

BRAZEN ACTS OF FEW PERSONS IN UNITED STATES

In Relation to the Irish Republic Called Forth Discussion in Commons Yesterday.

THINK PRESIDENT SHOULD BE TOLD

That Such Happenings Come Not With Good Grace from An Ostensibly Friendly Nation.

London, May 6.—The subject of the support given to "the Irish Republic" by some persons in the United States came up in the House of Commons yesterday. Horatio Bottomley asked whether the Government was aware that appeals for subscriptions for bonds addressed by De Valera as "President of the Irish Republic" were still appearing in American newspapers, and were supported by the Government of various states, and whether Government proposals to make representations to the President to Wilson.

Mr. Bonar Law replying, in behalf of the Government, said it was understood such appeals were still appearing in certain papers but he was not in a position to say whether they were supported by any Government. Great Britain, he added, was not prepared to make any representations.

Loan Subscription. Mr. Bottomley asked whether Mr. Law had seen the announcement that already 2,000,000 pounds had been subscribed to this fund, and that triumphal processions had gone through the principal streets of the United States in celebration of the event.

Mr. Bottomley said he had not seen a statement of the specifics of the event, but he did not alter his view regarding Great Britain's right course, namely, that it was not wise to take notice of what a country had the legal right.

Put on The Brakes. Captain Wm. E. Wedgwood had wanted to know whether the Government would take steps to halt the malicious campaign, which, he declared, was designed to bring about a rupture between this country and the United States.

To this Mr. Bonar Law did not reply. Robert Burton Chadwick asked whether Mr. Bonar Law was aware that with the freedom of New Orleans, and whether any representations had been made to the United States in the face of this deliberate insult by an ostensibly friendly nation.

Mr. Bonar Law answered that he was quite satisfied the good feeling between the United States and Great Britain was not represented by any such demonstrations, and he did not believe that any action of the British Government could take against them would have any other effect than to make the relations worse.

CERTAIN STIPULATIONS MUST BE GUARANTEED

Before the League of Nations Will Offer a Mandate for Armenia to Any Power.

Washington, May 6.—(By Associated Press)—The Council of the League of Nations has refused to offer a mandate for Armenia to any Power unless certain stipulations are embodied by the Supreme Council in the Turkish settlement.

According to official information received here today, the League Council, in a note to the Supreme Council, has insisted that the boundaries of Armenia be fixed; that a free port, preferably Baku, be accorded her; and that protection for the defence of the League State be provided before the League Council will be free to ask an independent Power to assume mandatory powers over the country.

The action of the Council of the League, it was stated, was taken previous to the decision of the Supreme Council at San Remo to offer the Armenian mandate to the United States.

In requesting President Wilson to fix the Armenian boundaries, the Supreme Council is believed by officials to have shown a disposition to comply with that particular of the League's suggestion concerning Armenia. The direct proffer of a mandate, contrary to the League's advice, is taken by officials as indicating not so much a spirit of antagonism to the League by the Supreme Council, as a desire to fulfill a political obligation to the United States which the League has felt incumbent upon it in the Turkish settlement.

BENSON NOT AT ALL SURE ABOUT ORDERS TO SIMS

"If Sims Said He Had Been Told Not to Let British Pull Wool Over His Eyes, Would Have to Go at That."

Washington, May 6.—Asked by Chairman Hale of the Senate Naval Investigation Committee, today, what instructions he gave Admiral Sims before that official first sailed for London, Admiral W. S. Benson said he cautioned him to be very careful of his conduct in view of the delicate situation and to remember that the United States was still a neutral.

"I gave him my earnest instructions along that line," said the witness. "I felt very strongly regarding the situation and probably used very forcible language to impress on him the seriousness of the situation, but what I used I cannot recall."

Admiral Benson added that if Sims said he had been told not to let the British pull the wool over his eyes it would have to go at that.

"Do you deny it?" asked the Chairman. "I cannot deny it under oath," replied Admiral Benson. "I do deny the interpretation that has been placed or attempted to be placed on it. I don't think anything could have been more confidential than my conversation with Admiral Sims."

"How could you say that we would leave this to the Allies. Certain advisers of the Government consider it better that Germany merely furnish the facts and figure on her economic conditions, while other argue that it will make an impression of greater strength also to draw the conclusions from the facts."

In either case the Germans feel that what matters chiefly at the conference is strategy. They are confident that their naval strength is sufficient to meet any situation which may arise.

