

ANOTHER DISASTER ON P. E. I. COAST

Schooner A. J. McKean Pounded to Pieces and Captain Drowned

Heroic Band from Alberton, After Three Hours' Hard Work, Took Benumbed Sailors From the Rigging, But Couldn't the Master.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Nov. 16.—The schooner A. J. McKean, commanded by Capt. Desroches, with whom were the following crew, William Malley, J. J. Rich, and Joseph Lavallée, went to pieces on Alberton harbor on the eve which had shifted during the recent storm. She went on at 12 o'clock midnight. Although the sea was running high there the wind was not blowing hard, so the captain decided to stick to the vessel in hopes of getting her off.

At 4 a. m. a furious squall struck her. The ship's boat was broken in pieces, making it impossible for the crew to reach the shore. In a short while the sea was breaking over the vessel which was pounding hard on the bar. The crew took to the rigging, leashed themselves and clung there. At daylight she was sighted from the shore and a number of men, commanded by Capt. John Champion in the latter's canoe, rowed to the wreck. The names of the gallant men who followed death for their fellow men are as follows: Capt. John Champion, Capt. Dan Fraser, John McKee, William Smith and George McBeth, William Leavitt, Frank Skerry, Charles McNeill, Charles Perry, James Cahill and James Tuplin. After three hours' hard work they saved the crew except the captain, who was so benumbed by cold that he could do nothing for himself. In great danger of their lives from the swaying of the spars of the vessel and the heavy seas and the undertow these brave men made effort after effort to save him. Finally the vessel was pulled up to the shore and the men were rescued. The captain was drowned before their eyes and within ten yards of safety. The rescuers and rescued reached shore safely.

WESTERN CANADIAN RAILWAYS TIED UP BY SNOW STORM

One C. P. R. Freight Train Ditched and Express Car Burned With All Its Contents.

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—Traffic on the railways of western Canada is very badly demoralized by a great storm which raged Saturday. The soft wet snow which fell incessantly not only blocked the train service but played havoc with the telegraph lines.

Several wrecks and mishaps of a minor character are reported on the C. P. R. At Beauport (Man.), thirteen cars of a freight train are in a ditch, but no casualties occurred.

At Melbourne (Man.), where the west-bound Transcontinental was stalled last night, the express car was burned, together with all its contents. The blaze was caused by goods being thrown on the stove by the heavy jar during shunting operations.

The east-bound express was snow-bound at Carletonville all night.

The C. N. R. service is equally badly demoralized and wires are all down east as far as Fort Frances.

ABSENT, NOT MISSING

To the Editor of The Telegraph:—
Sir,—In looking over your paper of today, I notice among the Rothsey notices a report as to a "missing man." In the interests of fair play, I wish to say the report is not correct and is misleading, as Mr. Bland did not send his team and proceeds home but brought them himself and remained at his home for some days after returning. His disappearance is not shrouded in mystery and has not caused any great amount of anxiety here. He left honorably and not a single dishonest act can be traced to his door. As to the cause of leaving, that can be answered by himself and Mrs. Bland, and no one's business but their's. Mr. Bland was an honored resident of this place for nine or ten years, and during that time visited his home and parents in England once, not several times.

FAIR PLAY.

THE "PROTECTED" AROOSTOOK FARMER

(P. Fair Play (Rev.) Review).
For the past two weeks potatoes have been selling in Andover, New Brunswick, only seven miles from Fort Fairfield village, for $1 a barrel. It gives a shiver to the high-protection Aroostook farmer, who has been made to believe the McKinley tariff is all that makes potatoes in Aroostook worth anything at all, to be selling them all this time for from seventy-five to eighty-five cents, as he has been doing, and is still doing. How much "protection" do you think Aroostook potatoes selling at seventy-five cents require against New Brunswick potatoes selling right at home for $1? Oh, the innocence that some of the protectionists' leaders think the common people have! And all the time that the Aroostook farmer is thus being "protected" against New Brunswick $1 potatoes, and selling his own for seventy-five cents, he is also being protected against wood, which he does not raise, and on wooden goods, which cost him half as much again on account of this same "protection." And wooden stuff is only one of very many things the farmer has to buy that are made sky-high in price in order to "protect" him. Truly the tariff is the salvation of the Aroostook farmer. We are glad indeed to be told so, for we had almost begun to think it wasn't.

Rothsey Happenings.

Rothsey, Nov. 19.—Chairman W. F. Thomson says that the reversion lists for the parish were made up in October and are ready to be signed. There will not be much change in the number of names. Mr. Gorbell, of the Seamen's Institute, was in Rothsey yesterday and part of today. He came by invitation of Netherwood school, and in the morning addressed the young ladies upon the work of the Seamen's Mission. Netherwood takes much interest in Mr. Gorbell's work, and contributes something every Christmas to the mission tree. In the evening Mr. Gorbell preached in the Baptist church and told his congregation something about the work in which he is engaged.

Rev. Mr. Perry, of Bellisle, preached in the morning in the Baptist church. It is understood that an arrangement has been made with the reverend gentleman whereby he will give one service each Sunday in Kingston and Rothsey, and at stated intervals at Perry Point and Holdenville. No further word has been received of the fate of Arthur Roberts. It is known that he was living when last heard from in House Boat 5, which was moored some distance off shore. Many of those upon the boat were drowned, and some were saved by passing vessels, among them the chief engineer. It is the hope of Mr. Roberts' relatives that he has been equally fortunate.

The ever-ready land slide near Quispamis station has been at work again, no doubt on account of recent heavy rains, and the non-resident owners of summer cottages, built in those later years along the banks of the Kennebecas would hardly listen to a railroad destroying their suburban homes without being well paid. There are some resident land owners who would gladly surrender a right of way, but even they say that all that should be treated alike, and if one is paid all should be.

John McKate, of Golden Grove, is preparing to move to other scenes of activity in the near future. Mr. McKate is the present postmaster and will be much missed by his friends and neighbors. A. M. Saunders will move from McKate Farm to Gondola Point road the last of this week, while Mr. Leighton, who has purchased his farm, does not propose to move from the city until spring. Mrs. Albert Burger and her son, Henry, have gone to the city for the winter.

Albert News.
Albert, A. county, Nov. 19.—Solomon Fillmore, aged eighty-one, a respected citizen of Germantown, passed away at his home on Nov. 9. The deceased leaves a widow, two sons and one daughter to mourn their loss.
Mr. Moore, station agent, has gone on a vacation. Mr. Sherwood, of Hillabro, has taken his place.
Newton Shiles and Miss Lillie Davidson were guests of Mr. Stiles' parents last week.

Solomon G. H. Perry, Captain Wood, arrived from Boston on Sunday. She will load with deal for J. C. Prescott for St. John.
The tides have been unusually high the last three days. The dykes were broken in several places, which caused the natives and the lower corner to be submerged with water. Considerable damage has been done to the highways.
