dress of so Flushed, with sky tints, softly gleaming, That no pencil's touch can show.

Every branch both high and low, All the diamond's hues combining,

Slowly like a serpent twining. Darkly blue the waters flow : While colours, like the pearl-shell's lining, Tint the banks of virgin snow.

Like the Summer's spectres frighted, On the hillside dimly lighted By the winter morning's slicen.

In the woods the jays are winging Back and forth from tree to tree, To the cheery matin-singing Of the merry chicadee. The squirrels start up from their napping

In the hollow maple tree,

Where the woodpecker is tapping All around his reveille. 'Neath the turquoise vault go streaming jetty crows-that fly, Like Night's rearguard, from the gleaming

Of the rosy morning sky. Up then, when the Night's reign closes, All who Health's great prize would seek; For, though Winter claims no roses, Still be plants them in the cheek !

and promising money only on condition of success, I was prompted to hazard the spec-it agreed things in the hold of the vessel. with my adventurous disposition, and I signed arloathsome reptile. His profile was that of a baboon; his eyes peering from under his heavy brows, twinkled with a satanie wickedness, and with it?" he growled. ed to be looking all ways at once; and when he laughed, his satanic majesty himself might have envied his ugly grin. My employer shunned him, and would gladly have parted with him, but no other could be got to engage in such a fool-

Having got the diving bell and other apparatus we at last set sail on this novel pursuit The voyage was fine, and having nothing to do, I enjoyed it very much, and was even softening towards my fellow diver when we reached that part of the coast of Florida where the sunken wreck lay, and where our fortunes were

We were a considerable time in discovering the wreck, but we found it at last, far down in the depths of the still blue sea, where troops of sharks were pursuing each other about and through it for want of better prey. No pleasant sight, I can assure you. My fellow diver gave them a fearful go ye a third new and took an extra long pull at his brandy Never shall I be dishonest, I said, after flask. As for myself the affair seemed more dan gerous than ever. The vessel would have to be perfectly calm.

Let the reader imagine the scene in a bell which resulted in to arise, ill fate would catch us, for there is little cy to be expected for a ship from the cruel very best heart, saying to myself, "My dear fellow, the more danger the more money." Jim swindled, muttering at the end, but "I'll pay to terrify

We pulled back to the ship, after placing a buoy to mark the spot. The two next days Jim Crow and I were busy preparing our things for the attack on the sunken wreck. The tide of my thoughts were checked by my work, but I still wave, and even to me the scene was frest. The scale of the deep, of still be plants them in the cheek!

Lifeffilm Cale.

A SUBMARINE STORY.

I follow a very hazardous calling, or, at all events, a calling in which, if you choose to face dangers for the sake of higher renuneration, perilous adventures are common enough. I am not too presumptions when I say I am as brave as most mee, naturally, and my-sense of foar has been further blunted by a con-tant companionship time he was in the cheek?

Sill be plants them in the cheek!

A SUBMARINE STORY.

I follow a very hazardous calling, or, at all events, a calling in which, if you choose to face dangers for the sake of higher renuneration, perilous adventures are common enough. I am not too presumptions when I say I am as brave as most mee, naturally, and my-sense of foar has been further blunted by a con-tant companionship with the was in the cabin searching about. I may be want to sir stilled our efforts. As the fires be done, year, and the danger. The adventure I am about to paracte was horrible enough to me when I was a principal actor mit, and to this day an involuntary shudder of horror accompanies the recoilee the off of it.

Some years ago a large tvessal laden with a smiled cargo, was bound to New York from Soath America. Strising a sunken reef off the danger.

Thus our total results are the plants of the bars of wood by a principal actor mit, and to the bars of the bars of wood by a principal actor mit, and to the week as head to be a branch of the bars of wood by a principal state of the bars of wood by a principal was nad to loss the bound and small, darting about the water, and lighter we grip. The bound of the bars of wood by a principal was nad to loss the bound and the bars of wood by a principal was nad to loss the bound and the bars of wood by a principal was nad to loss the bound and the bars of wood by a principal was not to loss the bars of wood by a principal was not to loss the bars of the bars of wood of the bars of wood of the bars of wood of Some years ago a large vessel laden with a hauled on deck several things to which we had at mixed cargo, was bound to New York from South America. Striking a sunken reef off the danger were exulting, and the sailors cracked over the fusion in my head defy all description. After there stood the Judge holding on to a sapling his way towards the cabin. By this tune my sus-picions regarding his evil intentions were quited, bad in his head. They put him yet there still lingered about him traces of obstiof the heirs in New York, fitted out a large yacht, nate sulkiness, so that I took very little notice of had gone to the backwoods of the far west.

I think about half an-hour must have passed with my adventurous disposition, and I righted articles, and shipped myself. After a deal of trouble we picked up another diver, a coarse, brutal, drunken rascal; whose conduct as hereafter seen will sufficiently justify these remarks. From the beginning I had a kind of antipathy against the appeared I guessed it was a bag, and the keeping myself as quiet as possible.

