

THE TOPICS OF SPORT AT HOME AND ABROAD

BANGOR LOST TO GREEKS

Yesterday afternoon the Marathons defeated the Bangor team by a score of eight to five. The game was a good one with the exception of the fifth inning, when the Bangor pitcher blew up and, with hits and errors, the Greeks managed to get no less than six men across the plate.

The umpire was one McCann and, while his intentions may be good, his decisions are bad and he was open to a great deal of comment during the game. In fact, he stood aside from players who, from the Bangor bench and from the field, called him numerous insulting names and one of the Bangor managers was heard to remark that he would never again allow his team to play in a game that McCann was umpiring.

The game went along smoothly until the fifth inning, when ten Marathons went to bat. O'Brien opened by getting a base on balls and went to second on Little's sacrifice to the pitcher. Black was hit by a pitched ball. Watt slashed the ball to left field for two bases and scored O'Brien and a bad throw by Tewhey to third allowed Black to score and Watt to reach third. Then singled to left and scored Watt. Then stole second. Waterhouse reached first on LeBrun's error. Riley singled to right and then was thrown out at the plate. Nolan hit safely to short scoring Waterhouse and putting Riley on third. Shanley was next to bat and slashed a hit to right field which scored Riley and Nolan. O'Brien came to bat for the second time in the inning and fled out to left field and retired the side.

In the second inning with one out Bangor started in and made three runs. Mayo singled to centre. Hammond hit to third and forced Lambrey out at that bag. LeBrun singled to right, scoring Mayo and placing Hammond on third. Tewhey kept up the good work by planting a nice hit into right field, which scored Hammond and LeBrun. Tewhey, however, was not satisfied with his good work, as he tried to steal second but was thrown out. This retiring the side Bangor handed the Greeks a run in this inning when, with two out, Watt was hit by a pitched ball and stole second. Then hit to Tewhey at short, who made an error which allowed Watt to score. Waterhouse singled to right and then was sent out going to third.

In the seventh inning with one Bangor man out, Talcott hit safely to centre. Gerard drew a base on balls. Perley went out, second to first. Lamorey hit a nice single to right field which scored Talcott and Gerard. Mayo hit out to third and retired the side.

In this inning Nolan beat out a hit to third and stole second. Shanley also beat out a hit to third which placed Nolan on third. Mayo threw badly to second in an endeavor to catch Shanley, who was stealing, and the ball threw allowed Nolan to score the eighth and last run for the Greeks. The sides were quickly retired after this.

Gerard was the pitcher for Bangor and, with the exception of the fifth inning, pitched good, steady ball. He was hit for 13 safe ones for a total of fifteen bases which, in itself, was enough to win the game. The Greeks also played the best game, having only one error and that was made by Waterhouse in the eighth inning, but the little shortstop made up for that error during the game as he played splendidly, making some beautiful stops and he also led his team in batting, having three hits to his credit. Waterhouse is improving daily in his work.

Shanley was steady throughout the game, although Bangor touched him in seven singles and the visitors only made two singles off him in five innings. They made three in the sixth and two in the seventh.

The following is the box score and summary:

Marathons.	AB	R	H	TB	PO	A	E
O'Brien 3db	3	1	0	2	2	0
Little 1f	0	1	0	0	0	0
Black 1f	4	1	0	2	0	0
Watt 1stb	4	2	1	2	10	0
Blen c	5	0	2	3	5	0
Waterhouse ss	5	1	3	4	4	4
Riley cf	5	1	2	2	2	0
Nolan 2db	4	2	2	2	3	0
Shanley p	3	0	2	0	4	0
	37	8	13	17	27	13	1

Bangor.	AB	R	H	TB	PO	A	E
Perley 1f	5	0	0	0	2	0
Lamorey 2b	2	0	1	1	3	0
Mayo c	4	1	2	2	5	1
Hammond cf	4	1	0	0	1	0
LaBrun 1stb	4	1	1	1	10	1
Tewhey ss	3	0	1	1	1	2
Dolan rf	4	0	1	1	2	0
Talcott 3db	4	1	1	2	0	0
Gerard p	3	0	0	0	0	0
	34	3	7	7	24	14	4

Score by Innings:

Bangor	00000200-5
Marathons	00006100-8

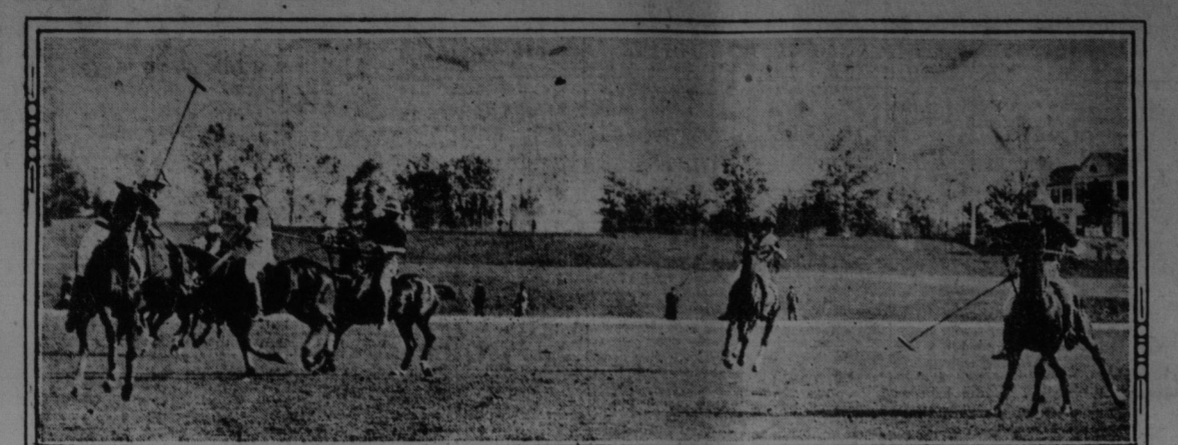

Summary—Marathon Grounds, Monday afternoon, June 9th, 1913.—Marathons 8, Bangor 5. Two base hits, Watt, Blen. Base on balls, off Shanley 2, off Gerard 4. Struck out by Shanley 4, viz., Perley, Mayo, Tewhey, Gerard; by Gerard 3, viz., Little, Black, Nolan. Sacrifice hits, Little, Stolen bases, O'Brien, Watt, Blen, Riley, Nolan. (2). Left on bases, Marathons 12 Bangor 5. Double play, Dolan to Mayo. First base on errors, Marathons 3, Bangor 1. Hit by pitcher, Watt, Black, Umpire, McCann. Scorer, H. Ervin. Time of game, two hours, eight minutes.

N. B. and M. League Standing.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Marathons	8	4	.667
Fredericton	6	3	.667
St. Croix	5	3	.625
Bangor	1	10	.091

GAMES THIS WEEK.

Tuesday.	Wednesday.
Bangor at Fredericton.	St. John at St. John.
St. John at St. John.
St. John at St. John.

ENGLISH POLO TEAM OVERWHELMS AMERICANS IN FIRST DAY'S PRACTICE

POCKETING THE AMERICAN TEAM SO THAT FIVE FEETHEE COULD MAKE A GOAL.

In the first practice game between the English polo team and a team made up of Americans the Britishers rolled up a score of twenty-one goals, much to the chagrin of the home players. However, the best American material was not in the saddle, and although the Englishmen seemed to be carrying everything before them in this scrimmage, the spectators were not disheartened in the least by the irresistible onslaught of the English on their first day out. The above picture shows how some of the goals were made. Pocketing the opposing players is a favorite trick of the British challengers.

STEALER CLYDE MILAN

The American League base-running contest will be rather lopsided unless something happens to stop Clyde Milan, who is grabbing nearly a sack a day. As his record last year was 88 for the season, he is likely to excel it this year.

Shanley was steady throughout the game, although Bangor touched him in seven singles and the visitors only made two singles off him in five innings. They made three in the sixth and two in the seventh.

The following is the box score and summary:

Marathons.	AB	R	H	TB	PO	A	E
O'Brien 3db	3	1	0	2	2	0
Little 1f	0	1	0	0	0	0
Black 1f	4	1	0	2	0	0
Watt 1stb	4	2	1	2	10	0
Blen c	5	0	2	3	5	0
Waterhouse ss	5	1	3	4	4	4
Riley cf	5	1	2	2	2	0
Nolan 2db	4	2	2	2	3	0
Shanley p	3	0	2	0	4	0
	37	8	13	17	27	13	1

Bangor.	AB	R	H	TB	PO	A	E
Perley 1f	5	0	0	0	2	0
Lamorey 2b	2	0	1	1	3	0
Mayo c	4	1	2	2	5	1
Hammond cf	4	1	0	0	1	0
LaBrun 1stb	4	1	1	1	10	1
Tewhey ss	3	0	1	1	1	2
Dolan rf	4	0	1	1	2	0
Talcott 3db	4	1	1	2	0	0
Gerard p	3	0	0	0	0	0
	34	3	7	7	24	14	4

Score by Innings:

Bangor	00000200-5
Marathons	00006100-8

Summary—Marathon Grounds, Monday afternoon, June 9th, 1913.—Marathons 8, Bangor 5. Two base hits, Watt, Blen. Base on balls, off Shanley 2, off Gerard 4. Struck out by Shanley 4, viz., Perley, Mayo, Tewhey, Gerard; by Gerard 3, viz., Little, Black, Nolan. Sacrifice hits, Little, Stolen bases, O'Brien, Watt, Blen, Riley, Nolan. (2). Left on bases, Marathons 12 Bangor 5. Double play, Dolan to Mayo. First base on errors, Marathons 3, Bangor 1. Hit by pitcher, Watt, Black, Umpire, McCann. Scorer, H. Ervin. Time of game, two hours, eight minutes.

N. B. and M. League Standing.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Marathons	8	4	.667
Fredericton	6	3	.667
St. Croix	5	3	.625
Bangor	1	10	.091

GAMES THIS WEEK.

Tuesday.	Wednesday.
Bangor at Fredericton.	St. John at St. John.
St. John at St. John.
St. John at St. John.

