SIR WILFRID AT LONDON
On the eve of his 77th birthday, he was born November 20th, 1841. Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday afternoon, in Hyman Hall, London, addressed some three hundred of his followers, men and women, representing the thirty-one federal constituencies west of Hamilton.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.
It was very considerate of the Huns to save those ships in Kiel harbor for the pleasure of handing them over in good shape.

Always Dissatisfied—"A Gentle Beggar" complains that no matter how much money he makes neither he nor his wife gets satisfaction out of life.

Attending Church—"An Onlooker" asks, "Why is it that the majority do not attend church?" I have answered this question before, but will do so again in other words.

Great Britain's Sacrifice
The total British casualties in the war, and the term very properly includes India and the Overseas Dominions, have been officially placed at 3,049,991 in killed, wounded and missing, with 638,665 in the first named class.

A RIGHTEOUS DEMAND
There is a growing storm of protest in the columns of British papers with regard to the allowing of the ex-kaiser to remain in Holland and so there should be.

The Empress of Austria is finding difficulty in getting her dresses. As for her Dece Lord he should be accommodated with a straight waist-coat.