The devil I will! he shouted, savagely.
Then you shall be forced when we get of ways carried it in my boot.

I suspected something of this, I said.

He scowled heavily at use at the other side

Now you must tell me what that is? I said But nothing daunted, the ruffian cried, "I will see you dead first !"

I knew his mighty strength, but I also knew some deliberation, looking pale, I dare say, but forty feet under water; it would take at least that the writer of the appended sketch, in com forty feet under water; it would take at least that the writer of the appended sketch, in com twenty minutes to pull it up. A fierce fight, perhaps a deadly one, might be finished by perhaps a deadly one, might be finished by perhaps a deadly one, might be finished by then. Suspicion might be hushed; the body could be flung to the ravenous sharks with which we sometimes had to combat with our which we sometimes had to combat with our frightful, alter pointed crowbars; but our frightful, and the bottles that peeped out from the bas gloomy appearance might have been enough to terrify the inhabitants of the deep.

We stood eveng each other for some time: the mysic of his laugh, until the horse con-his sentence very strapiciously, which did not tend to increase my confidence respecting his intenyou take shares?

No! was the firm answer. l'erhaps it is not large enough?

You won't give in ! he said.

hugely big and strong, and wicked withal.

With many such reflections I took my place in the bell, and amidst the hurrahs of the crew and the excitement of the master, we dipped into the sea. Common life had passed away, and, to a movice, a new world opens to his eyes beneath the wave, and even to me the scene was fresh. The was allowed to break my back; coral reefs, like grand architectural structure, his strength seemed almost superhuman, but what sheels of the deep of shifting off the hars of wood he a stringle ware.

from her in a lonely sea, and on a dangerous were down in the bell, that Crow again wended my fee, but the master gave two hundred him to our back on a barn-door. On his was my fee, but the master gave two hundred him to our back on a barn-door. On his was They put him into an hos-

The winter care of stock is a topic on which abominable indifference to legibility. appeared I guessed it was a bag, and the though flashed across my mind—a bag of though flashed across my mind—a bag of morey. I quietly asked Crow what it was.

"Humph I nothing. What have ye to do we go in for giving them all the privileges of this sort possible. Some farmers are strong rise." This was corrected in the proof; but advocates for feeding often and a little at a the reporter who declared of a certain new time getting up in the argainst of the same acrost with held with held the proof; but advocates for feeding often and a little at a the reporter who declared of a certain new time getting up in the argainst of the same acrost with held with held the proof; but advocates for feeding often and a little at a the reporter who declared of a certain new time getting up in the argainst of the same acrost with held with held the proof; but advocates for feeding often and a little at a the reporter who declared of a certain new time getting up in the argainst casting their pearls the during the pearls the proof of the same acrost with the My curiosity was farther aroused by this nawer.

Well you must tell me what it is, I said, teeping myself as quiet as possible.

The devil I will! he shouted, savagely. Then you shall be forced when we get on leck, I replied, resolutely.

Ha! ha! forced! Here he quietly drew a long knife.

Quick as thought mine was out, too, for I always carried it in my boot.

I anspected something of this. I said. lost. Sleep is 'kind nature's sweet restorer" He was pursued next morning by Emily's exto cattle as to men, and arousing them from their slumbers at nine o'clock in the evening that "we will harrow her grave with our and at five o clock of a winter's morning is steers."

disturbing the economy of nature's laws. Sleep and food are the two great restorers of exhaustic with the could be coul ted vitality, and the one is just as essential as of the bard who insisted in his copy, that the other. Whoever cots short the due at "kissed her under the silent stars" to 8 the other. Whoever cots short the due af lowance of sleep for his stock, must compen-

It was during the Presidential campaign terrify the inhabitants of the deep.

sparkle of his wit, the flavor of his jokes, and
We stood eyeing each other for some time; the music of his laugh, until the happy con tagion even reached the driver

Our fun was at its highest when, turning & I attempted nothing farther.

Curve in the road we saw, down its hot, dusty ignorant, but chemists and other men of science.

After a few minutes pause he said, Will stretch, a solitary ox cart, with its owner perch. in France, Germany, Italy, and England, by the ed upon what proved to be bags of corn. A. a impunity with which he handled red hot iron and kind of advance guard, a great, brindle dog molten lead, drank boiling oil, and performed came trotting along in advance; and attracted other feats equally miraculous. When he was at by our noise, he threw himself in an attitude. Naples, he attracted the notice of Professor Se-with a long and sharp knife, which I stack unobserved down my long leathern boot. Crow struck one in his belt, saying with a rather diabolical laugh, "I think it is better being prepared for water sharks," and I almost think he added, "land sharks." This opened my eyes a little, and some rather curiful speculations flitted through my brain. He was a man to be feared, being

my brain. He was a man to be feared, being
hugely big and strong, and wicked withal.

With many such reflections I took my place in

With many such reflections I took my place in is hattempt on my life. He parried it, but it caught him on the shoulder, however, he clutcheach other; the foam burst from his bloodless shoulders, stuck his old slouch hat on the back lips, and his passion wrought face istimidated me more than his bloodthirsty strokes.

