A BAG OF COAL.

It has gone up; not the bag, but its contents. Soft coal has jumped two cents per paper bag—and the weight, well, it is of uncertain dimensions. The poorer people have to buy coal is paper bags; so too, on occasions, the more prosperous people who, for the mone, are stranded for the product of the mine.

Ten cents was the price charged for a paper bag of coal last week. None grumbled very much about this charge for a level fen was not considered unfair for the little, very little, bag of coal. But on Tuesday up went the price of the wee paper bag to 12 cents. An inquisitive man had three of these bags of soft coal weighed, (only soft coal is sold in small quantities per bag), and found astonishing recorded.

sults. First bag 17 pounds, second if pounds, which is pounded, it will be found that the poorer classes are paying $14.11 per ton for soft coal, now retalling in the neighborhood of $5.75. Of course, such matters as filling the paper bag, distribution and so forth, have to be considered, but the price of the fuel as put up in the homely bag now is, it is thought, too high.

Judges Surprised and Delighted at Showing Made-Bigges

Yesterday was the second day of the big apple show at St. Andrew's tank and everything was in place. There are on exhibition 1,400 plates, a large number of boxes and barrels, and altogether 60 varieties are shown. The judging was commenced yesterday morning and will be continued today. Owing to pressure of work the meeting of the New Brunswick Frut Growers Association was not held yesterday nor was the packing echool, but these will both be held today. No person in St. John who can possibly attend this exhibit should miss it and they will go away with a new realization of the possibilities of this province in the production of apples.

The Standard had the privilege of talking for a short time last night with some of the judges and they expressed themselves as surprised and delighted with the showing made. Prof. T. G. Bunting of the MacDonald College, and A. J. Logsdail of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, who are paying their first visit to this section of the country, were more than surprised at the number of the exhibits and the quality of the fruit shown, which compared favorably in both respects with any of the apple shows they had ever visited.

They were particularly impressed with the coloring of the McIntosh Red and the Fameuse, which beat anything they could raise in Ontario. This show was ample demonstration that New Brunswick cand stream to do now was to grow the varieties which seemed best suited to the climate.

G. H. Vroom, chief inspector of fruit for Nova Scotha, who recently attend.

mental Parm, Kentville, N. S., said that the fruit shown was of excellent quality and he was particularly interested in the box pack. In Nova Scotia they packed very little of their fruit in boxes, shipping most of it in barrels. He thought that New Brunswick had the rest of the Dominion beaten in growing McIatosh Red, Fameuse. Bishop Pippin and Miwaukee The Milwaukee was a cooking apple, the others dessert apples.

A number of the growers have special exhibits in addition to those entered for prizes and they have trummed up their exhibits very nicely. Among those who have done so are: The New Brunswick and British Cotonization Co., Fredericton; Jrs. E. M. Darcus, Fern Hill, Fredericton; Mrs. E. W. Darcus, Fern Hill, Fredericton; Mrs. E. W.
