The reason these saints are so full of joy is because they bring such large empty cups to God, that He can fill them full of Himself.—Bishop of London.

If they were to interest their people in missionary work, they must get them to know what was being done, and the clergy must be the leaders in this matter.—The Bishop of St. Alban's.

The Rev. W. H. Egerton, formerly rector of Whitchurch, Salop, celebrated his 98th birthday lately. He has been for no less than 77 years a member of the Geological Society of London.

A brass tablet to commemorate the work of the late Bishop Lovelace, Stamer, who for 34 years was rector of Stoke-on-Trent, was unveiled lately in Stoke Parish Church by Archdeacon Graham.

The Archdeacon of Stafford, the Ven. Malcolm Graham, has been appointed to a prebendal stall in Lichfield Cathedral, rendered vacant by the death of the Rev. Prebendary Harding, Principal of Lichfield Theological College.

The growth of Church organization in Uganda is shown by the creation of a third archdeaconry to which the Bishop has appointed the Rev. J. J. Willis, of the Society's Mission in Kavirondo, who was formerly a curate in Great Yarmouth, and joined the Mission in 1900.

BELLS.

Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

The English cathedrals now possess many Deans who have reached an extreme and, in most cases, a vigorous old age. St. Paul's has a nonagenarian; York, Durham, Exeter, and Llandaff have octogenarians; whilst Canterbury, Lincoln, Chester, Ripon, Salisbury, Carlisle, Wells, Hereford, Bristol, Gloucester, Rochester, and Windsor have septuagenarians. Thus seventeen of our Deans are upwards of seventy years of age, and the recently deceased Deans of Lichfield, Worcester and Norwich would have increased the number to twenty.