At last he made a forcible effort to free his arm, but I held it with desperation. Amid arm, but I held it with desperation. Amid was quiet, and the only sound was the hurried bugely big and strong, and wicked withal.

With many such reflections I took my place is ous shore of Florida, she was wrecked, and very few of the passengers or seamen escaped.

The owner, who was also captain, was drowned.

We took up a subscription for the poor fellow.

The linquired for Crow; he was in a delirium.

They told me, when the bell was brought he They headed the list with control of the poor fellow. owner, who was also captain, was drowned. His heirs lived in New York. It appears the vessel had settled down in the ocean, having escaped the attack of any storm, so as might be supposed her cargo would be pretty well recoverable, but it was a useless and foolish attempt to try to get anything a useless and foolish attempt to try to get anything the supposed her cargo would be pretty well recoverable, but it was a useless and foolish attempt to try to get anything the supposed her cargo would be pretty well recoverable, but it was and the schooner became pretty well laden. In the process of the poor fellow. They do may be used to the bars as dead, grasping the gold bag nearly covering the damages, and we added to with both his hands. They also told me that they but rescued me from a shark hovering and the schooner became pretty well laden. In the process of the p pretty well recoverable, but it was and the schooner became pretty well laden. I shattempt to try to get anything think it was about the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working, as we lonely sea, and on a dangerous to the last day of working the last Crow was still home he insisted upon standing on his head.

Blunders of Writer and Types.

The amusement afforded by ludicrous typographical errors will be in-xhaustible while printers are fallible and editors write with farmers greatly disagree Some keep their cattle housed almost constantly, never letting them except for water; others let them bask the "Bulletin." The writer, who had can I then told him, as better them bask the "Bulletin." The writer, who had can I then told him, as better them bask the "Bulletin." the sunshine and rub themselves for hours tioned his readers against "casting their pearls that Mr. Dorr was opposing the settlement, and "kissed her under the silent stars." Crow said again, It is a bag of gold I found in the cabin, and if you hold your jaw I shall go ye a third

Never shall I be dishonest, I said, after

Never shall I be dishonest, I said, after

I wance of sleep for his stock, must compete the cellar stairs." A certain her under the cellar stairs. A certain her under the cellar stairs. What is better than hay.

Never shall I be dishonest, I said, after

nied to the altar by EIGHT bridesmaids,' the types made it that "the bride was accompanied to the altar by TIGHT bridesmaids." These things are peculiarly unpleasant when they oc-

About the year 1869, one Lionetto, a Spaniard, (writes a French chemist,) astonished not only the noticed that Crow was in an evil mood. After about four days were spent the ship was anchored. The bell was swing for the plunge, and Crow and I went below and dressed. My suspicions seemed now on the increase, and my readers that I was very fearful, but I provided myself with a long and sharp knife, which I stack unobserved down my long leathern book. Crow and that I was very dearful, but I provided myself with a long and sharp knife, which I stack unobserved down my long leathern book. Crow and that I was very dearful, but I provided myself with a long and sharp knife, which I stack unobserved down my long leathern book. Crow and the same of defiance, determined to dispute our advance. With his savage growl, red eyes and erect bristles, be, indeed presented a formidable appearance. Judge M. could not let such an opportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that, when Lionetto apportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that, when Lionetto apportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that, when Lionetto apportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that, when Lionetto apportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that, when Lionetto apportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that, when Lionetto apportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that, when Lionetto apportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that, when Lionetto apportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that we could not let such an opportunity for a practical joke pass. Said her, in the first place, that is a said to make the possible of the form of the first place and the possible of t ance, determined to dispute our advance menteni, who narrowly watched all his operations, came from the frighened He then determined on again rubbing the parts point of making a unanimous call for a very acthe name of Dorr, began a violent opposition to the candidate, rallied a party, and threatened to the matter was under discussion, a half-witted fellow rose in the house, and said he wanted to tell a dream he had last night. He thought he died, and went away where the good people go, and as soon as Satan saw him. "he asked me where I came

"From Lyme, in Connecticut," I told him right

"Ah! and what are they doing in Lyme?" he

"They are trying to settle a minister," I said. "Settle a minister!" he cried out. "I must put a stop to that! Bring me my boots; I must go to I then told him, as he was drawing on his boots very likely he would prevent it altogether. "My sarvent Dorr !" exclaimed his mujesty;

omy sarrent Dorr! Here, take my boots , if my sarvent Dorr is at work, there is no need of my going at all !"

This speech did the tusiness. Mr. Dorr made no farther opposition; the minister was settled, but his opponent carried the title "my servent Dorr" with him to the grave.

When does an editor play a singular trick with grammar? When he declines an article.

He who loses money loses much; he who loses a friend loses more; but he who loses his spirits The man who said two porcupines make one teers."

The poets suffer most deeply. Nothing professor of the higher mathematics. The minister who divides his discouses into too many heads will find it difficult to procure attentive ears for all of them. A fashionable party is now called Daughe

What is better than a promising young man?

Original issues in Poor Condition Best copy available