

HASTINGS CHEESE
TO OLD COLONY

Two Local Men Start on Holiday but Become Ambassadors of Trade.

AT NEWFOUNDLAND

Mr. Elliott and Mr. Ketcheson Arrange For What May Be Big Trade Success

The visit of Mr. John Elliott and Mr. H. F. Ketcheson to Newfoundland was productive of much good financially to this district besides being of immense pleasure to these two business men. They both arrived back in the city late on Friday after over two weeks spent in the neighboring colony.

Their trip was from Montreal by a vessel of the Canada Steamship Lines. The voyage was one of the most enjoyable that it is possible to take. The scenery in and around Newfoundland is described by the returned tourists as beyond comprehension from the standpoint of grandeur. They also visited at Charlottetown, the capital of the province of Prince Edward Island, where they were amazed by the extent of the fox farm industry. One ranch they visited had seven hundred and fifty of the fur-bearing animals upon it. Mr. Elliott would have been feted by the Board of Trade of the city had time allowed, but the boat was leaving before arrangements could be made.

They were struck by the fishing industry of Newfoundland.

Mr. Elliott opened up what may be the beginning of a considerable trade between this section and the Newfoundlanders. He got one of the largest of the firms of the city of St. John's to give an order for a quantity of the cheese and butter of the Belleville district with the hope of building up an extensive trade with them.

He sees no reason why it is not possible to have fish from the island brought here in return for the dairy products which it might be possible to sell to the people of the colony.

BELLEVILLE 60 YEARS AGO

Has This City Grown in Stature and Wisdom as it Promised to do so Long Ago?

NEW in Belleville today realize how important a part Belleville played in the industrial life of the country 60 years ago. The approaching Labor Day Celebration brought on a discussion with W. C. Mikel, K. C., during which he showed The Ontario Directory of 1861 containing a list of 54 industries then operating in Belleville. These 54 did not include Boot and Shoe Makers, Blacksmiths, Bakers, Butchers, Builders, Contractors, Chemists, Fur Makers, Gunsmiths, Millwrights, Marble Works, Painters, Tailors, which were really entitled to be placed as industries and added to the 54, and they were of much greater importance industrially than now. The Directory stated concerning the industries of 60 years ago "The Manufacturers of Belleville have a degree of importance which few towns or cities in Canada can claim." The great importance of Belleville industries as compared with those in other places in Canada at that date and the variety of their products are the striking features of this list.

Mr. Mikel claims that as Belleville industries could attain this high place in the industrial life of Canada 60 years ago, it should be easier to do so today with our exceptional transportation and power facilities.

The following is the list of the 54 industries referred to:

1. Patterson's Iron Works. "This is the largest manufacturing of the kind in Western Canada." Have taken numerous prizes and diplomas at Provincial and Local Fairs. "Their implements are found in every part of Canada."
2. Brown's Foundry—Steam Engines, Planing Machines, Plows, and Agricultural Implements.
3. Victoria Foundry—Steam Engines, Mill Gearing, Agricultural Implements.
4. Meira Foundry—Plows and Stoves.
5. Horan Foundry—Stoves and Plows.
6. Flint and Yoman's Mill.
7. Bogart's Mill.
8. Blecker's Mill.
9. Jas. Canfield Lumber Mill.
10. Sash and Door Factories.
11. Paynes' Sash and Door Factory.
12. Pringle's Sash and Door Factory.
13. Aaron Dame's Sash and Door Factory.
14. Joseph Bullen's Sash, Tub and Washboard Factory.
15. Burrell's Sash and Door Factory.
16. Proctor's Sash and Door Factory.
17. Campbell's Tannery, one of the largest in Western Canada.
18. Hammer and Fork Factory.
19. Warren's Hammer and Fork Factory.
20. Canniff's Flour Mills.
21. Ross Flour Mills.
22. Wallace's Flour Mills.
23. Henry Corby Flour Mills.
24. Seth Wheaton, Manufacturer of Sifters, Tweeds, etc.

HIGH CHURCH
VIEWS ON UNION

The Church Times Sees It Coming and Fears Anglicans May be Involved

ENGLAND AND CANADA

Warning and Advice to Those Whom it Believes to be in Danger

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press Limited).—Canadians may be interested in the British High Anglican view of the union of the churches movement as it is presented from Canada. "The Church Times," the English journal of the High Church party, devotes a long editorial to the subject. It regards the future union of Presbyterians, Methodists, and Independents to constitute "the United Church of Canada" as a scheme to which the three communities are too deeply committed to draw back, and it evidently rather fears that the efforts being made to bring in a fourth partner, the Anglican church, may be successful.

"High Churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and we notice that the newly-elected Moderator of the Presbyterian Assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the refusal recently of the see of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that history was made last night. The Moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear; but the usual argument for interchange of pulpits is rather that preachers, instead of concealing their denominational beliefs, should frankly explain them to the congregations of other bodies."

And then "The Church Times" proceeds to warn and advise those whom it believes to be in danger, saying: "Now, if Canadian Churchmen merely regard themselves as members of one of the Protestant sects, only retaining certain features of antiquity, they had better cease from coyness, at once negotiate openly with the Presbyterians, Methodists, Congregationalists and Baptists of their country, and bid farewell to Catholic Christendom. If they are bent on a superficial amalgamation with bodies of Christians who repudiate the essentials of Catholicism, they will warn them, find themselves isolated and alone. The popular view throughout the Anglo-Saxon world no doubt is, that a variety of Christian Churches happen to differ on certain not very vital questions of the form of Church Government, on unimportant ceremonies and minor parts of doctrine. Why should they not agree to differ, waive these non-essential peculiarities, most of which have only an antiquarian significance, and unite as one church on the things that really matter? But is this the view of the situation taken by Canadian Churchmen themselves? Or are they prepared, humbly but firmly, to assert for the bishops of the Catholic Church, their own being an integral part of it, a Divine apostolicity and jurisdiction, for the Catholic Ministry an authoritative priesthood, and 'character,' for the Catholic sacraments a covenantal validity, and for the Catholic inheritance of doctrine and worship a supernatural guidance and grace? In such an awful claim there need be no hard or harsh denial of heavenly blessings on either minister."
