COMMERCIAL LEAGUE
In one of the most interesting games ever witnessed in the Commercial League Saturday afternoon Vassie and Company's aggregation defeated the C. P. R. team by three points to one. This game marks the opening of the second series. The C. P. R. are the winners of the first series and their defeat Saturday was a great surprise to their many admirers. However, on Saturday night the Vassie team had their strongest line-up and went into the game with pep and beat their opponents to a frazzle. With "Burr" Riley as pilot and anchor man they have made a good start in the running up of the second series and with the team that rolled Saturday it will not take long for them to lead the series.

St. John Y. M. C. A. DEFEATS MONCTON
The St. John Y. M. C. A. Intermediate basketball team visited Moncton on Saturday and met the "Y" team of that city in a return match of the game played here New Year's, when the local team fought a hard battle to win. Saturday's game was not the calibre of ball played here, as the St. John boys outplayed Moncton from the start.

The small floor on which the game was played seemed to bother the visitors at the first of the game, but they soon got their short passing own and Ugrahart and Malcolm soon settled the ball, and put St. John in the lead. Grant was the only Moncton player to locate the goal in the first half. Malcolm outplayed his check and helped to give St. John the lead.

Half time saw the local boys in the lead, the score being St. John 25, Moncton 8.

The second half was more even in the score, Moncton steadily down. At the end of the game St. John had defeated Moncton by a score of 40 to 15.

This is the second time that the local boys from the "Y" have defeated the Moncton team. The last occasion being on New Year's Day.

The end of the week in police circles closed with a grand finale, after a spell of comparative quietness. Six drunks came in Saturday afternoon and evening.

Some eighteen thousand cases of Ussuehah recently arrived from the land of the East in transit to the arid regions of our fair dominion, this may possibly account for the large number who have recently signed up under the banner of John McHenry.

Spanish stayaway. Alexander Gracia, was given in charge by the captain Wyall of the steamer Alston. Robert Darrah was arrested on a warrant charging him with non-support.

SMUGGLERS ARE MATCHING WITS AGAINST OFFICERS
Old Tricks Being Revived and New Ones Invented to Bring Whiskey Into States.

Buffalo, Jan. 22.—Old tricks are being revived and new ones invented by smugglers who are matching their wits against those of the customs officers in an effort to bring contraband whiskey from Canada into the United States.

The tide of the whiskey movement which for more than two years flowed from the United States into Canada has turned back. Of the same smugglers who once took long chances to send liquor across the border into Canada, now are attempting to evade the American instead of Canadian laws.

There had been a partial lifting of the ban in Canada. The order-in-council issued by the Dominion government in wartime which prohibited inter-provincial traffic in intoxicating liquor, was rescinded on December 31.

Ontario still has a dry law prohibiting the sale of liquor across bars in anyway except by government vendor upon an order from a physician. This, Ontario law, however, cannot prevent inter-province traffic by mail and express. Consequently Americans who want to take chances with the customs laws have experienced little difficulty in having liquor delivered at the United States border.

Some of the tricks used to evade detection by Canadian customs inspectors when the movement of liquor from the United States to Canada was in progress were very ingenious. Spare tires on automobiles turned out to be receptacles for contraband wetgoods. Partitioned gasoline tanks served the same purpose. A hot water bottle used by a woman feigning illness was found to contain whiskey. A carload of seap from billed from Detroit to Buffalo, over the Michigan Central Railroad was sidetracked somewhere in Ontario and whiskey was substituted for the kum. The liquor was seized at Buffalo.

Customs officers here expect a revival of these tricks and development of others in order to bring liquor from Canada into the United States. The force of inspectors on this side of the Niagara river from Buffalo to Fort Niagara has been increased.

Father Damien's Lecture To Lepers

Hugh F. Hamilton of Moncton Delivered Most Interesting Lecture to Large Audience Last Evening.

One of the most interesting lectures heard for some time was delivered by Hugh F. Hamilton, of Moncton, last evening in St. Vincent's Auditorium, Cass street. This is one of the series to be given, and the subject was "Father Damien's Mission to the Lepers of Molokai."

The large hall was filled to capacity and a very attentive audience greeted Mr. Hamilton. The discourse on the life of this great and zealous priest was not only pleasing but very instructive in a religious light, and those in the audience last evening were given a treat that was greatly enjoyed. There are a good many no doubt who have read the book on the life of this beloved priest, but it is so interesting that one can never tire of hearing of the great sacrifices of this gentle man for his Faith.

Father Damien was a native of France, and in his younger days it was his desire to become a priest. After many years of preparing himself for this ideal aim he was ordained to the priesthood in his native land. It was at this time after his ordination that he learned of a missionary party who were carrying the Word of God to the lepers in the South Seas.

