Bibies in China learn to call their fathers "a-de," which corresponds to papa; but "de " really means sir, while the a is put in for euphony. Mothers are called "a-ma," nearly the same as in this country. Grcat families sometimes teach their children to say "s'ee-ya" for father, and "siee-che" for mother. The first means "young lord" and the second "young lady." This ma is used by nearly every nation on the globe to designate the maternal. It is the "one touch of nature which makos the whole world kin."

His Face was Has Fortuns 1-Gentleman against post: " Well, young 'un, what are you staring at $\%$ ' Young 'un : "I was a thinking, guv'nor, that there's a good opening for a face like yours as a thawin' machine on the tram lines. Why don't yer try it $?^{\prime \prime}$ (Bolts.)-Judy.

The Genuine Thing.-The ladiee were talking about their old silver and the newer designs, when Mrs. Oidblossom said, "I use nothing upon my table but hammered ware." And just then, as a erash of resounding china came echoing from the kitchen, she added "And there's the artist hammering some more of it."

Many curious coins and other interesting objects have been discovered in tearing down some old buildings in Charter street, Boston. Some of the coins date back to the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. A collection of silver plate bearing a coat of arms was found buried under the base of one of the chimneys, it having probably been hidden there by the owner during the occupation of Bostol by the British.

Several years ago there was such a tremendous freshet on the Illinois river that it was for a long time referred to as "the flood." During a law-suit in Peoria, an old man named Adam, living in a little hamlet on the river known as Paradise, was examined as a witness. "What is your name $?$ " was the first question asked him. "Adam, sir," said he. "Your name is Adam, is it 1 Well, where do you live $\mathrm{r}^{\prime}$ "In Paradise, sir." "Oh, your name is Adam, and you live in Paradise, do yeu? Well, how long have you lived there ?" "Ever since the flood, sir," replied the old man, whose words were drowned in a roar of laughter, in which the court, jury, counsel, and spectators all joined.
