GRUESOME COLLECTION CONTINUES TO GROW.

Before and during the autopsy today a considerable posse of searchers traversed the underbrush and swamps in the vicinity of the previous findings, for the missing portions of the body.

Several small ponds in the vicinity will also be dragged. From marks on the body it was thought to be that of a young woman in North Scituate but practical comparison disproves this.

SENSATIONAL SCENES IN KENTVILLE COURT

BRODEUR FOR BENCH IS THE SCHEME NOW

Latest Batch Of Rumors Slates Minister Of Marine To Succeed Mr. Justice Girard.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—The Hon. L. P. Brodeur to be appointed to the Supreme Court bench, replacing Mr. Justice Groulx, retired, Mr. Hy Beland, M. P., forBeauce, to succeed Hon. Mr. Brodeur in the cabinet, and the Hon. R. Dandurand, to be a Minister without portfolio, constitutes the latest batch of political rumors which are likely to become accomplished facts before the opening of Parliament.

The Quebec Deputation. The Quebec deputation is not very fruitful in men of cabinet strength hence the probability of all three portfolios being located in the district of Quebec. To be sure the Postmaster General is looked upon as a Montreal man but he does not exercise the patronage of the Montreal end of the Province of Quebec. This has along fallen to the lot of the present Minister of Marine, whose place in the cabinet, although perhaps rumor to the member for the county of Beauce—Mr. H. Beland—stands head and shoulders above any man in his district, although perhaps not in the same class as Mr. H. Germain, M. P. for St. James.

The authorities of the Turkish Bath Hotel refused to make any statement, but from guests of the hotel it was learned that the accident occurred in the furnace room, in which the water is heated for the bath, and the hot rooms attached to it. The colored victim was an old and popular servant of the hotel, employed in the bath department.

The dead man, Ouellette, was employed as bell boy, and was in the boiler room by accident. The plug in the boiler blew out. The cause is not yet known.

here this afternoon. Her husband and two sons, Miles and Herbert, and one daughter, Miss Alice Dennison, survive. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon and interment made in the Methodist cemetery here. The deceased was born in Keswick, York County.

Miss Chalefour, With Whom Sir Frederick Borden Is Alleged To Have Committed Improprieties, Is Heard In Evidence—Complains of a Deficient Memory, and Alternates Between the Affirmation and Denial of the Authorship of Certain Letters—Caps All By Destroying Matter Placed In Evidence—Mrs. Archambault Testifies.

Special to The Standard. Kentville, N. S., Oct. 13.—Interest in the famous Sir Frederick Borden versus Carruthers case is still at fever heat and the thermometer of public interest is rising. Every hotel is filled to overflowing and private houses last night harbored commercial men and others not lucky enough to get rooms in the hotels.

The scene in the court house when the morning session opened was impressive and significant of the great interest in the case. On the bench was His Lordship, Judge Drysdale, keen-eyed and ever alert. Below were the officers of the court.

On the right of the bench sat Mrs. Archambault, the woman in whose house at Montreal Sir Frederick is alleged to have committed the alleged breaches of propriety. A French woman, her accent was largely tinged with French. Of small stature and ripe years, with hair gray and with shoulders bent by hard work, she sat through the long trial, the cynosure of many eyes.

Back of a long table sat the counsel. W. E. Roscoe was assisted by H. H. Wickwire, K. C., J. J. Ritchie was supported by A. E. Dunlop. The intellectual giants were well matched and no ground was lost by either side without an attack from every side.

Back of the rail in the doorways, in the ante rooms, hallways, on window sills, clinging to wall mouldings, occupying in fact every available space of vantage sat and stood the spectators. Many of the spectators had come many miles to be present and not only appreciated the many interesting situations, but enjoyed the retorts of the ladies and the lawyers.

At the afternoon session Mr. Wickwire sprang a surprise when he called Miss Chalefour in rebuttal. Her identity was established. She gave her age as 45 years. She went to Montreal on account of ill health for a time was employed in the crown and lumber office of the Quebec Government.

WANTS TO IMPORT ASIATICS FOR WORK AT WINDSOR YESTERDAY

Special to The Standard. Windsor, N. S., Oct. 13.—All the pieces of business were closed here this afternoon in token of respect for the late C. S. Wilcox, M.L.A., whose funeral service was held at Christ Church at 2 p. m. this afternoon and the remains interred in Maplewood cemetery.

