A large number of ladies and gentlemen went in motor boats and greatly enjoyed the dancing and singing at the new resort. Mr. Frank Blum entertained the company by his very clever impersonation of Ruggles just arrived in town. The mar-

Poret's sense of ease, grace and novelty has been happily combined in this illustration just received from Paris, of a one-piece, minked dress, made up for the young nation. It is a distinctly new idea on minked lines. The bodice and skirt are made in one. The lines are practically straight without being in any sense stiff. The skirt is noticeably wider than previous fashions.
