Cancer Society To Hold March Education Meet

ERINDALE — At a recent executive meeting of the Erindale branch of the Canadian Cancer Society, President Mrs. Art Cummins, announced that plans for the annual Branch Education Meeting are well under way.

This meeting is to be held on the afternoon of March 14 in the Erindale Community Hall. Miss Eleanor Hughes, director of volunteers, Princess Margaret Hospital, and Miss Helen Howes, director of volunteers, Princess Margaret Lodge, will be the speakers. One of the society's latest films will be shown, and to conclude on a spring-time note the Gwellis Hat Salon will give a showing of spring hats.

A new member of the branch executive was introduced, Mrs. C. F. Fowler, who will take over the office of transportation convener in April.

Rotary Towers Is Filling Up

OAKVILLE — The first four floors of the new 11-story Rotary Centennial Towers are now occupied, and the two top floors, containing 16 units, already have some tenants.

The apartment tower is being built by Trafalgar Senior Homes Ltd., a firm set up by the Rotary Club of Oakville, to provide housing for senior citizens.

A total of 81 suites is planned.

Park Royal Nursery School Installs New Executive

PARK ROYAL — Mrs. Johanne Taylor is the new president of Park Royal Cooperative Nursery School. She takes over from Knobbie Wirkowski who has held the post for two years. The new vice-president is Michael Algar, who served a term as treasurer in 1965. The new treasurer is Peter Dawson, the membership secretary is Mrs. Evelyn Harrison and the recording secretary is Mrs. Carole Rolfe.

The new executive committee was chosen at a parents' meeting on Monday, Feb. 6. School supervisor Mrs. Lorraine Capstick gave a brief talk explaining the operation of a co-operative nursery.

Another special parent-teacher meeting is being planned for Monday, March 6. Arrangements will be made soon for a full program of meetings featuring guest speakers and panel discussions.