The funeral procession was the largest ever held here in many years. The faculty and students of Kings College in caps and gowns and the boys of the collegiate school conducted by the headmaster, Mr. Handsomby, wearing his cap and gown, formed an imposing part of the long parade.

A large number of prominent Conservatives and Liberals came to attend the funeral. Among them were Premier Murray, W. A. B. Ritchie, barrister, Robt. Finn, M.L.A. Halifax, C. Campbell, M.L.A., Kings county, J. B. Bailey, M.L.A., New Glasgow, E. A. O'Brien, President Hans County Conservative Association, Noel.

She explained here whereabouts up to two years ago when she was in Louisiana for her health. Twenty years ago she left home on account of ill health and unsatisfactory conditions at home. She went to a friend's home, but her mother followed her there and she left.

Not in Good Health. Miss Chalefour stated that she went to her aunt's in Toronto at one time and was taken back to Ottawa by her uncle Mr. Graham. Her mother said nothing on her return. On a previous occasion her mother had pulled her out of bed by her hair.

Her Position. Miss Chalefour's position in the Crown and Timber office was secured for her through the good offices of a former boarder at her mother's house. She had finally taken a good house which she sublet to others who paid well for the rooms.

By Way of Apology. She said this by way of apology. Miss Chalefour said she stayed at Miss Ellen Williams as a guest. She did not see Sir Frederick Borden there. She had stayed at Madame Clements for a month. The next year she had been in Boston in 1886 about a month or six weeks with a lady, a companion. She could not remember the street or the hotel. She had never stayed at the Stanley House, Montreal. Miss Chalefour spent a year at Jacksonville, staying at a hotel called The Palms part of the time.

To Mr. Ritchie. To Mr. Ritchie Miss Chalefour said she arrived in town in the morning. Last night she had spent in a hotel some miles from Kentville. She did not know what the name of the place was but she could not say when she arrived in Yarmouth. Four years ago she had had an enlargement of the head, and her memory was bad ever since. She could not say what day of the week it was. It might be Wednesday. She arrived in Yarmouth on Sunday. She had not known at first, not having given it time to think, she had not known how many passengers there were, nor how many cars. She travelled alone. She was quite sure she started out from Yarmouth the same day. She was very at Middleton to rest when she had said she did not know why she stayed off it was due to a little play of memory. She had had no arrangements with any person to stay off at Middleton. No one knew she was going to stay off there. She thought she went to the Alexandria hotel at Middleton. She had heard the driver call it by that name. She had arrived there about one o'clock. She would not say what she had said about her arrival in Yarmouth.

Not in Good Health. Miss Chalefour stated that she went to her aunt's in Toronto at one time and was taken back to Ottawa by her uncle Mr. Graham. Her mother said nothing on her return. On a previous occasion her mother had pulled her out of bed by her hair.

SUSSEX CASE ADJOURNED TO RESUME HERE

Hornbrook Inquiry Goes Over For a Time When Argument By Counsel Will Be Heard—Yesterday's Evidence.

Special to The Standard. Sussex, N. B., Oct. 13.—The Hornbrook inquiry, so far as Sussex is concerned, is over. When Commissioner Hazen adjourned the hearing this afternoon he stated that he would hold another session in St. John when arguments of counsel will be heard, and the evidence of a couple of witnesses taken. The afternoon was wholly occupied in the cross-examination of Magistrate Hornbrook.

Weyman Recalled. The most interesting point brought out today was the reversion to the question of accounts submitted to the county council. Former Inspector Weyman was recalled and strongly maintained his former assertion that two fines were imposed on Seymour Cole instead of the one accounted for.

Sensational Daylight Robbery In Chicago — Fashionably Dressed Bandit Holds Up Entire Office Staff Of Bank.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 13.—A fashionably dressed bandit who early this afternoon robbed the savings bank of D. M. Erskine and Company, in Highland Park, Ill., an aristocratic suburb on the lake shore, 25 miles north of Chicago, committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth when driven to bay by the Highland Park marshal and a posse of citizens.

A companion of the robber who had driven him to the bank in an automobile was captured immediately after the robbery, forcing the principal perpetrator of the daring daylight crime to flee on foot. He was engaged in a running duel with Town Marshal John Sheehan, who was the target for many bullets from the fugitive bandit's revolver, one of which went through the sleeve of his coat.

Returned Later. The visitor thanked him and left. He drove away and returned a little after 2 o'clock in the afternoon. He cleared the bank while his companion remained outside in the automobile. "Did you find Williams?" asked Duffy when his visitor re-entered. "No, he wasn't there," the stranger replied.
