A GREAT PROPOSITION.

Seven Large Volumes Delivered on Payment of Only One Dollar.

It would be difficult to conceive a more attractive proposition than the one now briefly offered by the Canadian Newspaper Syndicate, in connection with that truly great work the Encyclopaedia Dictionary.

This unequalled reference library which was seventeen years in preparation; which claimed the attention of such editors as Professors Huxley and Proctor and other educators hardly less renowned, which cost over $750,000 to produce, may now be had on terms placing it easily within the reach of all.

On payment of only one dollar the seven large volumes of over 5,000 superbly illustrated pages are delivered at once and the balance is arranged in small monthly amounts.

The confidence of the Syndicate that the work will be gladly received, thoroughly appreciated and cheerfully paid for is shown by sending a valuable set of books (regular price $42) on an advance payment of only one dollar.

The address of the Syndicate is 163 St. James Street, Montreal.

ARE OLD CUSTOMS DEPARTING.

Should the Rahland affair have been given to the Outside World.

TRURO, March 11.—I read with considerable interest your account of the eviction of the poor tenant in the large house on Hallis street, where the people were driven out by removing the windows on one of the coldest days of the season.

writes a Truro correspondent. The account of the proceedings as given by you, that took place within the sacred precincts of St. John's lodge, where Grand Master Rahland and Past Grand Master MacCoy met, was interesting, and the dirty linen in connection with the affair seems, with the assistance of Hon. Wm. Rose, to have been thoroughly washed out. The last paragraph of the letter is as interesting as any, where your Halifax correspondent states that Mr. Rahland denies that he ordered the taking out of the windows, that he even knew nothing of them coming out, and that as soon as he learned of it, he had the glass promptly restored. The property, I understand belongs to the Collins estate.

What would Brenton Collins the millionaire owner, who now resides in London, think when he read the statement that the glass was removed without the knowledge of his agent. If five sashes of glass could be taken out of the building in broad daylight, and the tenants be frozen out without the knowledge of the agent for twelve hours or more, one would think that to set himself right with the owner, Mr. Rahland must needs rise before him and explain. Whatever wrong-doing may occasionally occur in the fair city of Halifax it is surely not customary for windows to be carried of wholesale in that city by the sea.

Past Grand Master MacCoy seems to have acted in the genuine spirit of the good free-mason when he so promptly went to the assistance of the afflicted, even though they were sufferers at the hands of the Grand Master of the order himself, as certainly appeared to be the case. The check he gave for the poor people was invested in heaven, and was one of the best outlays the Recorder of the city of Halifax ever made. The disbursement does credit to the head and the heart of Mr. MacCoy.

The proceedings of masonic lodges are generally veiled in the deepest secrecy, but in the case of the chastisement of the grand master by his immediate predecessor in the office, there seems to have been a departure from this rule for we are given what appears to be practically a verbatim report of this interesting discussion. Are the masonic lodges of Halifax leaving the ancient landmarks of the order? It looks as if they were, judging at least by the publicity of this case. Possibly the sensational character of this incident, however, warranted him whoever he was, who gave to the profane outside world the details of that scene in St. John's lodge, Halifax, which said to be one of the swell lodges of the order in Nova Scotia.

Some one, sure enough, has told tales out of school and looking at it from the distance of Truro, I for one, who by the way am a mason myself, can hardly feel like blaming the bearer of the news from that lodge-room. I sincerely hope, however, that the occasions to write such a story as that of Mr. Rahland and the windows, and the apparent justification for anyone telling what was said in the lodge room, will not soon reappear. It is hard on the individual and rough on the order.

We have been having a genuine sensation here in Truro for some days over the statements of Miss Murphy, a young woman who has mentioned the names of many people in this town in a way that neither they nor their friends have by any means relished. Miss Murphy is clearly non-compos mentis, but some of the men whom she charges with conduct unbecoming gentlemen and good Truro men, will, nevertheless, have considerable difficulty in removing all the stigma that her charges have attached to them.

Any one can use Paint that is properly prepared and use it in the right place. The difficulty is that most people do not know the difference between good paint and poor paint, nor the proper place to use even a good paint. All paints are not alike. One may be good for outdoor use, and not for indoor use, one may give a bright, glossy finish, another an oil finish that can be washed. It is knowing what to use, and where to use it, that makes painting a success.

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS FAMILY PAINT is made for touching up the little things about the house. It gives an oil finish. It can be washed—so it is suited for shelves, cupboards, etc.

Our booklet "Paint Points," covers the ground. It tells what you need to know about good or bad paint. It tells what to use for a buggy, what for a bath tub, for iron bedstead, for a house, for a floor, for a bench. It is a practical book for the home. It is free to any address. Send for it to-day. AS WELL AS EVER.

A Brickmaker Listens to Reason—Uses Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Tells It.

BROCKVILLE Feb. 8 (Special) Mr. W. H. Odell perhaps one of the best known citizens of this town has lately recovered from a long continued and painful kidney ailment. He tells the story of his own experience to the correspondent as follows:—

"I have suffered for over a year from kidney disease, the pain in my back being so severe that I was unable to stand to my work."

"Noticing the published cures of what Dodd's Kidney Pills were doing for others I concluded to use them."

"Having used only six boxes I can say that I am perfectly cured and well so that I can attend to business as well as ever I could."

Plenty of Light.

The buildings of the Indian school at Flandreau, in South Dakota, are to be illuminated by electric lights. It was not very long ago that the peoposes and young braves learned the legends and traditions of their tribes by the light of the camp-fire or of a birch-bark torch. The world moves, and in this epoch almost everybody moves with it.

Putnam's Corn Extractor.

Cures in twenty-four hours. This is the testimony of tens of thousands who have used it. Putnam's acts speedily, without pain, and removes corns in twenty-four hours.

No Talk Needed.

Chumley—You're a mighty poor talker, especially to ladies. How did you raise the nerve to propose to Miss Sweet?

Dumley—Oh—aw; I didn't say much of anything; I handed my ring to her and she shipped it on her left finger, and said, 'All right, it fits!'

It Still Survives.

The Apostle Paul quoted from a Cretan writer to the effect that "the Cretians are always liars." The conflicting reports from Crete, in which not all the misstatements and exaggerations are chargeable to the Turks, suggest that the habit of prevarication survives in that island.

To the Electors of the City of St. John.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

Having been urged to become a candidate for the office of Mayor of Saint John by a large number of representative fellow citizens, who have signed a requisition to that effect, I readily comply with a request which entirely concurs with my personal aspirations.

I have always taken a lively interest in all that relates to the city and having had considerable experience in the management of its affairs, I am not without reasonable confidence that, as its chief magistrate, I might be of some use in both guarding and advancing its welfare.

I may be pardoned for reminding you that my ancestors and nearest relations, as well as myself, have in the past, each contributed towards the development of property in this community, and I need only add that, while I shall always entertain supreme satisfaction in having passed my life in its midst, my proper ambition must remain unsatisfied until I shall have secured from my fellow citizens, the highest recognition of good citizenship.

I therefore respectfully request you to give me your votes for the office of Mayor at the approaching election, assuring you that, if elected I shall devote my very best efforts to the discharge of the duties of that most important as well as honorable position, and am always,

Your Most Obedient Servant,
CHARLES McLAUGHLAN.

To the Electors of the City of St. John.

GENTLEMEN:

I will be a candidate for the office of

at the coming civic election on the THIRD-TUESDAY IN APRIL, and respectfully solicit your support. If elected I will use my best endeavors to promote the interests of the city.

I am yours faithfully,
T. H. HALL.