SPORTOGRAPHY BY "GRAVY"

A punch to the jaw, such as brought the McCarty-Pelky battle to a tragic end, has won more heavyweight championship battles than any other variety of blow. When Jeffries took the crown from the bald pate of Bob Fitzsimmons in the eleventh round at Conny Island, fourteen years ago yesterday, it was a right swing to the jaw that turned the trick. Ruby Robert had won the title from Corbett with a terrific right swing to the jaw, followed by a right to the heart and a left to the solar plexus. Corbett dropped Sullivan for the count with a succession of stiff punches to the jaw and face. The old Roman acquired the title by knocking out Paddy Ryan with a terrific right swing to the jaw. Jim Mace won most of his battles with punches to the jaw, face and neck. Tom Sayers won the championship from Perry, the Tipton Slasher, with blows to the jaw. Tom King nearly killed John Heenan with punches to face and jaw.

Jack Johnson won a majority of his

bouts with a right uppercut to the chin, but he depended on punches to the stomach to wear his opponent down. Indeed, that has been the favorite method of all heavyweights.

Merciless battering of the body is the preliminary to the knockout punch to the jaw in most championship battles. The story of the Fitz-Jeffries bout of fourteen years ago illustrates this point. The account by rounds contains such items as these: "Jeffries landed on body. Left put right to body. Jeff landed on stomach. Then, in the final final Jeff landed two stiff ones to the stomach and Pitz, groggy, left his jaw unprotected against the terrible right that sent him down and out."

Kid McCoy, one of the cleverest fighters in ring history, depended on his famous "corkscrew blow" for the jaw to win his knockouts, but it was his liver punch that wore his opponents down. McCoy's liver punch was one of the most damaging ever invented, although it was the more spectacular, which got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

Right to Jaw Won Title for Jeff 14 Years Ago Yesterday.

A punch to the jaw, such as brought the McCarty-Pelky battle to a tragic end, has won more heavyweight championship battles than any other variety of blow. When Jeffries took the crown from the bald pate of Bob Fitzsimmons in the eleventh round at Conny Island, fourteen years ago yesterday, it was a right swing to the jaw that turned the trick. Ruby Robert had won the title from Corbett with a terrific right swing to the jaw, followed by a right to the heart and a left to the solar plexus. Corbett dropped Sullivan for the count with a succession of stiff punches to the jaw and face. The old Roman acquired the title by knocking out Paddy Ryan with a terrific right swing to the jaw. Jim Mace won most of his battles with punches to the jaw, face and neck. Tom Sayers won the championship from Perry, the Tipton Slasher, with blows to the jaw. Tom King nearly killed John Heenan with punches to face and jaw.

Jack Johnson won a majority of his

bouts with a right uppercut to the chin, but he depended on punches to the stomach to wear his opponent down. Indeed, that has been the favorite method of all heavyweights.

Merciless battering of the body is the preliminary to the knockout punch to the jaw in most championship battles. The story of the Fitz-Jeffries bout of fourteen years ago illustrates this point. The account by rounds contains such items as these: "Jeffries landed on body. Left put right to body. Jeff landed on stomach. Then, in the final final Jeff landed two stiff ones to the stomach and Pitz, groggy, left his jaw unprotected against the terrible right that sent him down and out."

Kid McCoy, one of the cleverest fighters in ring history, depended on his famous "corkscrew blow" for the jaw to win his knockouts, but it was his liver punch that wore his opponents down. McCoy's liver punch was one of the most damaging ever invented, although it was the more spectacular, which got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

ular corkscrew that got the applause.

CALIFORNIAN DEFEATED AUSTRALIAN

New York, June 9.—On the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club today Maurice E. McLoughlin, of California, defeated Stanley Dunt, of Australia, in straight sets by scores of 6 to 4, 6-3, and 6-2. The Australian, 2nd, won from H. M. Rice, 1-6, 4-6, 6-1, 9-7, 6-2, thus deciding in favor of United States the preliminary tie for the Davis cup, the world's tennis championship.

Since McLoughlin's victory over Dunt came first to the California racket wielder rose the honor of the deciding match. When the rival players resumed the battle on the turf court, surrounded by a gallery of five thousand spectators, the score was 2 to 1 in favor of the United States team. McLoughlin swung into his speedy and masterful play at once and, although the invading team captain fought back gamely, the outcome was not long left in doubt. Unable to handle the terrific service and returns of the United States champion the Antipodean was gradually worn down and played on the defensive in the final games of each set.

and, although the invading team captain fought back gamely, the outcome was not long left in doubt. Unable to handle the terrific service and returns of the United States champion the Antipodean was gradually worn down and played on the defensive in the final games of each set.

and, although the invading team captain fought back gamely, the outcome was not long left in doubt. Unable to handle the terrific service and returns of the United States champion the Antipodean was gradually worn down and played on the defensive in the final games of each set.

and, although the invading team captain fought back gamely, the outcome was not long left in doubt. Unable to handle the terrific service and returns of the United States champion the Antipodean was gradually worn down and played on the defensive in the final games of each set.

and, although the invading team captain fought back gamely, the outcome was not long left in doubt. Unable to handle the