A great hope sprung up within the heart of this zealous man to aid in the great work which was about to be carried out. Having received consent from his Superior, Father Damien himself gathered together a small band of followers and within a few days the party was off for their destination to bring what relief was possible to those poor sufferers of the dreadful malady. It was many weeks before Father and his small band reached the Island of Molokai, where sufferers of untold hardship were to tell the tale of the sacrifice he and his followers had made.

Within a short time after scrutinizing the affairs of the Island he set out on his native village, where he at once began the establishing of a chapel and rectory with the aid of a few natives. In due course of time one by one his small band of followers became victims of the feared malady until he himself was the only survivor. He at once wrote to his native land, telling of the good works he was trying to do and asking for a contribution to help him carry out his plans. Every morning he celebrated Holy Mass in the little leper colony, travelling about helping the needy, administering the last Sacraments to the dying and helping bury the dead. With the coming of the next boat Father Damien expected a relief party to help him, and even then after their arrival he hardly took a moment's rest. Many things were accomplished by this wonderful priest. A large school, a convent and orphanage were given over to the Sisters of Charity, who also had made the wonderful sacrifice in giving their lives in aiding these poor lepers in their last moments, and caring for their children and attending to many household duties which the mothers were unable to handle. After many years spent on this Leper Island, Father Damien at last began to suffer from the terrible disease. His constitution, which had been strong through the years of hardship, was slowly diminishing and began to tell on him, so that he had to give over his duties to another priest who was sent to relieve him. A short time after Father Damien passed to his eternal reward and was buried among his beloved people whom he had sacrificed his life for. He died as he had lived, zealous in his Faith and love for God in doing his bidding when called upon.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Hamilton and it is hoped that he will be heard here again in the near future.

On a date in last December the prohibition inspectors raided the premises of James Dobson and seized fifteen gallons of beer's beer. Dobson was required to visit the police court as the liquor was stronger than the inspectors believed it should be according to law. Dobson did not make his appearance to the notice of the liquor inspector until Saturday when he was placed under arrest by Inspector Merryfield with the assistance of Police Detective Hiddescombe. His case was heard in the police court this morning.

An Interesting Lecture Enjoyed

F. J. Hogan Spoke Before the St. Peter's Y. M. A. Yesterday on "Present Day Civilization, the Disease and the Cure."

Taking as his subject "Present Day Civilization, the Disease and the Cure," F. J. Hogan delivered a very interesting lecture in St. Peter's chapel yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the St. Peter's Y. M. A.

That the state of affairs existing in society today was a very bad one, was the opinion of the speaker. A gigantic struggle was going on between Capital and Labor; the Poor and the Rich; while the Supreme Law received but little consideration from either side.

The cause of much of the present unrest was destructive policy advocated by the red element of the country, they would destroy the present social structure and substitute their own vague ideas. It was remarkable how the world failed to grasp the menace their doctrine afforded. The foreign element was being deported, but what was being done to the radical at home?

Winthrop under Soviet government and Montreal waterless and powerless in the hands of a few men with a grievance, while the mothers and children in the homes, the hospitals, human life itself suffered, were examples of this false mode of reasoning led to.

A man who would go down through the ages renowned for the clear insight which he possessed of the problems of the day, was His Holiness the late Pope Leo the Thirteenth, of beloved memory. He it was, who some twenty years ago had predicted the state of unrest now existing in industrial circles. His encyclical The Rights and Duties of Capital and Labor had set forth the undisputable right of private property and also the right of labor to organize for its own protection.

Co-operate and co-operative societies would do much to alleviate present conditions, the British Co-operative Society, a society in which one third of the population of Great Britain were directly interested, was the great impediment to a Bolshevik regime in that country, for the reason that Labor itself was one of the largest stockholders in the industrial plants of the nation.

Mr. Hogan cited Henry Ford, Lord Leverhulme and the Clarke Brothers, of Philadelphia, as examples of true Socialists in the better meaning of the word. In their plants the workmen became stockholders and shared the profits of the plant.

He lauded the worthy work of the ladies of the Salvation Army and the Sisters of Charity, in their love for Humanity. It was love such as theirs that was required for all, if conditions would change.

Mr. Hogan deprecated strikes in this time when all should be bent on greater production, ten million people would die of starvation in South Western Europe this year alone, and who was there amongst us who would dare shirk his share in producing under such circumstances. Of what benefit would money be when through lack of production the necessities of life would be denied.

He exhorted his audience to study carefully the questions of the day from a Christian standpoint, that they might be better able to crush the modern economic fallacies which were preying on the bodies and minds of the people.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Hogan at the conclusion of his instructive lecture.
