

GRAY, Miss GERTRUDE, 650 Bathurst Street, Toronto.—Miss Gray is a graduate in Domestic Science, with a wide experience in Institute work. She is a most skilful Demonstration-Lecturer, and her talk on foods and food values are practical, interesting and easily understood by those who have not given those matters any special study.

Subjects:—

- "Women and Citizenship."
- "Women's Institute and Girls' Club Work."
- "Present Day Food Problems"—"The Balanced Meal"—"The School Lunch."
- "Home Hints that Make for Comfort and Efficiency."
- "The Individual and the Community."

GREER, Mrs. G. H., 870 Wellington Street, London, Ont.—Mrs. Greer has had several years' experience in Institute work and has proved herself a most acceptable delegate. She is a practical worker and has had much experience in Community Canning Centre work, having taken charge of the Government Centre at Niagara-on-the-Lake in 1916, where thousands of pounds of fruit and vegetables were taken care of for our soldiers overseas.

Subjects:—

- "Some Problems in Reconstruction."
- "Putting the Best Into Life."
- "Modern Dress Viewed from Various Standpoints."
- "Community Life—Its Possibilities and Opportunities."
- "Our Greatest Asset—Health and How to Conserve It."
- "Child Welfare and Its Relation to the State."
- "Citizenship."

GUEST, Miss EMILY J., M.A., Toronto.—Miss Guest was born on an Ontario farm and has had practical experience in country home-making. She is an Honour Graduate of the University of Toronto, and was for a time Head of the Department of English in the Belleville Collegiate Institute, where the first High School Women's Institute in Canada was organized. She was, too, an active participant in girls' sports and interest. She early perceived the limitless possibilities of co-operation between homemakers and educationists, and was a member of Parkhill Women's Institute, the pioneer of Rural Medical Inspection in Ontario. She was a lecturer also for the Department of Agriculture. During the war she lectured for the British Board of Agriculture in Food Production and Conservation, being called from work in a British Military Hospital for this purpose. Following this, she helped organize Women's Institutes in England, Wales and Scotland, under direction of the British Government, receiving upon her return to Canada, the official thanks of the Scottish and English Boards for her war services.

Subjects:—

- "From Lands' End to John O'Groats Among the Women's Institutes of (1) England and Wales, (2) Bonnie Scotland."
- "Life in a Military Hospital."
- "The Place and Power of Young Manhood in the New Era."
- "Things and Their Forces: Men and Their Ways."
- "Some Old Country Methods and Recipes."

GUEST, Dr. EDNA, 467 Spadina Avenue, Toronto.—At the conclusion of her Medical Course several years ago, Dr. Guest rendered valuable service in connection with Institute work in Ontario. Her experience in India and during the war in England and France has enabled her to gather information of real interest and value to the Institute. Dr. Guest has lived in the rural districts and is thoroughly familiar and in sympathy with life on the farm.