It is impossible to obtain reliable news as to what the cabinet believes to be a reasonable figure. Mr. Lloyd George's suggestion of 22,000,000, it is pointed out, is a figure as that of John Maynard Keynes, author of "The Economic Consequences of the Peace," is 2,000,000,000.

Mr. Keynes counted upon an annual production of 200 million marks in gold. The French on six billion marks, and the payment of three billion marks in gold, says the Frankfurt Gazette. "The latter proposition would mean the raising of 20,000,000,000 marks by taxation in addition to the stupendous burden that is already imposed upon us."

Mr. Keynes also made his estimate before the change in the value of the pound. He said he had given up 21,000,000,000 in war materials, shipping, coal, etc., which should be taken into any bill the Allies render.

KRUPPS BUSY ON PEACE IMPLEMENTS

Fifty Thousand Men Busy Forging Materials to be Used in Reconstruction.

Cross-Atlantic News Service. (Copy-right.) By Vigns Teesfer. London, May 6.—The great Krupp works at Essen, which forged the arms with which Germany made war, are today in full blast forging implements of reconstruction and peace.

Undecided as to Their Course in the Coming Conference at Spa.

ALLIES TOO DIVIDED

British Expect Annual Payment of 1,000,000,000 Marks, French 3,000,000,000.

Berlin, May 6.—The Mueller cabinet has not yet decided whether to propose to the conference with the allied representatives at Spa a figure for the total reparations Germany shall pay or to leave this to the Allies. Certain advisers of the Government consider it better that Germany merely furnish the facts and figure on her economic conditions, while other argue that it will make an impression of greater strength also to draw the conclusions from the facts.

Construed as Meaning That Carranza Has Been Demanded to Abandon Capital.

Washington, May 6.—Mexican rebel agents here tonight announced receipt of a telegram from Mexico City saying that the President of the municipality was organizing a militia guard, "for the purpose of protecting the city in the event of its evacuation." The information, the agents said, was construed by them to mean that Carranza had been demanded to abandon the capital, since the organization of force would not be undertaken without his consent, and certainly not without his knowledge.

FRENCH GOVT GRAPPLES WITH RAILROAD PROBLEM

Strike Now in Full Swing Causes Gov't to Hasten Its Plan of Reorganization of the Railroads.

Paris, May 6.—The strike of railwaymen, which has now extended to the miners and dockers and to the metal workers in the Paris district, with the threat of a possible general strike, has caused the Government to hasten its promised plan of reorganization of the railroads as forecast in the Chamber of Deputies on February 21 last. It is considered that this plan, involving control of the transportation system to a committee representing all interests, will furnish the basis for a settlement of the strike which is a continuation of the May 1st demonstration, with nationalization of the railroads as its chief object.

Unofficial details of the Government's project show that it provides for a contract by the Council composed of delegates representing the technical and administrative personnel of the railroads, the workmen, Chambers of Commerce, Parliament and the Government.

Theoretically, the companies would retain and operate their properties, but they would merely be managers. Money for financing improvements is expected to be found through the Government's guarantee of railway bonds.

GOVT STEAMER EMPLOYEES TO RECEIVE MORE

Under the Civil Service Re-classification—Now Declared to be Poorest Paid Men in Canada.

WIGMORE ACCUSES LIBERALS OF WASTING

The Time of the Public and Delaying the Estimates—Franchise Bill Again Discussed.

Ottawa, Ont., May 6.—(Canadian Press)—That the men aboard the Government steamers were the poorest paid men in Canada was the statement made in the Commons this evening by Wm. Duff (Lansburg) in discussing Marine and Fisheries estimates. He referred to the captain of the Montcalm being paid $125 a month and said "an ordinary sailor gets more than that." The Minister he said, must know what steamers are worth more than $60 per month. Perhaps the Arthur Young Company could get them at that price, but no one who lived along the coast would attempt it.

Mr. Ballantyne said the men would receive an increase under the Civil Service re-classification. Regarding Dr. A. W. Chisholm (Inverness), the Minister said the question of bonus for men on fishing vessels would be taken up later.

The ice-breaker J. D. Hosen was very much in the limelight. Mr. Duff stated that the "Vickers Company had made $600,000 by turning out ice-breakers to Russia. Mr. Ballantyne said the transaction was made through the British Government, and he did not see how Vickers could have figured in the deal. Later he informed A. B. Cope (Westmorland) that the Canadian Government had sought to trace the money made by the company, but not see how Vickers could have
