Almost any one capable of handling the ordinary house tools will find little if any difficulty in making the useful objects pictured or mentioned here and selected from among suggestions for a number of such conveniences submitted in Farm and Fireside. As for the wood, it can be had from a carpenter or perhaps is in the cellar, while the other things may be purchased for a trifle at any hardware or dry goods drawers, in which everything can be kept orderly and in place, so it can be had at a moment's notice, is not a difficult thing to be made at home, and a simple one is shown in the illustra-tion. This is made from boards obtained from two shoe cases, which are carefully broken apart so as not to split the wood. For the wash room of moderate proportions it can be thirty inches high, twenty-four inches wide and from four to eight inches deep. It need not have a wood back, as the wall will take the place of one, thereby saving space. The frame and shelves are attached securely to the wall with screws both at the top and bottom. A batten two inches wide is nailed to the wall under the chest, on which it can rest. This makes a good anchorage and relieves the greater part of the weight. A similar arrangement is made at the top. The top of the chest projects one and one-half inches beyond the sides and front, forming an over-hang, and at the lower part of the chest two or three small drawers are arranged for the accommodation of small boxes and packages. Enamel paint will give this chest a good finish.

A box can easily be converted into a shoe nest like the one shown in the second illustration, where shoes, slippers and rubbers may be kept in orderly condition. This double deck shoe nest requires but little skill and very little practical knowledge to make, and as no definite size can be given the drawing shows quite clearly how one or several of them can be made to fit the space in any closet. In a small closet no leg will be required under one corner of the nest, as both ends can rest on the top of the surbase. In a large closet, however, where it is not desired to extend it along the side, the unsupported end is held up by a leg.

For dust cloths, string, felt and worst ed slippers pockets on the inside of a closet door will be found convenient. A nest of ten pockets can be made of denim or other stout goods and tacked fast to a batten arranged at the inside of a door, as shown in the illustration, while another one consisting of two large pockets will afford a convenient roots of the hair also before brushing it. Where there is irritation of the scalp it shows that the head needs washing. Many people are not half enough particular about this duty and have an idea that frequent washing will injure the hair. While this may be true to a considerable extent, it is also certain that unless the head is washed often enough to keep it really clean the scalp gets into a state of irritation and causes much annoyance.

For the Sickroom.

A simple and effective means to clear the atmosphere of a room, recommended by an experienced nurse, is to place a lump of camphor in a saucer and apply a very hot poker to it. This will cause strong tunes to arise which will cleanse the air very speedily and act as a powerful disinfectant.

At the end of a year from the first proceedings it was held that the farmers must submit to the infliction and pay all costs. After an interval of forty-two years another army of caterpiliars invaded the vineyards, another ac-tion was brought, and it was decided that they were only exercising their le-gal rights, while the owners were advised to provide a piece of land where they might range at will.

CATERPILLARS AND LAW.

Actions Against the Insects In the Courts of France.

In the year 1545 the owners of the vineyards of St. Julian, Savoy, France, solemnly took action in the law courts against a host of hungry caterpillars which had played havoc with their rines. This grave matter was referred to arbitration and came in due course before the bishop as ecclesiastical judge.

Two lawyers were retained in the interest of the insect ravagers, letters ad-monishing them to discontinue their mischief were issued, and a commission sat to estimate the damage done.

The judge held that no hasty decision should be given, since it was possible that the caterpillars had not acted ma-liciously, but had been sent as a

The latter are taken into account at their book value or cost, which is considerably be low their market value. The demand for money was active during the year, at better rates than for some years past, resulting in a slight advance in the rate of interest earned, viz., 5.09 per cent. Interest, etc., overdue at end of year, only $13,740.19, and nearly all paid.

We tried to change the infinite mind—of God, when prayer was to change our attitude towards His will, and to silence the material consciousness.
